

Rescue runner

Quick thinking by Emmons fourth-grader credited with saving his friend's life

By KENNETH PATCHEN
Staff Reporter

He is only 9 years old, but already he has saved a person's life.

There were others who also helped, but he was the first to see a life-threatening situation and set in motion a rescue effort from Antioch to McHenry.

On Sept. 30, near 6 p.m., Zachary Gillengerten, 6, took his first bike ride down a hill in a field that he and Mike Lodesky, 9, played in. Gillengerten fell from his bicycle in a way that caused part of the bicycle to cut his inside, upper thigh area so badly that his body began to drain of blood.

After the fall, Zach started waving his hands and calling to Mike for help. Mike ran from the field, off Prairie Ave., across about an acre, to his home to get his mother, Beth Lodesky, a registered nurse. When Beth saw the seriousness of Zach's injuries, she sent Mike running again to tell Zach's mother, Carol Gillengerten.

"We thought it was an artery, but it was numerous veins," said Beth Lodesky, describing Zach's injuries.

Because Mike immediately believed his friend, because Mike could run forever through the field, and because he did what he was taught to do in school by the 1st Fire Protection District-Antioch Fire Department, it was possible for Carol Gillengerten to get professional emergency medical help to her youngest of four children. Indeed, it would be Zach's sister Becky, 15, who was sent running to call 911 and broke two toes when her sandals came off and she kept running.

"The Antioch Rescue Squad was wonderful too. They came out right away," said Carol Gillengerten. When the rescue squad got to Zach, he was drenched with blood. Beth Lodesky said that when she got to Zach, "He was unconscious and had lost so much blood." She sent Michael back to get towels. Only later would they find out that Zach had also broken a finger and part of his hand in the fall. The rescue squad would find out that Zach had virtually no blood they could use to help them keep him alive.

Carol Gillengerten went with the rescue squad and her son. "I did whatever they told me to do." Try as hard as they could, the rescue squad medical providers could not get a needle into Zach's veins. His body had lost so much blood that his veins were collapsing and they could not get needles into them. "I could tell from the talk in the ambulance that things were not good," said Carol Gillengerten.

With fast vehicles and radio communication, they were able to make arrangements for the Northern Illinois Medical Center in McHenry to prepare to receive him. A team of 15 people were ready when the Antioch Rescue Squad brought Zach to the medical center still alive.

To stabilize his vital signs, surgeons cut a hole in his other leg and sewed the tubes to Zach's skin. "They were wonderful," Carol said. The rescue squad stayed there with him. The medical center added half a quart of blood to his 90-pound body, an amount less than he lost, in order to stimulate his body to make up the necessary difference. "The whole hospital was wonderful." Even the

Antioch resident John Ruffin shows off the Antioch Rotary Club's Community Service Recognition Award he received Sept. 27. — Photo by Sandy Bressner

'His charity goes so deep it is amazing' Southern man shows true spirit of Antioch

Rotary honors tenacious volunteer

The character that makes John Ruffin tick is what makes Antioch talk.

"Antioch's Southern Gentleman" was given the Antioch Rotary Club's Community Service Recognition Award, the third time it has been awarded this decade, the evening of Sept. 27, at the club's Annual Pork Chop Barbeque and Auction.

In a community where volunteer spirit is part of its history, Ruffin was recognized as one of the most outstanding examples of that spirit in Antioch.

It is not difficult to find people who will step forward and tell tales of his giving spirit.

"He stimulates the charitable act of anybody he becomes involved with," said Chuck Cermak, a member of the Antioch Lions Club, of which Ruffin is also a member and past president (1992). "His charity goes so deep it is amazing."

Tim Osmond, chief of the Antioch Rescue Squad and Antioch township supervisor, described Ruffin this way: "He brings expertise, he brings spirit, he brings enthusiasm, he brings motivation, (and) he brings all of those great attributes into building a better community for us."

"Wherever you find people volunteering, you'll find John," said friend, retired Dist. 34 superintendent, and fellow Lions Club member, Don Skidmore. "In fund-raising and in helping to organize people to provide services, he volunteers ... He's tenacious."

That is what people say about Ruffin behind his back. At the Rotary Club ceremony at which he received the award, he came face-to-face with a summary of his life since he moved to Antioch after Labor day in 1984.

At the presentation, Rotary Club member and chair of the Community Services Committee, Matt Tabar read, "Mr. Ruffin has moved into the community rather recently in his retirement and exemplified exceptional dedication by his participation and leadership in community organizations and events. Just to name a few, Mr. Ruffin has supported the following: Antioch Rotary Club, Antioch Lions Club, St. Ignatius Church, St. Peter's Church, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Antioch High School, Antioch Chamber of Commerce, School District 34, and CAN."

Tabar continued, "When there is a community need or activity, John is there to help with whatever needs to be done. He is a gentleman and exemplifies the true spirit of Antioch."

The Community Service Recognition Award has been given twice before. The previous recipients were Ted and Vickie Axton and Vern Thelen. Ted and Vickie Axton were recognized for their work creating Centennial Park, and Vern Thelen was recognized for his work to establish the Rotary Pork Chop Barbeque and Auction, now the financial foundation of Antioch Rotary Scholarship, Inc.

John Ruffin said, "I've been lucky all my life," when asked why he was so involved in a community so far from his evidently beloved Charles City County, Virginia. He said that he spent his life working and never had the time to volunteer. "After retirement, I wanted to give the place (Antioch) a part of my life. That's the motivation."

Ruffin worked in sales for the MacFarland Advertising Agency early in his life. Next, he worked for a paper called "Southern Planter" which is similar to "Prairie Farmer." He also worked with "Successful Farming" and "Progressive Farmer" magazines. From 1967 until he retired at the end of January 1987, Ruffin worked with "Southern Living," another magazine. Although he and wife, Betty, looked for a home in many areas, they decided to move from Cook County's north shore area to Antioch. Ruffin met Skidmore who told him that he could join the Lions Club and meet everyone in town. Ruffin did and has been a member ever since. Indeed, one year he was named Lion of the Year. "I will be with the Lions until I die," he said.

Betty Ruffin said, "He was born between Richmond and Williamsburg right on the James River. Antioch was like Charles City County. It's in the heart of the plantation country," she said. John Ruffin thinks that Antioch's trees and breathing space allude to his childhood roots. Ruffin is very much a person who loves the South he left in January, 1955.

"Antioch is very unusual in my opinion," he said. "I have never ever come across any community as involved as this one. I'm just bowled over."

He did not profess to know where the spirit of Antioch's volunteerism came from but did offer an opinion. "I think it's an inherited thing," he said. He described how important it is to know the history of an area and to assure that what is good about it is available to the children in a community. He looked at the history of St. Ignatius Episcopal Church, as an example, and found there the legacy of the first person born into that church, Bill Brook. "He gave of his time, spirit, and attitude," Ruffin said.

"There were a lot of people over the years who cared and made Antioch what it is," Ruffin said. "With that, it probably brought additional people into the sense of helping, and they continue to do it."

For Ruffin, volunteering and its rewards is a personal act with public consequences. Of the award, he said, "I'm deeply honored. It has a special place in my heart. Even better, since I'm not a Rotarian."

Pine Hill Lakes to finish final phase

By KENNETH PATCHEN
Staff Reporter

Village Trustees voted to accept the recommendation of the Planning and Zoning Board which approved the proposed final plat of subdivision for the final phase of Pine Hill Lakes submitted by Scarsdale Homes.

The vote to accept the recommendation came at the end of 90 minutes of intense, animated discussion among residents of previously constructed subdivision phases, Mayor Marilyn Shineflug, Village Attorney Kenneth Clark, and Director of Planning, Zoning, and Building Robert E. Silhan.

Silhan summarized six major issues that emerged from the evaluation process of the Planning and Zoning Board. The board's review included meetings to discuss the proposal on July 24 and Sept. 11. There was opportunity for comments by the public on the proposal at those times.

Silhan said there were six issues: "1) compliance with the preliminary plan; 2) compliance with the engineering standards in the Subdivision Ordinance; 3) homeowners' association consolidation; 4) traffic safety at the existing Pine Hill Drive entry at Depot Street; 5) phase three off-site drainage concerns; and 6) builder compliance with Declaration of Covenants and Restrictions."

Three conditions were attached to the recommendation for final plat approval by the Planning and Zoning Board. One condition was that the developer work with the Pine Hill Lakes Homeowners' Association "in a good faith effort" to comply with current covenants. Additionally, the developer must comply with review comments by Silhan and Village Engineer John Boldt in memoranda.

The final phase approved plat differs slightly from the original plat approved by the village in 1988. The amended plat allows a reduction from 91 lots to the approved 58 lots. The reduced density permits compliance with wetland regulations and drainage storage requirements.

Arguing against approval of the recommendation were members of the Pine Hill Lake Homeowners' Association, including Cheryl A. Basler, Dorothy Milani, and Larry Dugan.

people in accounting were nice, Carol said.

The vascular surgeon who began the task to help Zach was Dr. Richard E. Lind of Crystal Lake. "He was just wonderful," Carol Gillengerten said. She had high praise for the skills of Orthopedic Surgeon Dr. Paul DeHaan of McHenry and his kindness to obtain a good cast for her son.

"(Mike) is just wonderful," Carol Gillengerten said, "His mother was wonderful too."

So is the friendship of Zach and Mike.

Mike Lodesky likes sports. He plays football and ice-less hockey," Carol said. Both boys have been friends for two years. Both are students at Emmons School.

While Zach recovered, Emmons School was able to explain a heroic act to the other students through the example of Mike. "I think it was a matter of (Mike) thinking quickly and getting help," said Matt Tabar, superintendent. The school gave him an award. "We hope he can be an example of how to react in an emergency," Tabar said.

Beth Lodesky attributes some of her son's quick response to what he learned in school and at home. "He did everything we taught him to do," Beth Lodesky said. She is a registered nurse with the Lake County Health Department and that gives the family a chance to know about emergency care. She thinks that the school's educational program was a factor also. She thinks that the safety training the Boy Scouts provide also helped.

Now that Zachary Gillengerten is home, Mike Lodesky is feeling better himself. Beth Lodesky said, "He was very relieved when Zach came home. It helps to see (Zach) home."

Also feeling good about having Zach back are sisters Jessica, 19, Leslie, 17, and Becky. Bob Gillengerten, Zach's father, felt good about the homecoming as well.

Mike Lodesky said, "I feel good. I feel better." Of friend Zach, he said, "He's doing fine. He's walking already."

Later, Carol Gillengerten would describe Mike Lodesky as "the quietest, shyest boy."

Choosey Child noted as 'fine painted lady'

A painting awards program that has received national awards itself has focused on the professionally painted exterior work of Choosey Child, a downtown Antioch business at 891 Main Street. The "11th Annual Chicago's Finest Painted Ladies" competition has selected Steve and Barbara Porch's business building as a winner in the Northwest Suburban Chicago area category. The building was painted by Swanson Painting, Inc. Barbara Porch is glad she selected Swanson. "He has a background in and knows how to do the detail painting that we did," She said, "I'm really happy with it. It means a lot since we own the building." It has been in her family for 30 years.

Antioch Lions Club will host free hearing tests Oct. 22 near the water tower on Toft Avenue.

One reason the Lakes Region Historical Society looks so inviting is the care and attention paid to the roses around the historical town pump in the front of their building at 812 Main Street in Antioch. Regina Depre is the person who tends to them out of love for roses. "I love roses; that's why I take care of it." She is a freelance landscaper, born in 1919. "My name is French," she said, "but I'm a thousand times German." She recommends Millorganite™ for the roses because it is so cheap and it works so well. "You can put on as much as you want. It never burns. They bloom like crazy." Roses like water but not wet roots she said. She has 50 rose bushes at home. On Saturday, Sept. 27 she was tending the Historical Society's garden and removing the faded blossoms to encourage the new buds.

St. Ignatius of Antioch Episcopal Church will host its 44th Annual Turkey Dinner, Raffle, and Bake Sale Saturday, Oct. 25 from 4 to 8 p.m. It will be at St. Peter Catholic Church. They have dine-in or take out. There is musical entertainment and a drawing for prizes. Tickets are $8 for adults.

Paul and Caroline Dye are transforming their yard into a garden of flowers. "Hopefully it will be an all season garden," said Paul Dye. They have been gardening for 30 years and grew vegetables at one time. "The flowers are enough to keep us busy." They have planted asters, mums, iris, lavender, roses, tea roses, delphiniums, hosta and a host of others. Their garden features a walkway of interlocking bricks. People who drive on Main Street just south of North Avenue in Antioch will be able to enjoy its full season evolution starting next spring.

Teacher Michelle Boyce said that the Antioch Community High School homecoming dance "was a big group of kids having a good time." Teacher Tim Budge agreed and said, "I think it was great. No problems at all." Dr. James Love, principal, said of the dance, "They generated a lot of energy and seemed to have a good time." There seemed to be four reasons for the success. There were approximately 1,000 students present. This dance cost less than other dances. There was no pressure to have a date in order to go to the dance. And, the attire was not "formal."

Kenneth Smouse, director of "Blithe Spirit," said, "There's a tremendous amount of skill in this cast. They are probably as close to professional as you're going to find in (this area)." He feels good about the strength of the cast and the play and is hoping people will turn out from all around the area to see it. Last show is Oct. 12.

German-American Club of Antioch past President Karl Pokorny has been reminding everyone that Oct. 6 was national German-American Day. He was pleased with their 18th Oktoberfest celebration on the Sept. 27 weekend at the Veterans of Foreign Wars Hall on North Avenue. "This evening was wonderful." He sees it as a local institution in the Lake County German-American community. Another in which he takes pride is the Lake Villa German Cultural Center for which Hans Gebavi is president. Pokorny wants to keep the club going. "We have young people that are active in the group, but we don't have enough."

The roses in the garden at Epifanio United Century 21 Real Estate office at 974 Main Street had a wonderful fragrance at 9:20 a.m. Oct. 7. This is wonderful: to be able to smell roses on Oct. 7. Indeed, all of the planter units along Main Street look well as do the garden club plantings in the downtown park areas.

Firefighters aim to prevent fires by teaching children safety

By KENNETH PATCHEN
Staff Reporter

It can be hard to save a child's life in a fire if the child thinks the rescuer is Darth Vader. Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 5 to 11, is a chance to show children what rescue personnel may look like if they meet inside a burning home. But more than that, firefighters want to teach children how to practice good fire safety habits.

Antioch area firefighters went into school classrooms this week to distribute educational materials about fire prevention, to introduce themselves to children with and without protective gear, and to promote fire safety during Fire Prevention Week.

To help them communicate their message, firefighters gave away bags of educational booklets, baseball cards, rulers, and other fun materials to attract children's attention. In addition, they told children how families can protect themselves, with EDITH Drills, and other protective habits.

The opportunity to do this comes from funds provided by the 1st Fire Protection District and Antioch Fire Department as well as the Village of Antioch.

The core curriculum for the sessions is contained in booklets that firefighters distribute for different age groups. One booklet of games and facts is for ages 4 to 8 and the second is for ages 9 to 11.

"The biggest concern we have with little kids is that they're afraid of us," said Captain Richard Frankson, who leads the Fire Prevention Bureau. "We dress in our gear and don't look like normal people. We look like Darth Vader. To a little kid, that's very scary. So we teach and present ourselves to kids and show them we're just like everybody else, we're nice guys, and we're here to help you."

To help reduce fear levels, the booklet for younger children shows pictures of local firefighters who Firefighters, wives, and girlfriends on Sept. 30 prepared 4,000 plastic bags of educational materials to distribute during Fire Prevention Week, October 5 to 11. Rulers, pencils, baseball cards, and a booklet of fire safety practices are distributed to children in area schools. Helping to fill the plastic bags are: Jim Cook (left), Jim Cole, Margaret Cole, and Bob Marino.

each in turn present a different safety practice. These include stop-drop-roll for people with burning clothing, dialing 911 for help, not playing with matches, exit drills, and having a safe meeting place outside the home.

"We also teach them about not hiding from us. Because they are a lot smaller than us, it's harder to find them," said Frankson.

In each booklet, Fire Chief Dennis Volling emphasizes two fire safety practices that all people can do. "We want people to practice fire drills in their homes and test their smoke detectors. By doing these two simple things, people will prevent fires and know what to do if there is a fire."

Older children are taught a set of safety practices. "We talk to the older kids about what it is to be a volunteer fireman, why we do it, and the schooling that's involved with it," Frankson said. "Also, when we talk to the older kids, we talk about EDITH, which is Exit Drills In The Home." Firefighters want people to know how to get out of their home and to have a pre-arranged place to meet in order to know who may still be trapped inside the building. It helps if families practice these once a month during the year said Frankson.

"We talk about the different things (to do) if they're trapped in the house: how to stay safe, how to go to a window, how not to hide, how to keep the door closed," said Frankson.

Prevention week is preceded by a preparation night. On Sept. 26, the department assembled education materials. "It is an annual event. We have to supply and stuff 4,000 bags. We have different types of education materials for different types of groups. We are preparing all the educational materials because there is not enough time to do all that during Fire Prevention Week," Frankson said.

person can't learn to fly'*

They just want to fly

their dreams of flying*

By ELIZABETH EAKEN
Staff Reporter

For some it's the freedom and others like it for the thrill. For whichever reason a person is attracted to becoming a pilot, their dream usually develops into a lifelong hobby.

Obtaining a pilot's license earns entry for the pilot into an elite group. There are actually less than one million licensed pilots in this country.

Frank Kerous, 17, is a senior at Antioch Community High School. He has wanted to be a pilot since growing up in a home near O'Hare Airport. "When they had airshows there would be stealths flying over my house," he said.

He finished school and took his exam last week. Kerous studied at Presidential Flight Training. For Kerous, flight school is the first step towards becoming a commercial pilot. He hopes to attend the University of Illinois as an aviation major.

"It's a great hobby and a lot of fun. It's so incredibly safe; I would rather fly than drive," said Kerous.

The experience of being in the air is the most enjoyable part of flying for him.

"Not many people get to fly. You see your house from the air and get a whole new perspective," he said.

The path to becoming a pilot isn't that difficult to traverse and it's not as expensive as some would imagine. According to Al Tenuta, vice president of operations at Presidential Flight Training operated out of Waukegan Airport, it costs approximately $3,500 to $5,000 to earn a pilot certificate.

"I learned at Midway when I was 30," Tenuta explained. "I knew I wanted to fly when I was seven. I saw a plane, an F4F Wildcat on Harlem Avenue. I saw it and knew I wanted to fly."

Here in Lake County residents can take advantage of the Waukegan Airport which offers two options for learning to fly, Stick and Rudder Flying Club and Presidential Flight Training. Both can make you a pilot within around a year to 18 months, but they do have their differences in the way train students.

Both teach students how to fly a plane, but only Presidential trains students for the written test. Stick and Rudder's students take classes to prepare for the test elsewhere. The most popular location is a class at the College of Lake County in Grayslake.

Jim Cowie, 47, is nearing completion of his flight instruction with Presidential. He chose the school because he happened to have a good rapport with one of the instructors, and believes that's the most important part of choosing a school. Cowie has always wanted to fly. He is the son of a U.S. Naval Pilot. Although he lives in Pleasant Prairie, the Waukegan Airport was a perfect place for him to take lessons, since he works just down the road.

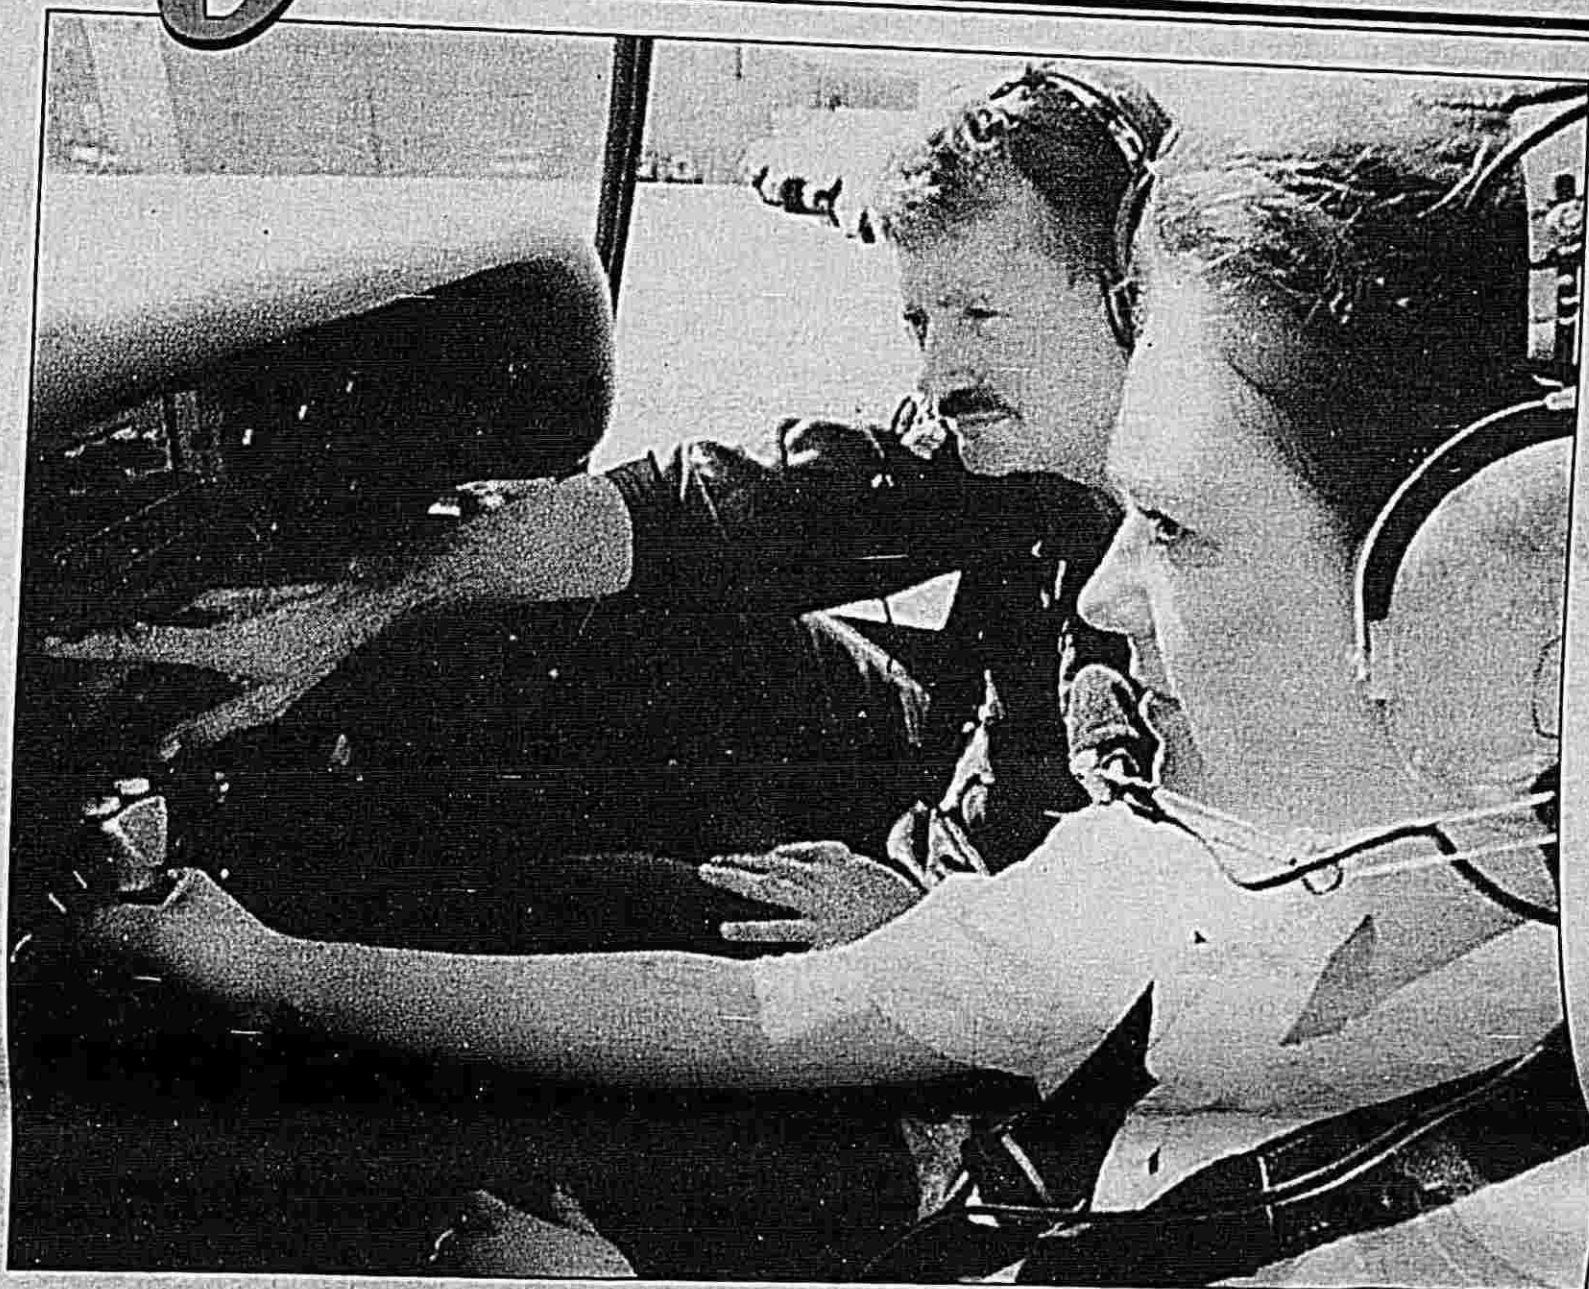

Cowie's parents are in their 80s and live in Ohio. His father no longer flies and he plans on surprising his parents when he receives his license. Once he achieves his pilot's license, he'll be able to visit them frequently, since it will be such a short trip flying to Ohio.

It may surprise some people that during their first lesson they'll actually go up in the plane. Before that, they'll learn to do a preflight inspection and familiarize themselves with the cockpit. Once they're ready, the student begins flying supervised solos with the instructor observing from the runway.

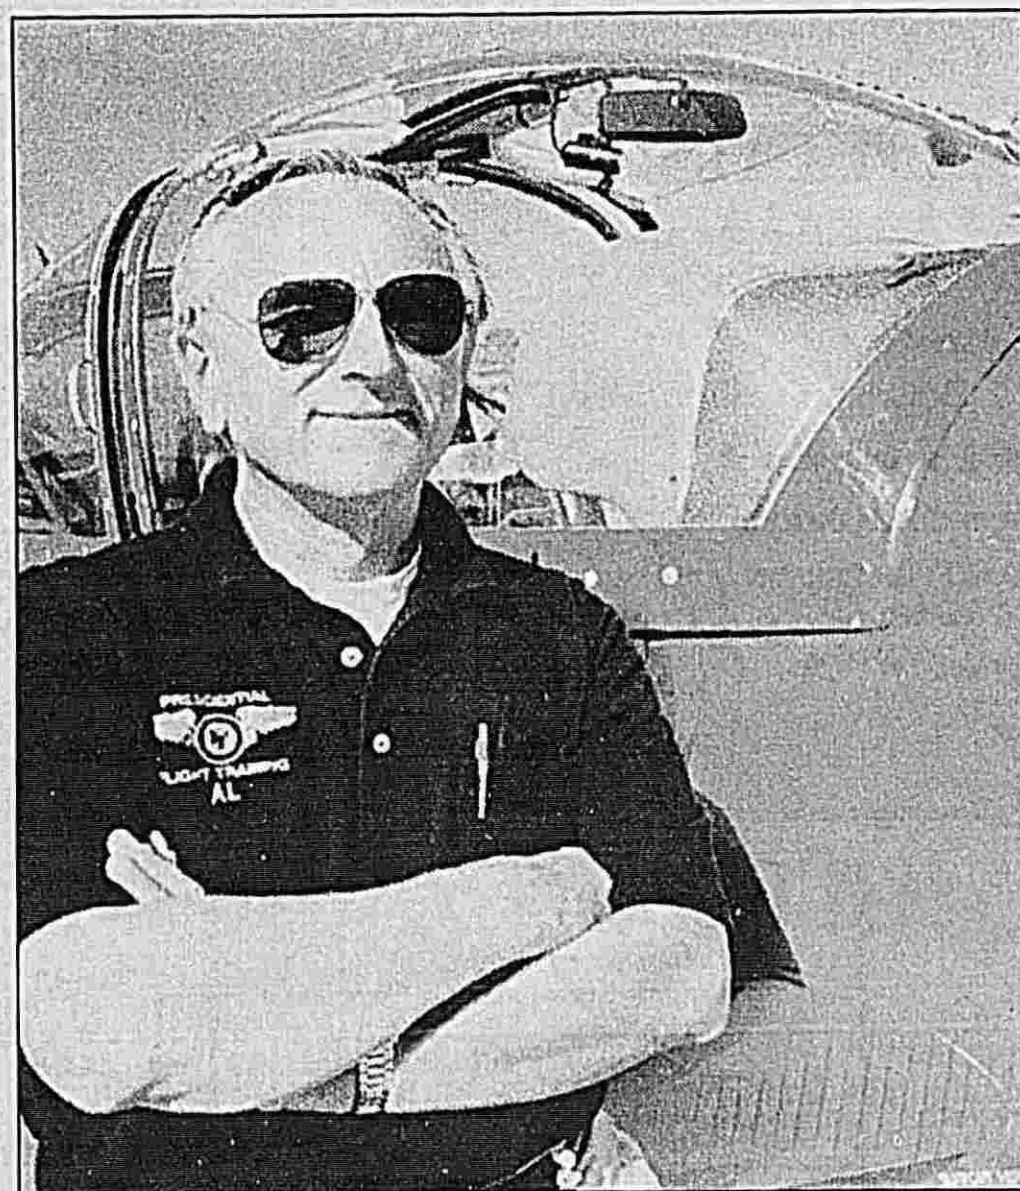

After this they are ready for their dual cross country flight and then, when the instructor feels they're ready, the student will do a solo cross country flight. As part of the training, a student pilot must have all the flight planning approved by the instructor before going on solo flights, to ensure safety.

According to Stick and Rudder General Manager Jim Duck, on the average, a person logs 77 hours of flight instruction time to get a license. The Federal Aviation Administration only requires 40 hours.

"There's no reason why the average person can't learn to fly," said Duck. "A lot of people think 'well gee I'd like to be a pilot' and they don't have the desire and patience... They have to have the desire or determination. They have to study. It's

Lantern procession

The City of Chicago and Dominick's Finer Foods will present the First Children's Halloween Lantern Procession and Spectacle created by The Redmoon Theater, set for Saturday, Oct. 25 at 5 p.m.

The procession begins at State and Randolph Streets, heads south on State, turns west on Monroe Street to Dearborn, turns north on Dearborn, and finishes with a 20-minute performance at Daley Center Plaza.

This participatory Halloween procession for school children was inspired by seasonal celebrations in Europe and Mexico.

The Redmoon Theater company will create the procession, which includes six pairs of rolling towers measuring 15 feet high and topped by giant lantern heads. Other giant lantern shapes include grasshoppers, iguanas, gorillas, birds, and mythical beasts.

These designs are all lit from within, and made with flame-treated rice paper and bamboo. Many of the lanterns and effigies to be used in the procession were constructed by talented high school students through the Gallery 37 summer arts program.

In addition, the procession and spectacle will include 50 professional performers from the Redmoon Theater, including dancers, giant puppeteers, jugglers, fire breathers, sword fighters, and skeletons.

Also featured in the procession and spectacle will be the Jellyeye Drum Theatre. With a set of 12 drums built from industrial sewer pipe and 55-gallon oil cans, Jellyeye's unique art combines drumming and movement into an energetic celebration the defies classification. Procession participants and spectators can then watch the 20-minute spectacle at the Daley Plaza Center.

Many of the children in the procession will represent Chicago public and parochial schools that raised the most money "Trick or Treating" for UNICEF last October. They will be in costumes of their own creation and will hold lanterns, noisemakers, and chimes.

For further details on the procession, call (312)744-3370.

Imagination plus

Imagine a place where cars are made from tin cans. Where a tiny finger can change the course of a river, and a ship can sail around the world in a day. Imagine a place big enough to host a child's imagination. It's the new Chicago Children's Museum, with 57,000 square feet dedicated to the curiosity and creativity of children ages one to 12. Children can become artists, scientists, and leaders at the Chicago Children's Museum. Within the museum's doors, children are everything.

Children can make themselves a chair, build a table, or anything they can imagine in Under Construction. Kids can become quiz show contestants in the Face to Face Exhibit. How about answering 911 emergencies? Kids can drive an ambulance and fix broken bones in City Hospital. Other imaginative exhibits include Inventing Lab, Artabounds, Grandparents, The Stinking Truth About Garbage, Waterways, and Treehouse Trails.

The Chicago Children's Museum is open Tuesday through Sunday. Hours are 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Free Family Nights are every Thursday from 5 to 8 p.m. Admission is $5. The Children's Museum is located at Navy Pier, 700 E. Grand Avenue, Chicago, IL.

For more information, call (312) 527-1000.

Lake County Community Concert begins season

Lake County Community Concert Assn. brings to local audiences a series of music and dance programs emphasizing the arts of several countries. Beginning Oct. 11 and continuing through April, the programs are all held in the Orlin Trapp auditorium in Waukegan High School at Brookside and McAree.

The 1997-98 season holds the following programs: Oct. 11, Markham and Broadway, duo-pianists; Nov. 15, Russian Seasons, Dances of the World; Feb. 7, Brassissimo Vienna, brass quintet; April 4, Khenany, Music of Latin America; April 26, Bulgarian Children's Choir.

Concerting for more than 15 years throughout Europe and North America, Ralph Markham and Kenneth Broadway have been called "two of the finest duo-pianists playing in the world today."

Russian Seasons, honored by the Russian government as the "State Dance Company," presents a "breath-taking display of dance pyrotechnics" as it takes audiences on a brilliant journey through the folk dances of many nations.

Comprised of two trumpets, a French horn, a trombone, and a tuba, Brassissimo Vienna performs an eclectic mix of the majestic and the whimsical.

Playing dozens of native instruments made of woods, clay, and even armadillo shells, and singing in Spanish, Quechua (the language of the ancient Incas), and English, Khenany produces hauntingly beautiful sounds that leave its audiences spellbound.

Comprised of 40 voices, the well-disciplined Bulgarian Children's Chorus has enchanted audiences in the world's most famous concert halls and international choral festivals. Their sound is described as "perfect in pitch with a warm, pure blend."

They have been compared favorably with the legendary Vienna Choir Boys.

Lake County Community Concerts has brought quality musical performances of national and international stature to the Lake County area for almost 45 years.

The association encourages families to attend its concerts by offering a very attractive price for family subscriptions. Subscription rates are as follows: Adult $50, student through high school, $25; family, $125. Subscriptions can be purchased by calling Donna Fortney at 244-7465.

the best way to raise money is to "put on a show!" It's not exactly a heavenly chorus, but the results are truly inspired.

I feel like chicken tonite

I have a problem: My brother Frank brought home a couple of pheasants, courtesy of his friend, a hunter.

Not that I have anything against hunting for food—I hunt for my food, too, except I use my check-book instead of a gun. (Although my husband, who often grocery shops, would tell you that women with shopping carts should have to be registered with the Bureau of Deadly Weapons.)

However, the problem is that since my brother is living with us at the moment, he decided that these pheasants could be his contribution to our mealtime budget. In other words, he wants us to eat them.

Unfortunately, I feel the same way about Frank bringing me pheasants as I did when I had an outdoor cat that used to kill mice and drop their mangled little bodies on my front doorstep to show his appreciation for me. Which was actually not as bad, since the cat could not open the freezer door and put them in, but my brother can.

You see, my brother and I look at food quite differently. Like his friend, Frank's a hunter and he enjoys viewing his dinner before and after it has been blown to smithereens. He likes the idea that his meal is "fresh." Of course, this is the same person who once brought home a road-kill squirrel which, he assured me, was "fresh—I saw it get hit!" And then I told him to remove the squirrel from my sight and reminded him that if I had wanted to dine on squirrels, I would have married one of the Clampetts.

Me—I belong to the school of "I don't eat anything that looks like it used to have a life." I learned my lesson the hard way. I once ordered catfish in a restaurant, thinking I'd be daring and order something

LIFE'S A BEAR

Donna Abear

"exotic" (for me, any fish that isn't preceded by the words "Mrs. Paul's" is exotic).

Imagine my surprise (okay—disgust) when my plate was served, on which lay a fish-shaped mound of breading with whiskers sticking out of it. I could no more stick my fork into that fish than I could eat my cat. And with all that breading, it could have been my cat (whose name, by the way, is Whiskers).

What I should have done was just ordered that old standby, a nice, square piece of cod, which is for people who don't want fish that actually looks or tastes like fish—in other words, something that's not "fishy." We are the people for whom the phrase "it tastes like chicken" was invented.

Unfortunately, this phrase is nearly always spoken in a patronizing tone. It's used by gourmet types when they're serving wart hog in apricot sauce to queasy, non-gourmet types like me, and we look at them like they just offered us arsenic, and we say, "EEEEEW—wart hog—I don't know...what does it taste like?"

The correct gourmet answer, of course, is "it tastes like chicken."

But getting back to the subject of pheasant, we are going to have to eat the dear departed creatures soon or risk hurting my brother's feelings.

Consequently, I am trying to mentally prepare myself for this event by making a list of the good things about these pheasants:

1. They are dead.
2. They have no whiskers.
3. They have never had a major role in a Walt Disney film.

I have also decided that, in order to make the meal seem less "exotic," I should use the meat in a recipe that my family is otherwise familiar with.

So, wish me luck—this week the Abear dinner menu will feature something new and different:

Pheasant Helper.

Questions or comments for Donna Abear may be sent to Lakeland Newspapers, 30 S. Whitney St., Grayslake, IL 60030

Bluegrass band to perform

Considered to be one of the premier vocal acts in bluegrass music today, The Nashville Bluegrass Band will appear in their fifth solo concert at the Woodstock Opera House, Sunday, Oct. 26 at 6 p.m.

The band consists of Pat Enright on guitar, Alan O'Bryant on banjo, Stuart Duncan on fiddle, Roland White on mandolin, and Gene Libbea on acoustic bass.

Since their formation in 1984, the Nashville Band has always presented music that was in touch with its roots. They play acoustic/stringband music the way it was meant to be played: soulful, dynamic, rhythmic, and precise.

The Nashville Bluegrass Band is a four-time winner of the Vocal Group of the Year award and the first ever two-time winner of the Entertainer of the Year honor presented by the International Bluegrass Music Assn.

Tickets are $16. For reservations, call (815)338-5300. The Woodstock Opera House is located at 121 Van Buren St., Woodstock.

Holistic Horsemanship clinic set

The Hooved Animal Humane Society (HAHS) presents a Holistic Horsemanship clinic Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 11 and 12 at the HAHS Rehabilitation Farm, 10804 McConnell Rd., Woodstock, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. The clinic will be given by well-known clinician, Dr. Jessica Jahiel. Dr. Jahiel, an ARICP-certified instructor specializes in dressage and combined training, teaches Holistic Horsemanship which encompasses all breeds and disciplines and has given lessons and clinics throughout the U.S. and England.

Dr. Jahiel will observe and analyze up to eight individual riders and their horses per day, then suggest exercises and techniques for strengthening their weaker areas. Each day will include a question and answer session. Dr. Jahiel's immediate goal for the individuals is to build rider self-awareness and encourage riders to become their own coaches. Riders will learn techniques of positive practice and improve their ability to work alone.

In addition, Dr. Jahiel will teach participants how to increase their horses' attentiveness, responsiveness, and athletic ability; how to anticipate and prevent resistances; and how to help their horses become more consistent.

Dr. Jahiel teaches and trains according to classical dressage principles. Her interest in helping riders learn to enjoy their horses and horses learn to enjoy their riders. Her system of training is based on establishing and enhancing communication and trust between horse and rider.

The cost of the clinic for participating riders is $60 per day. Observers are welcome to audit the clinic for $15 per day. For directions and further information, call (815)337-5563.

Club Med On Paradise Island; The name says it all

by JIM WARNKEN
President, North Star Travel

Whistles at 9 a.m. Everyone down to the beach for volleyball. This is the picture that may come to mind when you think of an all inclusive Caribbean resort. This is not Club Med.

Some vacationers prefer to have their days planned out for them. I do not. So when I was offered a chance to visit Club Med on Paradise Island, I envisioned a list of daily activities in which I would be expected to participate. Boy was I wrong.

This is not to say there is nothing to do at Club Med. Quite the contrary. During my three day stay I took golf lessons and sailing lessons. I took a boat trip to a small island and went snorkeling on a beautiful reef. (By the way, those disposable underwater cameras work great. Stop in and I'll show you my pictures). I ran out of time before I could take tennis lessons complete with video playback to improve your game.

The beauty of Club Med is that everything is there for you, but you plan your day. If you feel like taking windsurfing lessons, just be at the beach house at 10:30 a.m. or 3:30 p.m. Want to learn how to sail a Hobie Cat? That's at 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. The snorkeling boat leaves the dock at 11 a.m. and 4 p.m. with lessons in the pool one hour before.

The activities are there, but you are not pushed into "enjoying" yourself. If you just want to lay on the beach, that's just fine. And what a beach it is. Club Med is located right on the best beach in all the Bahamas.

The food? Fine wines, caviar and international cuisine prepared by top French chefs. What more can I say?

Strolling through the acres' landscaped gardens shaded by palm trees makes you think this to be a perfect resort for honeymooners. In fact, this Club Med is very popular as a honeymoon destination and offers special packages for newlyweds.

For the sports-minded who still want a relaxing vacation, Club Med is the place.

MOVIE PICK 'Matchmaker' loves laughs-romance

Well, another stand-up comic does well in the big-time entertainment business as Janeane Garofalo, who was a quiet hit in "The Truth About Cats and Dogs," proves she has a knack for carrying a movie all by herself as "The Matchmaker" takes us back to the days of yesteryear, in a yesteryear kind of place, a small town on the coast of Ireland.

This is the best comedy romance since "My Best Friend's Wedding," fueled by a funny and charming script, but driven by a funnier and more charming cast.

Garofalo, a New England senator's aide, finds herself and her dreams on the Emerald Isle where she is doing research for a public relations punch for Sen. John McGloery, played by Jay O. Sanders. The senator's election bid is flagging and she thinks a hometown boy image is what is called for.

This is not the first story about a hardened and cynical American being charmed by a quaint and small Irish village, and its even quainter residents, but it's one of the best of late.

Has she met the man of her dreams in a journalist turned bartender played by David O'Hara, or will the senator convince her of a heretofore misunderstood sincerity lurking beneath that suave politico exterior?

This is this month's great date movie with Garofalo's wry wit serving her in good stead as the Irish village's matchmakers et al set about selling her to the local bachelors whether or not she wants them to.

You'll laugh a lot, you might even hum a bit, but most of all, we guarantee you'll do a lot of enjoying.

That's why we are giving the movie "The Matchmaker" 4.5 stars out of five for bringing us a fresh fall breeze in Garofalo and company.—

Great family entertainment in Lake Zurich's 'The King and I'

By ROSELLE LOVE
Special Sections Editor

There is a lot of whispering going around in Lake Zurich this week. It's not being heard on the streets or over the phone lines—yet! The whispers are going on in the audience during the Lake Zurich Playhouse's newest production of Rodgers and Hammerstein's "The King and I."

Theatergoers were simply amazed, or shall we say captivated, as they viewed opening night of "The King and I," each one saying that the voices are magnificent, the music—wonderful, and the story—enchanting.

Regular patrons of the Lake Zurich Playhouse would expect leading actor Ken Priess to give an outstanding performance as the King and no one in the theatre was disappointed! His strong voice and talented wit kept the audience in constant applause and laughter.

Mora Priess captivates the audience as Anna Leonowens. She also co-directed with Mary Lou Ahlenius, and is costume coordinator for "The King and I." Theatregoers are drawn into her character of Anna as she puts on a very delightful performance. Her facial expressions and wonderful voice has the audience following her every move across the stage.

There is a lot of talent tucked away in the Lake Zurich area. Each character is having fun displaying their talents through their dramatic make-up and costumes. The presentation of the King's children to Anna, the new school teacher, is certainly a show stopper. There is certainly no stage fright here, as each child marches on stage to be seen by anxious family and audience members.

Prince Chulalongkorn, played by 11-year-old Tom Vendafreddo, sings and performs with a passion in his heart. He became interested in the theatre in 1993 starring as Winthrop in the Addison Community Theatre's rendition of "The Music Man."

Louis Leonowens, portrayed by sixth grader, Jordan Hammes, is pure proof that there is new talent popping up in the Lake Zurich Playhouse. His duet with Prince Chulalongkorn, "A Puzzlement," shows the true, professional talent of these two young actors.

Veteran actor Ken Priess as the King of Siam tries to explain his country's customs to school teacher Anna Leonowens played by Mora Priess.—Submitted photo

Avid theater patrons of the Lake Zurich Playhouse look forward to hearing the beautiful voice of Lorian Riccetti who is playing the role of Tuptim. The tiny features of Riccetti surely fools the audience when her emotional and powerful voice fills the air with "I Have Dreamed."

The audience is seen sitting up straight to listen to every word. New to the Lake Zurich Playhouse is Eric Demetilla. His debut as Lun Tha, the lover of Tuptim, left the audience wanting more of his magnificent voice. "We Kiss in a Shadow" brought a tear to each audience member's eye, followed by a roar of applause.

No. 1 wife to the King, Lady Thiang is played by Kim Mason. Mason sings professionally with a number of Chicagoland groups including Airflow Deluxe a 1940's big band. The audience, at her performance of "The King and I," was thrilled to receive such a fantastic version of "Something Wonderful."

The dedication of these up and coming stars in "The King and I" is a far better production through their efforts. Congratulations to the following talented princes and princesses: Tatum Turner, KC Priess, Katrina Peterson, Courtney Holbrook, Kevin Winters, Tom Vendafreddo, Karalyne Cousins, Jordan Vaksellis, Jeff Vukovich, Sarah Robertson, Tyler Peterson, Taylor Holbrook, Brian Winters, Erin Vukovich, and Graham Gawthorpe.

Kudos also go out to the Royal Wives of the King: Ginny Baus-Wagner, Shannon Tara E. Doyle, Amy Kozlov, Victoria Lachmann-Vaksellis, Meredith McCoy, Julie Stachowiak, Gina Turner, Elyse Lorraine Wagner, Pam Winters and Andrea Zeile.

And not to forget, this whole story would not have taken place if Captain Orton, played by Wayne Klinge, did not bring Anna and her son Louis to Siam. Musical direction is by Michael Fudala, vocal direction by Ken Priess, choreography by Dorene Wackerfuss.

Though the stage sets are not very elaborate, the small theater of the Lake Zurich Playhouse is filled with great talent. The audience is able to be up close and personal with each character and concentrate on the story, the acting and fantastic voices right in front of you. Remaining show dates are: Fridays and Saturdays, Oct. 10, 11, 17, 18, 25 at 8 p.m. and Sundays, Oct. 12, 19 and 26 at 3 p.m. Call 540-5932 for ticket reservations. The Lake Zurich Playhouse is located at 435 Cuba Rd.

a steady project. People who are really successful are those who are really into it."

Tenuta, explained the amount of time it takes a person to become a licensed pilot depends on how much time the student can devote to lessons each week, and the weather.

"The weather is the biggest factor, because we can't control it," he said. "If they can afford to fly three times a week, it could take six months to a year. If they can only fly one time a week, it could take 18 months."

In order to receive a pilot license, students have to successfully complete ground school prior to becoming certified and taking their check flight. They must score 70 percent or better on a Federal Aviation Administration written exam for private pilots. They also must take a two-hour oral exam.

Flight clubs vary in their modes of operation. Stick and Rudder is non-profit. Duck said the club is actually the oldest in the country, celebrating its 50th anniversary this year. It is also the country's largest flying club with approximately 450 members. The club owns 17 planes and employs five full-time flight instructors. In order to receive flight training there, you must be a member of the club.

Presidential Flight Training is in partnership with DB Aviation and is located within the DB Aviation facilities at Waukegan Airport. It also has five instructors.

Stick and Rudder first trains students on the Cessna 152, a two-place (seat) trainer. Presidential trains students on the Cessna 150, Cessna 152 or the Piper Warrior. All of these are small planes with room for only two people also.

For those who have earned their license and are a little on the side of daring, Tenuta's partner, Vince Borst, teaches aerobatics in Presidential's ZLIN 242L aircraft.

Members of Stick and Rudder are able to use the club's planes for an hourly fee once they have their pilot's license. Presidential also rents planes to licensed pilots on an hourly basis. For flight club members, the rate is around $35 per hour and with Presidential it runs around $55 per hour.

Cowie and Kerous both attended ground school together. Cowie said he believed the most difficult part in the whole process is learning to land the plane.

"Flying the plane is easy, the hardest part is landing the plane without wrecking it," he said. "You're doing a bunch of things all at once in three dimensions. The most difficult is learning to land with any finesse. Landing like a gooney bird is easy."

Cowie's advice to anyone considering flying is to take ground school first and try to take the class with a friend to help each other through the rough spots. Kerous' advice is to first take an experimental flight, during which the passenger may fly the plane, to see if you're really interested in learning.

Tantara wins awards of excellence

By ROSELLE LOVE
Special Sections Editor

The Home Builders Assn. of Lake County has awarded North Shore Development with four awards of excellence for the Arlington model showcased in the 1997 Lake County Tour of Homes.

A family owned and managed company, North Shore Development is a subsidiary of The Pickus Companies. Four generations of experience leads this company that was established in 1926. Grandparents, fathers, brothers, cousins and more all have proven capabilities in real estate development, property management, architectural and engineering design and construction.

More than 5,000 residents have moved into single family homes, townhomes or apartments in the last 10 years proving the success of North Shore Developments. Projects include Fox River Shores in Island Lake, Cambridge on the Lake condominiums in Buffalo Grove, Water's Edge apartment complex in Lake Villa, and now 54 lots on 40 acres in Tantara at Green Oaks.

For the busy executive in need of the perfect home to entertain the corporate world, the expanded family of growing teenagers, even the empty-nester, will all find their dream home at Tantara at Green Oaks.

"Being a smaller builder, we are able to pay close attention to each detail in building a home," states Ted Pickus, vice president of sales and marketing for The Pickus Companies.

"Buying a home is one of the biggest purchases in one's life and it's important to us that each of our buyers are satisfied when they move in. To ensure this I attend each client's closing," continued Pickus.

Tantara residents can enjoy plenty of natural amenities including two ponds and a conservancy area. Independence Grove, the new Libertyville Preserve near Tantara, features a 113-acre lake, hundreds of acres of restored flood plain, wetlands, and an oak forest along the Des Plaines River. A recreational area will offer an amphitheater, ice skating, swimming, volleyball, picnic areas, play grounds, bicycle trails, boating, fishing and a marina.

Choosing a home in Tantara, the buyer has the option to change any floor plans. "We are a semi-custom builder," states Pickus. "Buyers can make any changes to fit their lifestyle. With Pickus you get a plan within a plan and we help the buyer through the entire process."

Homeowners may want to eliminate a closet to open up the kitchen area, or add a loft to the foyer. "We even offer the buyer our specialty fireplaces. Our carpenter will sit with each client and help them design their own mantel piece to fit their tastes and needs," adds Pickus.

"I also walk through each home on a weekly basis to check on the progress. This assures all of our clients that their needs are being met," states Pickus.

Standard inclusions in a home at Tantara are: fireplace, ceramic tile, Marvin wood clad windows, General Electric products, Kohler, Jacuzzi, central air conditioning, and a Honeywell home security system.

Each home is situated on one-half or more acres. Cedar and brick is used on each exterior along with a sodded front yard, seeded back yard, a tree and bushes.

The Arlington at Tantara is a two-story, 2,881 square foot home featuring four bedrooms, and 2 1/2 baths. A dramatic two-story entry foyer with two sided staircase greets the homeowner. The arched doorway leading to the formal dining and living room sets the home off and adds a perfect touch of elegance.

The living room is connected to the large family room by a walk through area that includes a wet bar and powder room. A special feature of the wet bar is earth stone counter tops.

The award winning Arlington contains a sunroom attached to the family room and kitchen area. "Some of our homeowners use this feature as a playroom, or enjoy the fact that it is separate enough from the family room to escape daily worries and relax by enjoying the beauty and peacefulness of the landscape," Pickus explains.

Each kitchen offers an island, planning desk and large pantry.

The second floor of the Arlington boasts a large master suite with fireplace and a wonderful octagon sitting room overlooking a view of the ponds and natural landscape.

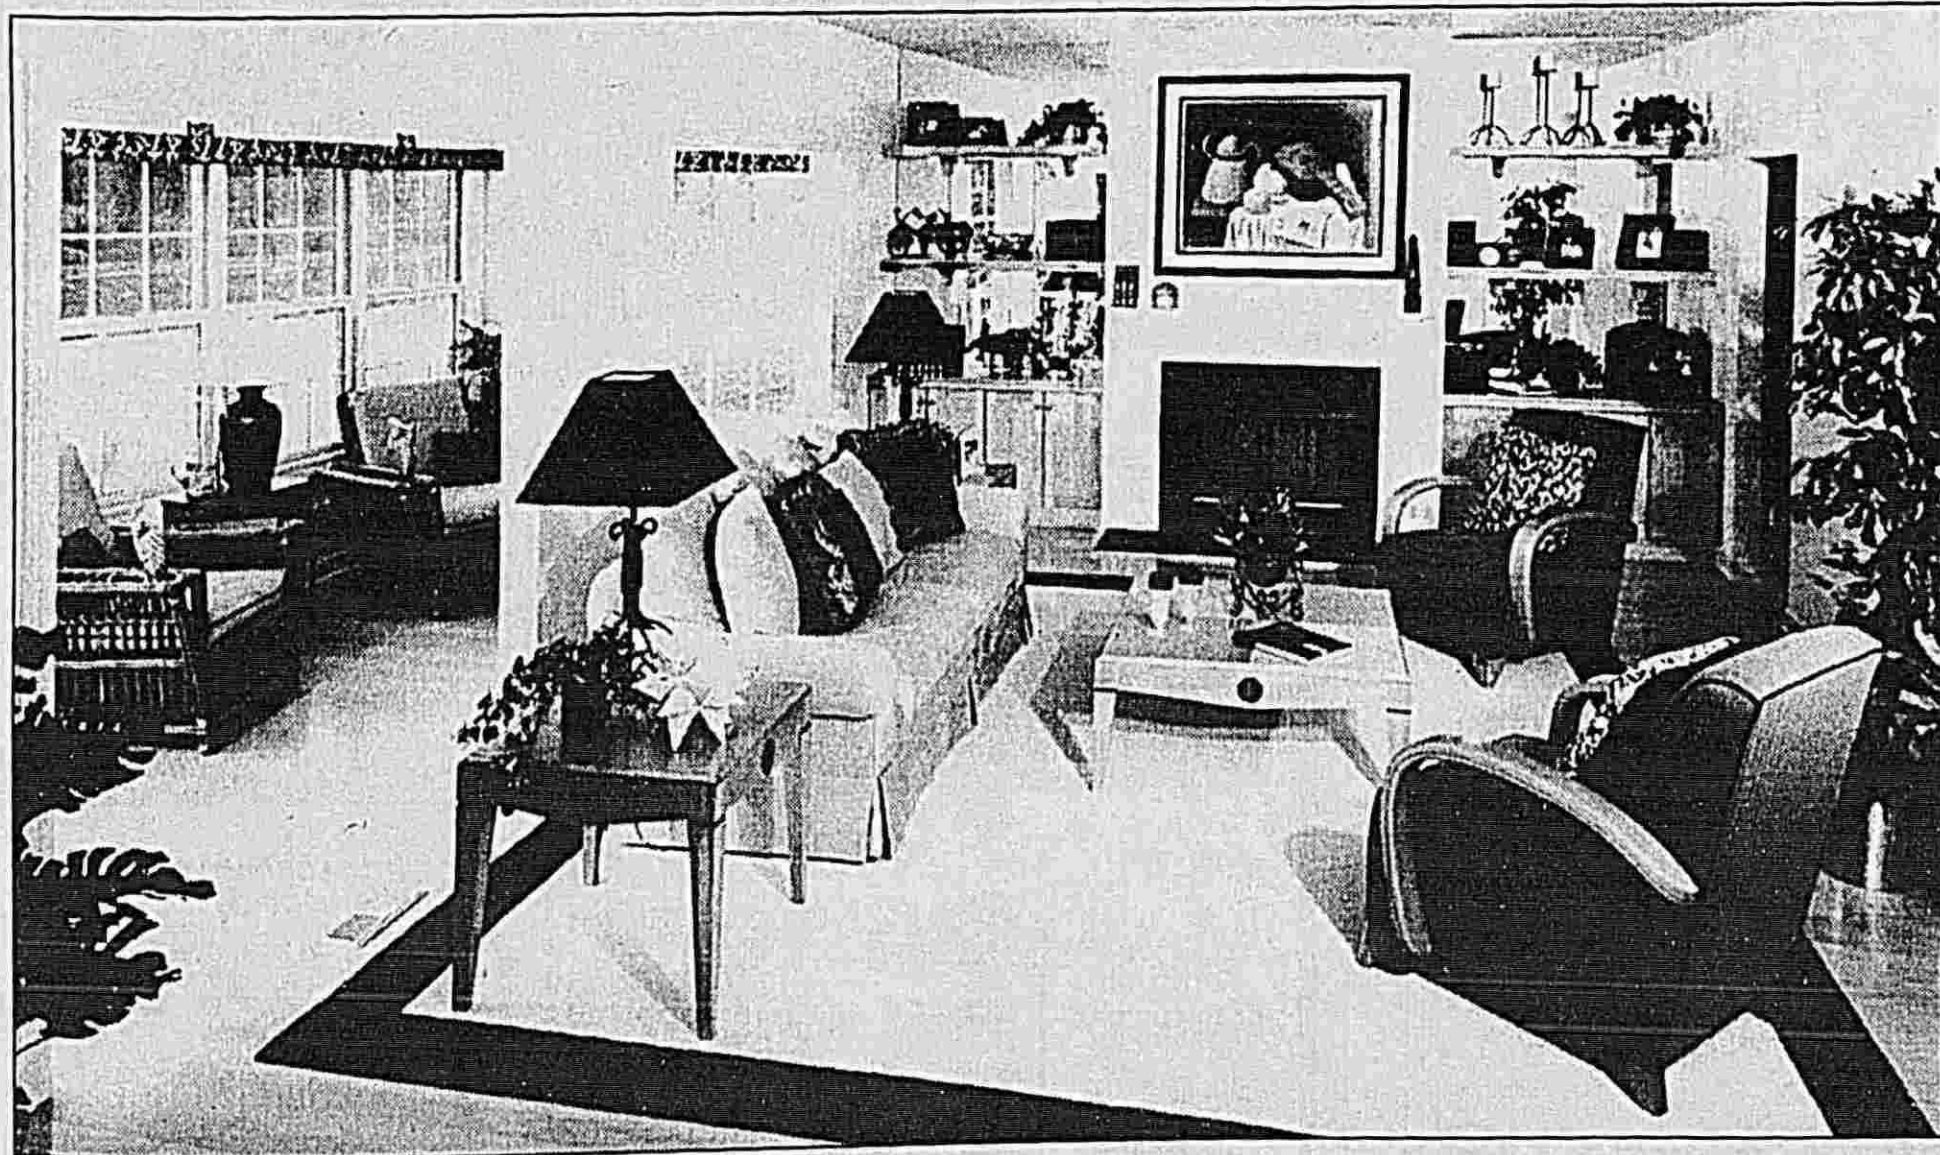

His and her walk-in closet, whirlpool tub, ceramic tiles, are all standard features at Tantara.

Each room of the Arlington boasts plenty of different angles for a decorator's delight. California Closet organizers are also included for ample storage and organization.

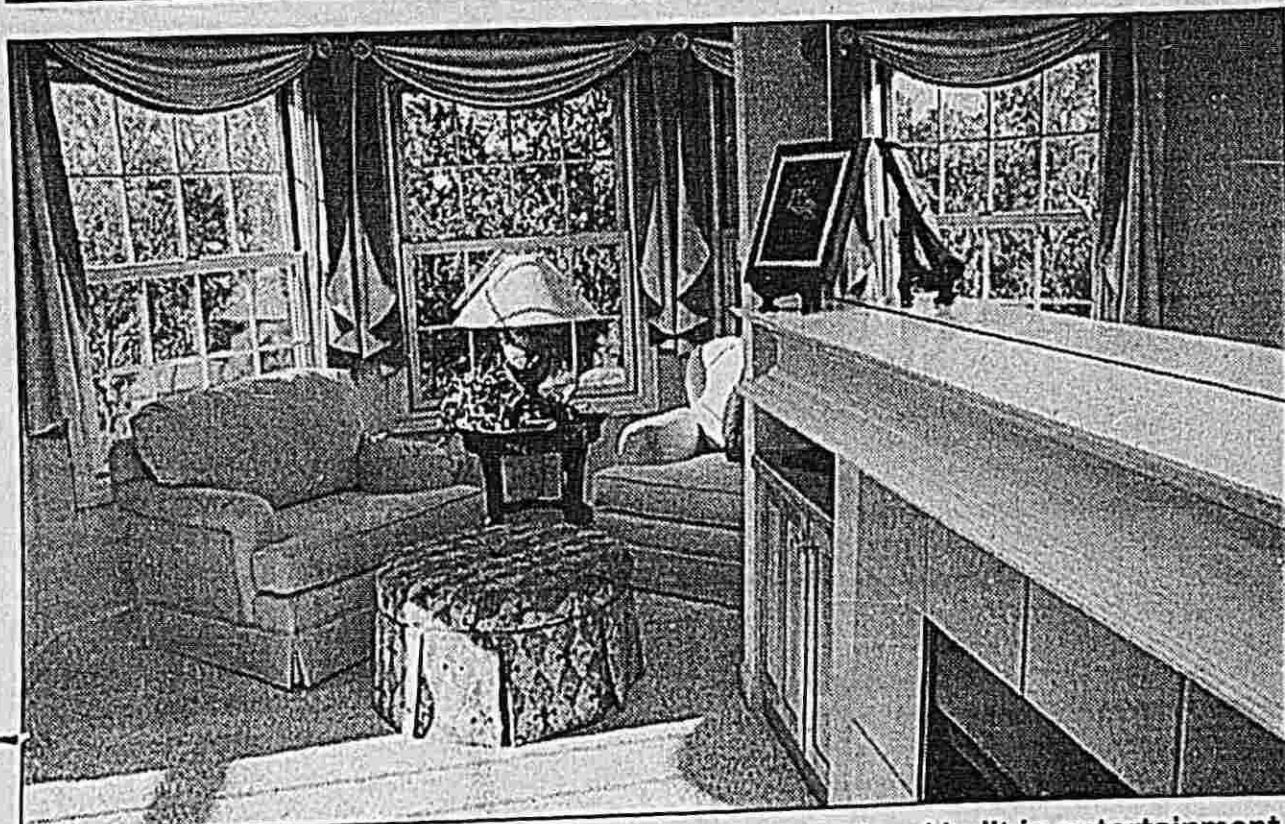

Basements at Tantara can be supplied finished or unfinished.

Another perk in purchasing a home in Tantara is five hours of free design time with Susie Goldstein of Design Perspective. Goldstein will advise clients on any design change, bounce off ideas to fit the homeowner's needs, or be available for putting on any final

The family room is a perfect place for relaxing or entertaining guest. A unique feature in the Arlington is the built in sun room.

An octagon shaped sitting room and fireplace with optional built in entertainment center adds the perfect touch to the Arlington's master suite.

The Pickus Companies offer five free hours with a professional decorator to add any final touches to accommodate each homeowner's own taste and style.

The Arlington price ranges from $360,000 to $390,000.

The Churchill at Tantara is a 2,182 square foot, four bedroom, 2 1/2 bath. This two-story foyer opens into the living and dining rooms through dramatic columns and arches. The oak rail with white spindles stairway create a different, warm tone upon entering the home. Built-in cabinets at the top of the stairway and art niches set into the walls turns a basic hallway into a real part of the home.

The master suite boasts the trademark arch door way leading to the bath that softens the entire room. A wonderful walk in closet offers a his and her side. "The closet is so big that some homeowners have removed the separation wall and transformed this closet into their private exercise room," claims Pickus.

Sharing the second floor of the Churchill are three other bedrooms. The hall bathroom offers double sinks and separate toilet. Standard for each closet in the Churchill are the six panel oak doors and trim.

"Homeowners choose to live in Tantara for the quality of home they receive. For instance we use lamb beams as a structural base. Also the time and effort put into each home is why they are an excellent choice," said Pickus, the soon to be president of the Home Builders Assn. of Lake County.

The Churchill is available for $350,000 to $375,000.

This is The Pickus Companies third subdivision. They have used the same trades-

A rare find for a development is that Tantara offers a ranch-style home, the Ascot, ranging in price from $355,000 to $380,000. This 2,630 square foot home offers three bedrooms, formal dining room, fireplace, gourmet kitchen and more. "Developers really don't like to build ranch homes due to the amount of concrete used and the cost. You are building a home over a huge concrete basement rather than building the home up, taking up a lot more land," states Pickus.

"When we developed Tantara, we studied the wants and needs of move-up buyers.

More space was foremost on their list, followed by custom details and glamorous exterior facades," Pickus added.

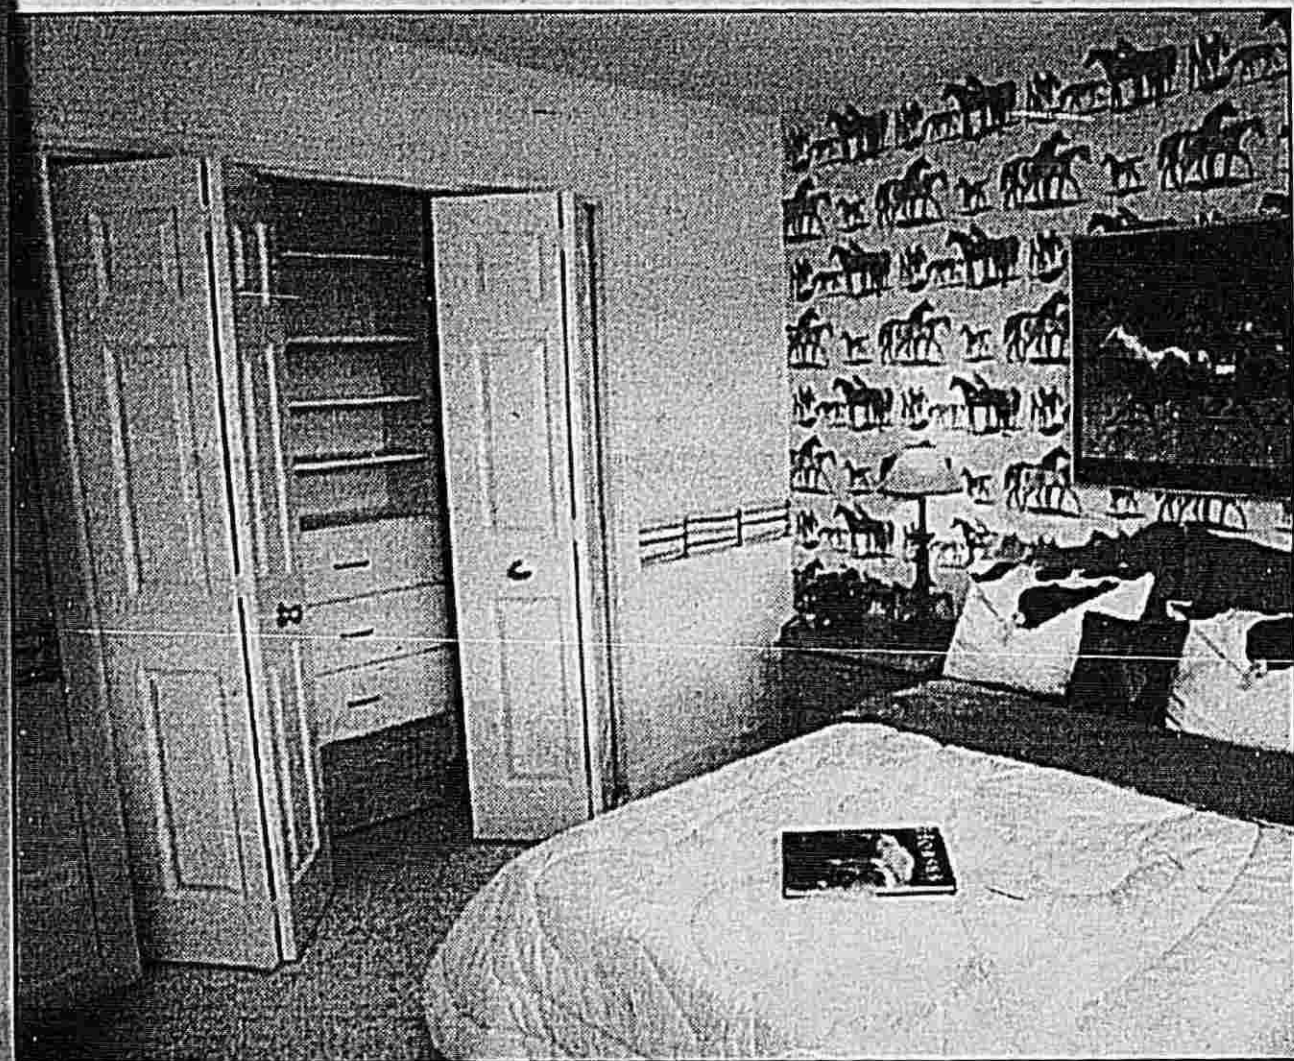

In close proximity to Libertyville, Tantara residents can take advantage of the benefits of Libertyville's highly rated school system with children attending Oak Grove elementary school and Libertyville High School. Libertyville's downtown district offers a multitude of shopping choices.

Tantara is located on Guerin, near Route 137 (Buckley Road) and O'Plaine Road in Green Oaks. The sales center is open daily from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Call (708)367-0008 for more information.

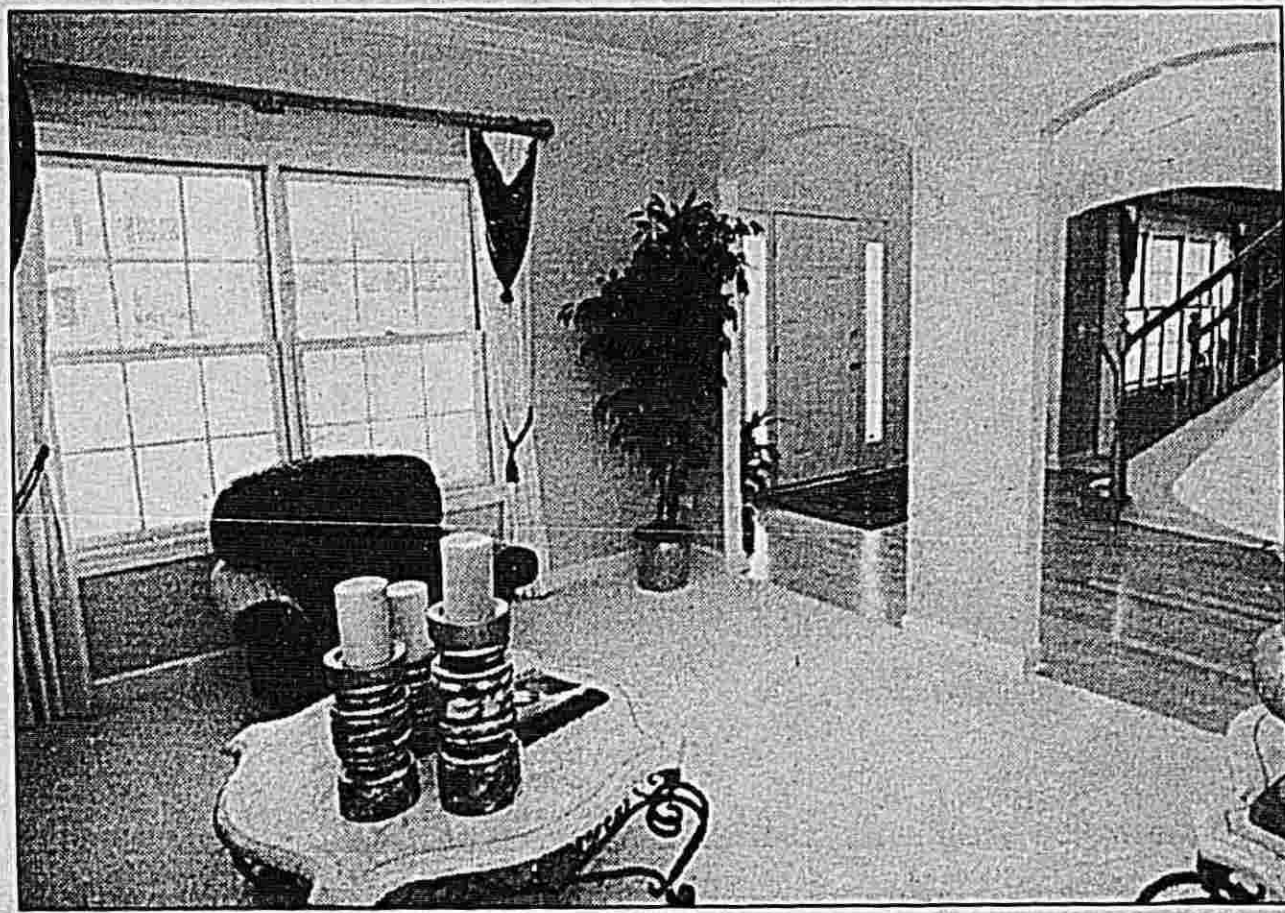

Please see additional photos on page B-20

The formal living room of the Churchill provides plenty of sunlight through the Marvin-clad windows. Archways lead to two-story foyer.

Putting the garden to bed for the winter

Shorter days and cooler temperatures signal the time to ready the garden for winter. Rake fallen, healthy leaves and compost them. Cut back leggy perennials and apply mulch to control weeds from sprouting with winter rains. Water if the fall remains dry, perennials and shrubs need water before they take their winter nap. Collect stakes and trellises from your garden beds, disinfect them with a mild bleach solution, and store them for next spring.

I cannot say enough about composting. In our area we are blessed with so many trees, thus so many leaves in fall! Think of them as a gift to your garden. If you do not have a compost pile, you can still start one now. Or if time is limited, you can rake those leaves, dig a hole in your garden, bury them and let them decompose right there. You can also pile them up in an obscure spot in the garden, and cover them with black mulch, and the winter sun will do a fine job of rotting them. Then come spring you can start a compost pile with them or incorporate them into your garden: as is they resemble a peat. This also encourages worms to aerate the soil.

This is also a good time to prepare your rose beds for winter. Prune tall bushes now, once they are done blooming, best if you wait after a hard frost. Mound fresh mulch to a depth of six to eight inches around the plants after the first hard frost hits. This protects the bushes throughout our cold winters. You can also cover them with the commercial cones available at nurseries. I always mound them heavily and have never bothered with cones, and they do well.

GARDEN JOURNAL

Lydia Huff

Remember to get your bulbs in now. You can keep planting them up into frost. Add some bulb food such as bone meal while digging. Also invest in a bulb digger, they even have ones with long handles, this makes the job, all the more easier.

Saves your back, and knees too! Once frost hits, pull frost killed annuals and add them to your compost pile, or use them to mulch around your perennial beds. Mulching quite heavily in our area, is a great idea, as our temps fall so low.

Also it is still not too late to rake up the lawn, and dethatch it if needed. Overseeding the lawn now is not a bad idea either. Colder temperatures will not inhibit grass seed from sprouting.

Well I know I hate the onset of winter, but it is part of that cycle of life. Many things must die now, but will enjoy a rebirth come spring. And besides, it gives us a much needed rest also, and winter thus makes the next spring only that more precious.

Peace.

HOUSEHOLD TIPS

Alarm clock

Do you want to get some sleep while your teenagers are out for the evening? Simply agree on a time to be home, and then set the alarm clock for that time. Then, go to bed and sleep! When they come home, they turn off the alarm. If the alarm rings, it's time to get up and find out why they are not home. Occasionally, they may be delayed; then it is their responsibility to call.

Clean hands

A non-messy way to make hamburger patties is to use clear plastic sandwich bags. Place the meat inside the bag and mash down with anything flat. You can use your hands, but a frying pan or small cutting board gets the job done more quickly and evenly.

Energy saver

This tip may save a few pennies as well as the life of the refrigerator. Instead of opening the freezer door every time to you have to put something away, line all the items up next to the fridge and put them all in at one time. This cuts down on excess operation, saves electricity, and the food does not cool off that quickly.

Who's that?

A great way to identify someone while jogging is to make a reduced copy of your medical insurance card, and on the back list (in order to be called) the name and phone number of whom to contact in the event of an emergency. The card can be laminated and carried in the pocket of your jogging shorts. A hole can be punched in the card and worn dog-tag style if necessary.

Keeping tabs

Teenagers have a lot of friends. To keep tabs on who's who make an indexed directory. Keep a card under each child's name, such as "John's friends" or "Pam's friends."

List their friends and their phone numbers. This way, you always know right where to look for a phone number when you need to get in touch with them.

Bath mats

Clean rubber bath mats in the washing machine, along with the bath towels, using hot, soapy water and bleach. The shower curtain can also be washed this way and come out clean as new.

It's bed check time!

One of the most beneficial home improvements you can make is in the piece of furniture you use more than any other in the house—your bed. When you're ready to feather the nest, consider more than just aesthetics. Beautiful bed linens and a handsome headboard are nice, but it's the quality of the mattress that affects your sleep, overall health and well-being.

How do you know when it's time for a new mattress? The following are guidelines to help you examine your bed:

1. Is the mattress more than 8 to 10 years old? If so, it's probably no longer providing adequate comfort and support.
2. Is the cover soiled, stained or torn?
3. Do the mattress or foundation (box spring) surfaces show sagging spots or look uneven?
4. Would you be embarrassed to show your bed, without covers, to your neighbors?
5. Is the mattress comfortable in some places and in some positions, but not in others?
6. When you turn over, do you hear creaks or crunches?
7. When you roll around, does the bed wobble or sway?

8. Are you and your partners rolling together without meaning to?

9. Are you fighting each other for enough space to get comfortable?

10. Do you wake up with a neck or back-ache?

If you answered "yes" to one or more of these questions, your old mattress may be ready for retirement. Still in doubt? Go mattress shopping and compare what is available today with the feel of your old mattress.

A safety note: If you have a mattress made before the 1973 Federal Mattress Flammability Standard took effect, it is not cigarette-ignition resistant. These beds are a fire hazard and should not be passed along or stored in your home. In fact, any mattress to old or worn for you should not be transferred to guest rooms or handed down to children whose growing bodies need optimum support.

Remember, a new bed is an investment that improves far more than just your home. When you sleep better, you improve the rest of your life.

Bunch of whiners

Finally! I'd like to thank the Lake Zurich mayor and trustees for keeping Pheasant Ridge Road one way going west. I couldn't believe all the complaining from residents. I have never seen such a whining bunch of people in my life. They don't care about other people's neighborhoods, only their two-minute drive to work.

Lake Zurich

Get over yourself

I have to make a comment on the miserable, bitter people who constantly call in to complain about having to pay taxes for education when they have no kids themselves. Have you ever thought that there must have been older and/or childless people who paid for your education when you were a child? I guess all you self-centered whiners didn't think about that. Everything comes out even, believe me. And these people who've complained about the playsets in the yards ought to get over themselves. What makes you think this depreciates your property? Any parents who spend that much money so their children can play happily and safely in their own backyard would be welcomed as neighbors by me. If you would lower your noses from the high altitude, you would see that happy children make for a happy environment. If you don't like it, move to a retirement community and wither away.

Glitters, but no gold

Let me see if I read this right in the village newsletter: The garbage dump pays Grayslake about $23 million over a 20-year period. This gives us a little over $1 million a year. Then we borrow $6.8 million and build something the village likes to call a "civic center." Of course, we'll have to pay back at least $11.6 million on that money. So about half the garbage dough is spent. What do we get out of it? We're saddled with some businesses with 10 to 20 year leases making a profit for themselves, the park district, and the village, in order to support a couple of rooms that we don't have to pay to get into. All other services offered, including an aquatic center, cost us to use because they're set up to make a profit. All this on public land. Mama, you're so right when you told me that everything that glitters is not gold. Abandon this creative, but unethical scheme now before you go too far and someone ends up with egg on their face. We know you leaders can come up with something more sensible.

Grayslake

Outraged

I am outraged at the arrogance displayed by the village of Island Lake's Lakes Management Committee. Even after massive public outcry, these arrogant, control freaks have continued raping the big island. What these close-minded individuals see as dead trees, the rest of us see as nests for woodpeckers and other birds. The blatant disregard for public opinion is evidence of the contempt these mayoral-appointed individuals have for other people's opinions and the democratic process. I don't know who should be more ashamed, the members of the Island Lake Management Committee, or the people of Island Lake, who permitted our elected politicians to appoint these self-righteous board members.

Island Lake

Thanks for help

I would like to express my sincere thanks and gratitude to the two good samaritans from Century Builders in Libertyville, who came to my aid when I was stranded in my car at a food store in Round Lake Beach. I'd also like to thank those who also tried to help me, in vain. It restores my faith that there's kindness, goodness, and humanity in people.

Help Fire Dept.

This is for the Fox Lake Fire Department and the people in that district. We'd like to have everyone donate money to get helmets. A fund-raiser will be held on Oct. 18 at Fire Station #3 on Molitor Road. Get in there and help the fire department!

Call senators

Call your senators, Carol Mosely-Braun and Dick Durbin, and tell them to vote for Federal Legislation HR5 through 6, the "Quiet Communities" act. I think we deserve to sleep at night and not have airplanes over our head.

No one but young people will buy a home next to one of those.

Rehabilitate here

I've been following the articles about the rehabilitation of the downtown Mundelein area. I live in the Diamond Lake area within the village limits. We have practically no village services here. In a high crime area, we have only one street light here at the beginning of the block. It's difficult to find a sidewalk for kids to walk on. Hey, Mayor, we pay property taxes here, too, and my tax bill goes up every year.

Mundelein

Conflict of interest

Now that Kevin Dolan has been elected to the Mundelein Park District Board and his wife has been employed by the Park District for a number of years, I'm hoping she has the decency to resign. This does present a direct conflict of interest. Too many local park district boards are allowing these situations to occur.

Do some research

I have a comment for "Wrong way to do it" about the Fox Waterway. I've been a resident homeowner on the Chain O' Lakes since 1969. I feel I have a right to express my opinion about the Fox Waterway. My channel has just been completed by the dredge crew and I think they did a wonderful job. Have you ever stopped to think how much more desirable your property is if you ever decide to sell? Maybe they did take a long time, but have you ever considered how much they need to do? Maybe you should do some research before you start an argument on a subject.

Spring Grove

Let's get rule changed

The conservation department allows duck hunters the right to shoot 100 yards from lakefront homes. Where are our rights to peace, quiet and safety? Some goose loads kill at 70 yards. The rule should be changed to 200 yards, at least. This year has a 60 day season. Sleep late on weekends? I don't think so. Call your representative to get them further away from houses.

Hooray for Debbie

Hip, hip, hooray for Miss Debbie and her staff. I love the wonderful things you were doing at Camp Crayon this year.

Antioch

Sad about SADD

What happened to the SADD program at Round Lake High School? I've been in the high school for four years now and was looking forward to being in SADD. I think it's horrible that no one will sponsor it.

Not slowing down yet

Wasn't it the Village First Party that was upset about all the new construction going on in Lake Zurich? It seems they're not doing much to slow it down. I think we should slow down and get the village's problems solved before we get new growth.

Take a hike

The Wauconda School Board does not believe it's their responsibility to voice concerns or objections about the school impact fees from developers. Now they arrogantly expect to be rewarded for their negligence with the approval of a referendum. Tell 'em to take a hike on Nov. 4.

Let's be careful

This is directed to anyone who drives down Main Street in Wauconda. It's a great place for dining, shopping, and access to the lake. It's also great to live on. The speed limit is 25 m.p.h. and thanks to those who maintain that speed. Unfortunately, too many drivers forget this. Please remember, people live on this street. Although it is the responsibility of people to keep kids and dogs off the street, a ball could go out into the street, with a child following. Things happen. Doing 25 m.p.h. is a lot easier than dealing with an accident. Do it for the children!

Wauconda

Can't afford it

I'm upset over the referendum Wauconda is planning for November. Dist. 118 needs to realize that some people are on a fixed income and should not expect us to constantly have taxes raised. When village people want to have these buildings built in Wauconda, then let's have the builders pay money for extra schools. When we say no to referendums, they blame us for not wanting quality education. That is so wrong. We just can't afford it. It's about time Dist. 118 realizes that people can't afford it and they'd better learn how to budget their money.

Wauconda

Widen roads

I was going to comment on our tax dollars at work on Route 173. Two months ago, they went around and patched a bunch of holes on Route 173. Now, you can see they're chewing up the road and the patchwork they did is now being carted away. What they need to do is widen the roads.

Antioch

Enough's enough

I'd like to say enough is enough with the playsets in the backyards. Some of them have huge flags and are larger than some houses that have regulations on. I have no objection to them, but I object where they put them under their neighbors' noses. It depletes the property value of the house next to them.

Great Lakes Navy Reserve Center latest in billion dollar building projects

By RHONDA HETRICK BURKE
Editor-in-Chief

World War II Navy Veteran State Senator Adeline Jay Geo-Karis was a hit with the crowd during the dedication of the Navy's newest Reserve Center.

Geo-Karis, who served as one of the first female lawyers in the Navy's Judge Advocate Corps (JAG), was the honored guest at the ceremony marking the opening of the new state-of-the-art building.

"It is an honor for me to be here today," said Geo-Karis, who told the crowd she tried to volunteer for Desert Storm, but they said she was too old.

"I love the Navy and I love this country," the Greek immigrant said. She presented an Illinois State Flag to be flown at the building. She also addressed the importance of the Navy Reserve in defending the Nation today.

The new $6 million facility will be the weekend training site for more than 1,600 Naval Air and Surface Reservists from over 50 reserve specialties units.

The Reservists come to Great Lakes from throughout the Chicago metropolitan area and southern Wisconsin.

Great Lakes' Reservists have been mobilized in recent years in support of operations in Bosnia, dental technicians; to the spaces utilized for medical and administrative offices, the 50,000 square foot structure has been built to make training an efficient process.

Somalia as well as Desert Storm.

Retired Rear Admiral Frank Harness was the keynote speaker at the dedication. A native of Walworth, Wis., Harness was integral in the building of the center.

"The goal was to create a state-of-the-art facility that maintains a link to the rich history of Naval Training Center. You'll note the brickwork, Illinois utility red, more than slightly suggests the appearance of many of the refurbished historic Naval Training Center buildings," Harness said. "While the architects and builders have given us a handsome physical structure, it's the people inside that really define it and endow its spiritual structure. Today's Naval Reserve is dynamic, well-trained and ready, serving as a vital partner with the Active Forces all over the world, around the clock."

The Reserves are full partners in the total force of the U.S. Armed Forces. With the "right sizing" of active forces, well-trained Reservists are vital to reducing national security risks and containing defense costs in the post-cold war world.

From this training facility, will come fully-trained Reservists who are ready to defend the nation's interests around the globe.

Harness retired from active duty in June after serving as Commander, Naval Surface Reserve Force.

The facility was designed by architect Tom DeBurh of the Zimmerman Design Group and constructed by Mark Michuda of Michuda Construction.

Planning for the building began in 1987 and was overseen by Frank Merlo of Public Works Center, Great Lakes. Reservists moved into the building in mid-September. Great Lakes Reservists had utilized their previous building since the 1940s.

Halloween Howl heats up spookmeter

Antioch community fest expands offerings

By KENNETH PATCHEN
Staff Reporter

Something old. Something new. Something haunted. You'll go Boo!

Antioch, which has developed a reputation in recent years as one of the places to go for Halloween fun, is introducing new attractions and re-vamping old ones for Antioch's Halloween Howl '97.

New for this year is a scarecrow building contest. Under new management and sponsorship is the Tunnel of Terror.

Halloween Howl '97 will be held Friday, Oct. 24 and Saturday, Oct. 25. Halloween events unfold for different age groups during the two day downtown festival. The free community event will be in full operation at the end of the month, but a scarecrow building contest will be an earlier mid-month treat for children.

The scarecrow contest is a new event scheduled for Saturday, Oct. 18. "It's a kick-off of Halloween Howl," said Antioch Community Development Director Claude LeMere. It serves as an early tension breaker for children and offers prizes for the best scarecrow built. Downtown merchants will display the constructed scarecrows in their windows. Awards will be announced at the Oct. 25 bonfire at 6 p.m.

"We need more pants, shirts, hats, and gloves," said LeMere. The Mental Health Association has provided some clothing for kids to use to build the scarecrows, but additional clothes for about 100 scarecrows are needed.

People who wish to drop off old clothing at the community building should do so early and before Oct. 18.

This year the village will sponsor the Tunnel of Terror and the Parent Teacher Organization will run the Witches Kitchen. "Keith Bentel will run it for the village," said LeMere. "He's into Halloween big time." Cheryl Mateja will help him with it, LeMere said.

The Antioch Jaycees have sponsored the Tunnel of Terror during the past five years. In July and August meetings, the Jaycees discussed the need to change the way the Tunnel of Terror was managed. As a result, the Jaycees wanted to charge people to go through the tunnel to better manage repeat visits. The village discussed the proposed changes. In response, LeMere told the Jaycees, "The board wants to keep this a free event and they want to keep running it the way we've run it."

The Village purchased equipment and construction materials from the Jaycees to maintain the essential features of the attraction now to be under village sponsorship.

Jaycees President Greg Benyak describes the change as a win-win situation for the village and Jaycees.

Jones back to lead Special Education Dist.

By STEVE PETERSON
Staff Reporter

After several years in the private sector, Tony Jones is back with a familiar position with Special Education Dist. of Lake County.

He is the new principal of Gages Lake School, part of the special education district where Jones established many programs in the 1970s and 1980s.

"Working with a professional staff and administration has made the transition an easy one," Jones said.

Gages Lake School serves 74 students with severe behavior disorders. Students are primary grade through junior high age.

"I learned a lot in the private sector and I wanted to introduce those things into the public sector. I have always believed special education is a strong team effort and will reinforce that team concept," Jones said.

Jones believes in the mainstreaming of students and that the Gages Lake School should not be a final stop for students.

"I believe in mainstreaming students and working with them as a whole. They should be able to go back to regular education if they can handle it. They need a sense of well-being and accomplishment," Jones said.

"We had a number of candidates for the position. Jones is the ideal candidate due to his experience with SEDOL and in the mental health community. He has done a lot of work in therapeutic environments," said Dr. John Anderson, SEDOL superintendent.

Jones, of Grayslake, worked with SEDOL from 1969-1989. After starting as a teacher, he supervised programs such as Social Work Outreach, an improved Behavior Disorder Itin-

County jail complies with state standards

The Lake County Jail has once again met Standards for County Jail set forth by the State of Illinois Dept. of Corrections Jail and Detention Standards Unit.

The Direct Supervision Lake County Jail, operating at its present site since 1989, is a state of the art facility designed to operate efficiently and humanely, with a solid policy base to provide for a well trained professional staff. The intended result of this is to limit costly frivolous lawsuits.

The Illinois Dept. of Corrections has established a Unit which monitors Illinois Jails for compliance with the published standards and makes the results available for public review. According to Criminal Justice Specialist Michael Talkington, who conducted the inspection on Sept. 3, the Lake County Jail was in compliance with every applicable standard and there were no recommendations for improvement.

The inspection covers nearly 30 categories including administration, classification, medical and health care, food service and sanitation, security, inmate discipline and privileges and juvenile detention standards.

"We're very proud of our facility and this represents another year of total compliance with the standards. I'm confident that this accomplishment shields the county from nuisance or petty lawsuits and places us in a defensible position when we do face an action," said Jail Supt. Lawrence Lesza.

"This is a major accomplishment for our Corrections staff and it truly is a reflection to our commitment and dedication to serving the people of Lake County with pride," said Sheriff Del Re.

In-person absentee voting begins at County Clerk's office

HALLOWEEN: Spook meter gets scarier in Antioch

The village is able to maintain a popular attraction, and the Jaycees are able to use the funds to help with another project they have undertaken.

"What we are doing is helping a person with a roof repair and yard clean-up," Benyak said. "We want to help prevent him from losing his house to the county. He lives in unincorporated Lake County. He needs a roof. It is in very bad shape."

The prize for the scarecrow contest will be either Chamber of Commerce and Industry gift certificates or a monetary award. The award values have not yet been set and will be dependent on the number of entries to the contest. Each store owner will be donating $5 for the opportunity to have a scarecrow in their store window.

"We will have a first, second, and third place ribbon on the winning scarecrows on Thursday (Oct. 23), before the Saturday bonfire," LeMere said.

LeMere stressed the need for clothing donations to help make the contest an effective Halloween Howl warm-up event. In addition to the clothing, straw and a plastic bag for a head will be provided to entrants to help build their scarecrows.

A detailed schedule of Halloween Howl events with colorful graphics and scary sounds is available on the Chamber of Commerce and Industry web site designed by Judith Kallos (www.lake-online.com/antioch/). The web site also offers access to a visitors-only contest to win the Halloween Beanie Baby™, Spooky.

JONES: Back with SEDOL

erant program, the hospital-residential team and the first 24-hour Alternative Education Program for public education which was based at Hainesville, Volo and Libertyville.

Before rejoining SEDOL in August, he was coordinator of therapeutic services at Counseling Connection of Lake Bluff.

"SEDOL always has been very child oriented. It is good to see that is still there," Jones said.

SEDOL is 37 school districts united in Lake County to help children by providing advocacy, leadership, resources and services.

Anderson described Gages Lake School as not the last stop, but one after much work has been done at the children's home schools on their emotional and behavioral problems. Most of the 74 students are in the third through fifth grade.

Jones earned his bachelor of science degree in education and his master of science degree in special education-counseling from Northeast Missouri State in Kirksville, Mo. He received his certification from Northern Illinois University in school counseling with emphasis on mental health counseling; behavior disorders; special education administration and general education administration.

In other SEDOL news, Jim Morrissey, a former Chicago Bears player, is the newest member of the district's fund-raising foundation board. He toured Laremont school. The foundation, which plans a dinner dance and other activities, has hired a new director, Wendy Smith.

Top 10 schools receive excellence in attendance

Elementary schools from across Lake County participated in the Ninth Annual Lake County Elementary School Fall Attendance Week, Sept. 22 to 26, which was sponsored by Project PASS (Lake County Center for Dropout Prevention) and Edward Gonwa, Lake County Regional superintendent of schools.

All schools in the county were eligible to be recognized by the regional superintendent for excellence in their weekly attendance rate. The "top 10" reporting schools were: Hawthorn Intermediate School, Vernon Hills; Wayne Thomas School, Highland Park; Hawthorn Middle School, Vernon Hills; Oak Grove School, Green Oaks; Arnett Lines School, Barrington; Butterfield

School, Libertyville; Copeland Manor School, Libertyville; Woodview School, Grayslake; Gurnee Grade School, Gurnee; and Wilmot School, Deerfield.

Winning schools reported weekly attendance rates ranging from 98.87 to 97.70 percent in total attendance for the week. Each school in the top 10 received a certificate of achievement from the regional superintendent's office and each of the participating schools received a certificate of participation.

The importance of school attendance was emphasized during this special week by the school and community. The success of the week was a direct result of everyone's participation.

A DIGEST OF STORIES MAKING HEADLINES THROUGHOUT OUR REGION

Board challenges car dealer

Gurnee—Rosen Motors will have to adjust its lighting plan if it wishes to keep its Gurnee dealership on track.

The issue came to trustees for a second time as Rosen requested a two-week delay in approval of the amendment to the annexation agreement. Rosen is moving Honda and Lincoln-Mercury dealerships to Brookside in west Gurnee from Waukegan.

"This issue has far-reaching affects on all of west Grand and how it relates to the whole corridor," trustee Tom Chamberlain.

He wished to have the matter turned back to the plan commission, but that attempt was defeated. Rosen is expected to present a new lighting scheme at the Oct. 20 village board meeting.

"At least give them a hearing. It is under construction - they deserve an answer," Gurnee Mayor Richard Welton said.

If the Oct. 20 proposal does not meet board requirements, it could be sent back to the plan commission then.

Lions plan pancake breakfast

Lake Villa—Lake Villa Township Lions Club will sponsor their Annual Fall Pancake Breakfast and Bake Sale Sunday, Oct. 26 from 7:30 a.m. to noon.

The breakfast will be at the Lindenhurst Civic Center at 1949 Old Elm Road.

The breakfast is an All-You-Can-Eat meal for $3.50 a person. Children under 6 are free of cost.

Tickets are available from Linden Barber Shop, Lindenhurst Park District, Bill Stanley's American Family Insurance in Lake Villa, and Michelle Wolf's State Farm Insurance in Lindenhurst.

Referendum committee still working

Libertyville—"Every vote counts."

That's part of the message the Community High School District 128 Citizens' Referendum Committee is making sure voters hear before the Nov. 5 election.

They are also helping to make sure the public is well educated on the proposed referendum which will plot the course for future high school students.

On Nov. 5, voters in the district will be asked to approve a $48.5 million referendum for the construction of a second, four-year high school in the southern part of the district, and for major renovations of the Butler Lake building.

Alex Delli Paoli, chair of the referendum committee, said the committee is in the home stretch—only three weeks away from the election—but far from being finished.

Park District seeks volunteers

Lindenhurst—Volunteers who wish to help with the Lindenhurst Park District's Annual Haunted Trail and Bonfire can attend an Oct. 22 meeting at 6 p.m. at the Lindenhurst Community Center for instruction.

Adult volunteers can help manage the October 25 park district evening's program and provide district employees with assistance.

The Annual Haunted Trail and Bonfire unfolds at Forest View Park. Events include costume judging, the haunted trail, and a bonfire to watch with warm apple cider to drink.

Participants can have their picture taken with Viola Swamp at the Park District's Witches Kitchen.

The park district also has scheduled tractor drawn hayrides in adjacent McDonald Woods Forest Preserve.

The Haunted Trail is 4 to 6 p.m. for families and children 6 years old and younger. Children 7 years old and older may go through the trail from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. The hay wagon ride is 4 to 6 p.m. for all ages.

Families are encouraged to bring one canned food item. The hospitality donation for the trail ride is $1.

Village flag flies over Chicago

Wauconda—The Village flag is flying high above Chicago all this week as part of a once-in-a-lifetime display of Illinois City Flags. The display is being held in conjunction with the 31st annual Convention of the North American Vexillological Association.

Village Administrative Assistant Joanne Brandt donated one of the Village's Flags for the display, which will become part of the collection of Rich Kenny, a researcher and collector of U.S. City Flags, which one day will be donated to the Smith-

A ceremony will be held on Saturday, Oct. 11, at 2 p.m., in front of the Advertising Flag Co., 3801 Ashland Ave., in Chicago.

Cinema to host public meeting

Mundelein—A different kind of show will be presented at the Mundelein Cinema, 155 N. Seymour Ave., on Wednesday, Oct. 15.

Instead of showing one of the top films of the season, the Cinema will be open for a Mundelein Village public meeting to have a presentation of the downtown redevelopment master plan, designed by the Hitchcock Design Group of Naperville.

The meeting will start at 7:30 p.m. Mayor Marilyn Sindles said all Mundelein business owners, Mundelein Pride members and any interested residents are invited to attend.

Teachers contract ratified

Grayslake—The teachers in District 46 have a new five year contract but the road to getting it was rocky.

The teacher's union approved the contract over a week ago. The Board of Education voted Monday, Oct. 6 in favor of the contract 5-2 with board members Hal Berger and Peter Heffernan abstaining.

Before voting Berger said he thinks contract agreed upon was fiscally irresponsible because no five year budget projections were done by the district's business manager. Heffernan said he shared some of the discomfort.

Board negotiator Carol Eglsaer said they did have calculations in salary costs for years four and five of the contract.

The contract will provide the teachers with an average raise of 6 percent for the current year and 5 percent for the remainder of the contract. Starting salaries will increase two workdays for training with additional pay were added, insurance contributions will rise and a retirement incentive plan will begin in the spring of 1998.

Fourth grader saves friend's life

Antioch—He is only 9 years old, but already he has saved a person's life.

On Sept. 30, near 6 p.m., Zachary Gillengerten, 6, took his first bike ride down a hill in a field that he and Mike Lodesky, 9, played in. Gillengerten fell from his bicycle in a way that caused part of the bicycle to cut his inside, upper thigh area so badly that his body began to drain of blood.

Lodesky ran for help as he was taught to do in school by the 1st Fire Protection District-Antioch Fire Department. He run for Zach's mom, Carol Gillengerten to get professional emergency medical help.

Zach lost a great deal of blood and underwent surgery. He has now returned home and is walking.

11-year-old shots hole-in-one

Antioch—Jeffrey Grom, 11, of Ingleside, shot a hole-in-one, Sept. 27 at the Antioch Golf Course.

Jeffrey and his brother, Larry, who is on the Grant High School Golf Team, were playing the course's 163-yard Ninth Hole when it happened.

"We weren't sure it was on the green," Jeffrey said of his shot. "When we went over to see, we couldn't see the ball, so we checked the cup."

And there it was - a hole-in-one!

Jeffrey, who attends grade school at St. Mary's in Fremont, took up the game of golf at age 5 and plays regularly at Hickory Knoll and Spring Valley, as well as Antioch.

Residents don't want restaurant

Spring Grove—A new up-scale restaurant proposed for Spring Grove's Fox Woods is proving to be a hard sell to nearby Orchard Bluff Estate residents, who feel its creation would hurt their financial and social investment in the community.

"We cannot be cut off simply because one man has made an unwise investment," said Orchard Bluff resident Susan Meyers at the Spring Grove Village Board meeting of Oct. 7, concerning a requested special use for the Fox Woods ski lodge to be the new home of the Ashton Hill Restaurant.

The meeting, attended by more than 50 area residents, formed round two for the project which has been rejected by the village's Zoning Board of Appeals.

Attempting to alter the village board's decision, attorney Neil Anderson, representing developer Nick Farshchi, outlined new plans for the business, proposed for the large building at the corner of Holian Drive and Cherrywood Lane.

Quality is goal for convention center

Gurnee—There could be a touch of Chicago's United Center or perhaps baseball's Oriole Park at Camden Yards, or perhaps a concept or two borrowed from an Olympic Village look.

All are possibilities in future planning for one of the last large tracks of land in Gurnee—136 acres north of Washington Street and west of Six Flags Great America. The area will come under careful review from a 26-member event center blue ribbon committee, which held its first of several meetings.

The same Kansas City architectural firm which designed Baltimore's baseball park, Devine, Flawn and Yeager, is part of Prism Development's team of experts exploring uses. A Hawaii based architectural firm is also involved.

Land battle may set precedent

Mundelein—Mundelein has a precedent setting case on its hands, according to Village Attorney Charles Marino.

The case involves the annexation battle between Mundelein and Vernon Hill and the 7 acres of property located midway between Milwaukee Avenue and Butterfield Road along the Elgin, Joliet & Eastern rail road tracks both annexed three years ago.

The question before the 2nd District Illinois Appellate Court is if one municipality can annex property owned by another municipality.

Mundelein annexed the unincorporated Libertyville Township property one day before Vernon Hills officials annexed the land as part of a -acre parcel, on which the 2,100-home Greg's Landing development is built and surrounds the property on three sides.

A decision from the court by the end of the year. A Lake County Circuit Court Judge ruled the case in favor of Vernon Hills in 1996.

Research for free should be welcomed, not discouraged

The hard-working members of the Natural Resources Subcommittee of the Lake County Board's Planning, Building and Zoning Committee deserve recognition for their volunteer efforts to improve natural resource provisions in county codes.

In an era when studies mean big bucks in taxpayer expenditures to consulting firms, this subcommittee's research didn't cost the taxpayers one dime.

Instead it did what many taxpayers are clamoring for—it got politicians working harder, for free.

Spearheaded by a professional forester, County Board Member Al Westerman (R-Waukegan), the subcommittee worked for six weeks to draft provisions that would better protect the county's floodplains and floodways; streams, lakes, ponds and wetlands, soils and steep slopes; woodlands and significant trees; and endangered species and open space.

County Board Member Carol Calabrese (R-Libertyville) obtained comparable ordinances from counties in Illinois, Wisconsin, Maryland, Oregon and other states.

County Board Member Sandy Cole (R-Wildwood) put her experience with the Lake County Soil and Water Conservation District to good use knowing that natural resource provisions exist but aren't always enforced.

County Board Members Martha Marks (R-Riverwoods), Judy Martini (R-Antioch) and Suzi Schmidt (R-Lake Villa) called on their years of work in protecting the natural environment of the county and researched the wishes of constituents for input on the standards.

Perhaps even more remarkable than the lack of money spent on the project was the speed in which the results were delivered—six weeks.

Planning and Zoning Committee Chair Pam Newton (R-Vernon Hills) should also get a pat on the back for allowing these individuals to work together and provide input for the writing of the county's new Unified Development Ordinance.

Now the snag, the subcommittee is "not official." The planning, building and zoning committee did not appoint the subcommittee and since no public notices, minutes or record-keeping was done, the group cannot be declared an official committee. These are the rules of government, according to internal documents drafted by the county department head, Barry Hokason. Let us hope that the rules of government do not serve as an excuse to keep this valuable information from being incorporated into the UDO.

Afterall, how often does the county, or any government entity, get a valuable report in six weeks time at no cost.

Hands-off stance hinders leadership

As a common practice, school board members shy away from land use questions, especially those hinging on growth and development. This policy leads to continuing community tension and mounting frustration on the part of taxpayers who understand the relationship between rooftops and the growing cost of public education.

Discourse at a recent meeting of the Wauconda Unit School board illustrates the "hands off" stance preferred by the typical school board member on controlling growth through school policy. A citizen set the stage for debate by inquiring whether school officials ever considered opposing new housing developments to lessen pressure on need for more classrooms. The classic suburban dilemma.

Nancy Pez, board president, threw cold water on the suggestion of opposing growth. "We do not make decisions on what comes into our district," Pez stated. Board member Tom Weber tossed the hot potato to village government. Board member Nancy Dobner saw the role of school officials only as supplying input on impact of growth.

By taking a "hands-off" stance, school board members help create a vacuum on one of the most pressing public issues in suburbia today. They're more bystanders than leaders.

VIEWPOINT

Room with view or room to sleep?

BILL SCHROEDER
Publisher

Waukegan is banking on geography as a significant plus to land a hotel/convention in a race where Gurnee has jumped into a significant lead with revelation of the Time-Warner Inc. plan to build on land abutting I-94.

It took crusty Waukegan Ald. Ray Vukovich to illustrate a county seat feature. "There's a big difference between a million-dollar view overlooking Lake Michigan and looking at the Tri-State." Chalk one up for Ray. Advantage Waukegan.

But who's going to get the hotel-convention complex first? Gurnee, in a walk. Gurnee has all the necessities—property owner with deep pockets, a track record for getting things done, necessary political connections and location, location, location.

Rooms with a view are nice, especially if you're bunking in Hawaii or the Swiss Alps. Otherwise, what difference does it make where you sleep, especially if lights of passing traffic don't bother?

Great shots

Members of Lake Barrington Shores Golf Club will be talking about the summer of 1997 for a long time. In a span of only four days, five holes in one were recorded, the most prolific run of shot-making in Lake County golf history.

First, Tim Hogan aced the 8th hole. Then Ed Puls holed out on the 16th. The following day, Joe Mogle made a hole in one on the 8th; later the same day Carol Barnical needed only one swing to finish 16. Two days later Roger Tintner put up another ace on No. 8.

Where are parents?

On opposite sides of the county last week, speakers called for more citizen involvement and parental participation in solving problems of education and youth. Jamie Vollmer, who criss-crosses the nation speaking to school groups, said Antioch parents need to tell educators what they want from public schooling for their children. "But don't say, back to basics. Kids would be lost today if all they were taught was math, reading and writing." In Waukegan, heightened parental responsibility was cited as a means to reducing gang violence. Police Chief Scott Burleson said police crackdowns on truancy and curfew violations contributed to a 11 percent decrease in crime. Truancy and curfew are parental responsibilities.

Buying a name

tion ratings, State Sen. Peter Fitzgerald (R-Palatine) is pouring out cash in unprecedented amounts for television commercials touting his candidacy for the Republican nomination for U.S. Senator in the March 17 primary. Fitzgerald, a conservative and hailing from a banking family, is regarded as one of the wealthiest persons ever to get involved in Illinois politics. Fitzgerald's strategy is two-fold: all the money gets voters attention while at the same time scaring off would-be opponents. On both counts, Fitzgerald wins.

Living alone

Despite official denials, stories persist in and around Lindenhurst of more unsavory characters "living" in McDonald Woods, where an 18-year-old lurked before murdering a senior citizen who lived alone. If authorities can't flush the supposed forest dwellers, the weatherman certainly will. Forest rangers do a thorough job of alerting the law-abiding to depart preserves before darkness.

One man's family

If it's too late for the season, maybe it's an early Christmas gift. Pop's new golf club. Golfers and fishermen share a characteristic. They're susceptible to the latest lure. In this case, the temptation was a fairway wood designed to get you up and out of nasty lies—at the same time adding significant yardage. Too good to be true? I'll have to wait until next season to find out.

COMMENTARY

Promise Keepers seeks to end America's moral decline

By DAVID M. GROLEAU

Regardless of the various opinions drawn regarding the Promise Keepers' (PK) Sacred Assembly held Oct. 4 in Washington, D.C., one conclusion is certain, the majority of media sources do not have any idea how to deal with this.

As I stood, knelt, sang, prayed (hands clasped with an African-American brother), and sometimes laid out prostrate in confessional prayer, I sensed a smile from God upon our Nation's capital, perhaps like never before in history.

The estimated 200,000 that listened to Dr. Martin Luther King's stirring call for racial reform in 1963 catapulted significant social changes.

The more recent "Million Man March" attracted less than a half million according to D.C. park authorities. Whether Louis Farrakhan succeeded depends, I suppose, far more on what he was trying to accomplish than the numbers. And while the National Park Service has refused to issue a count, and Promise Keepers has announced that the numbers don't really matter, it is vitally significant that 1.5 to 2 million men descended upon

Washington for a worship service.

Never before in our Nation's history has such a turn-out occurred. With no political agenda and nothing to protest, I think PK founder Bill McCartney summarized well just what at least 1.5 million men believe:

"We are a nation whose morality has been on a downward spiral for an extended period of time now, and as men of God that professed Jesus Christ in this nation, we realize that we have dropped the ball... We've not been the saving light in society that the Lord requires... We believe solutions are in the hands of a holy, almighty, righteous God." (interview in The Washington Post, Oct. 4)

Saturday's "Sacred Assembly" focused on four major areas.

First, unreserved adoration of and commitment to the sovereign God who has sent his son Jesus to pay for our sins on the cross. Unless God is allowed to reign supreme in our lives, we will continue to allow pride, selfishness, and immorality to influence us. Unless a person yields Lordship to Jesus Christ, confessing sin and inviting him to cleanse and change, then no further promises are able to be kept.

Promise Keepers does not seek to exclude other expressions of religion in our pluralistic society, but it does unabashedly label itself as a "scriptural" movement, proclaiming the words of Jesus from John's gospel, Chapter 3, Verse 7, "You must be born again." Literally thousands made the decision to follow Jesus Christ from Washington.

Secondly, renewed dedication to become a servant to our wives, families, and the broader communities in which we live. I found myself overwhelmed with emotion, face down in foot-worn grasses, confessing my own shortcomings as well as identifying with a nation of macho-hungry males accustomed to using privileged roles to often abuse and subjugate women.

Patricia Ireland, president of NOW (National Organization of Women), has been perhaps the loudest antagonist, decrying PK in its appeal to Ephesians 5:22, "Wives, be submissive to your husbands." Most of us choose to submit to our employer, to the police officer who pulls us over for speeding, to the scheduling of the school that our children attend. We choose to do so because submission will result in benefits to us. The Ephesian text

PARTY LINES

PARTY LINES, THE LAKELAND NEWSPAPERS' COLUMN OF POLITICAL OPINION, IS PREPARED FROM STAFF REPORTS.

Many waiting in Verna's wings

A report is circulating that State Rep. Verna Clayton (R-Buffalo Grove) would like to step out of public life—like she wanted to two years ago when Republican brass leaned on her to run for re-election to head off the bid of Atty. Mike Salvi to succeed her. If Verna is successful this time in heading for retirement in South Carolina, two public offices will be at stake. That's because her husband, Frank, was elected Vernon Township Highway Commissioner last April.

County Board Rep. David Stolman (R-Buffalo Grove) is itching to succeed Clayton. Stolman won't run, though, while the long-time GOP leader holds the seat in the 51st District which includes the Lake County portion of Buffalo Grove, Long Grove and Lake Zurich.

Hess watch

Friends keep saying Linda Hess is serious about returning to public life. They insist she would be the best Democratic hope to challenge incumbent county Clerk Willard Helander, who gets indigestion every time the former popular county clerk's name is mentioned. Democratic leaders say their 1998 slate will be put together before the end of October.

Making music

Rock fans are wondering if APB is going to break out of political benefits and police retirements. The band made up of police officers contributed to a lively time last week at Judge Barbara Gilleran Johnson's fund raiser at Julies on Milwaukee Ave. In law enforcement parlance, APB stands for All Point Bulletin. We're not sure if the rockin' cops have a different meaning.

Clayton: Time to retire, again?

Geo-Karls: Ready to ship out

Lofreddo takes pride in his village's Metra station being the cleanest on the North Central Line. Lofreddo won't settle for anything less and he regularly assigns himself broom and mop duties.

Sea Duty

Lake County's Grand Dame of politics, State Senator Adeline Jay Geo-Karls (R-Zion), was the highlight of the dedication ceremony for the nation's newest Reserve Center at Great Lakes, Saturday. The World War II Navy veteran said she is always ready to return to duty for the country she emigrated to as a child.

"I would have worn my whites, but it's been a long time since I was 23," Geo-Karls quipped.

Naval Training Center Commander Adm. Kevin Green autographed her program saying: "Stand by for orders to sea duty, we need your vision and support."

Also on hand was County Board Member Bob Neal (R-Wadsworth) who is a Lieutenant in the Naval Reserve.

Congratulations go out this week to County Board Member Pam Newton (R-Vernon Hills) on her Oct. 4 wedding. Newton arrived at the ceremony at the Cuneo gardens in a horse-drawn carriage with bagpipers playing in the background.

The guest list was a virtual who's who of Lake County politics. Among the guest seated at one table were: Bob Depke, Bob Grever, Ike Magalis and Rudy Magna. The list crossed all political boundaries, Democratic State Senator Terry Link was also in attendance.

We hear Newton was stunning.

Making pasta

Tom Clement, who has become the heart and soul of the Waukegan Township Republican organization, and Gilda Torres are organizing ticket sellers for an annual spaghetti fest Friday, Oct. 31. Serving will be at the American Legion Post. Tom and Gilda say their pasta party is one GOP event that won't bend your wallet. Call them at 249-2479 or 662-1258 for tickets that will feed the whole family.

The American voters are scary sometimes

As Bill Clinton waffles through his second term as president, I keep thinking, "Wouldn't it have been much more Americana, more mom and apple pie, had the voters been astute enough to elect Bob Dole last November?"

And, in 1992, to have realized George Bush was a more sensible choice than Clinton?

In the 1950s musical, "Call Me Madam," the star of the show (based on Perle Mesta's life as a Washington, D.C., hostess) got show-stopping laughs with the punch line, "The American voters sure scare the hell out of you sometimes!"

A recent article in Advertising Age magazine discusses how Dole, once portrayed as mean-spirited by comedians, is having a rebirth as a tongue-in-cheek straight man in four major-market ad campaigns.

He wasn't soliciting such work, but Dole has been snapped up by Air France, Visa, Target Stores and Dunkin' Donuts.

In Visa's commercial, which has won awards, the veteran U.S. senator returns to his Russell, Kan., hometown to warm greetings until he tries to pay by check. "I just can't win," deadpans Dole.

"That's part of his humor," says an ad executive. "That dour exterior, and then funny things come out of his mouth."

"We are now finally getting to see the real Bob Dole," says another.

Dole reports: "I've gotten a lot of mail saying, 'I wish I'd known you were like this, I would have voted for you.' I could have used some of these advertising people in the campaign."

Clinton's election victories, and his current 60 percent approval rating, strike me as the scariest voter shenanigans since 1964 when an uncouth Lyndon Baines Johnson was elected by a landslide over Barry Goldwater.

THE PFARR CORNER

Jerry Pfarr

Thirty-three years later it's still bewildering. One of Johnson's biographers, Ronnie Dugger, described LBJ as rude, vindictive, maudlin, selfish and vicious.

In Goldwater's autobiography, he had this to say:

"Johnson was a dirty fighter, and treacherous. He'd slap you on the back today and stab you in the back tomorrow."

Indeed, during the campaign, in vicious television commercials Goldwater was branded as a trigger-happy warmonger and a nuclear madman. And the voters bought it.

David Brinkley, on his TV show earlier this year, recalled a chat he had with Johnson. "The Lyndon Johnson Presidential Library has released tapes of his telephone conversations during the Vietnam War," Brinkley said. "On one tape, he said to his national security advisor, 'The war is the biggest damn mess I ever saw. I don't think it's worth fighting and I don't think we're going to get out.'"

"So the war went on," said Brinkley. "In this period I was invited for a weekend with Johnson and others at his Camp David hideaway. After dinner we sat around talking, mostly about the war. And someone said, 'Mr. President, you say you can't win, and young American men are dying. Why don't you just end it?'"

"Johnson stared into the fireplace for a time and then said, in words I have not forgotten, 'I will not be the first American president to lose a war.'"

"As it turned out, he was."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Gurnee Pool request 'rightsized'

On Aug. 26, the Gurnee Park District board voted unanimously to ask voters this fall to approve a $6.9 million referendum for the construction of a state-of-the-art outdoor swimming pool and an adjoining small recreational building. This proposal has been scaled down substantially from the $21 million project presented to voters last April. I was strongly opposed to the original April referendum.

I applaud the park board for their positive response to the citizens of the community who voted to reject the former proposal and to the citizens advisory committee who recommended the new one. The new proposal possesses several attributes which make its passage this fall an important step for our community.

1. The proposal does not include a private medical entity. The facility will be totally owned and controlled by the citizens of the park district.

2. The project includes a state-of-the-art swimming pool which a community of our size and character should have. The swimming facility at $4.7 million makes up a majority of the project cost.

3. The swimming pool will include amenities which make it attractive for users. The revenues generated from expected user fees will more than offset its operational costs.

4. The new proposal eliminated the double gymnasium, the indoor swimming pool and excessive office space. These facilities generate high operational costs which are not typically offset by user fees and require continuous tax subsidies.

5. The adjoining multipurpose building will provide much needed space for the extension of programs and facilities presently existing at Viking Park. Viking Park will continue to operate and will be improved and expanded in the future through existing capital funding.

6. The lower cost of the new proposal substantially reduces the increased tax burden from the original $80 per year for 20 years to $43 per year for 17 years for a home valued at $200,000. The project will surely have a positive effect on property values, probably in excess of the increased tax burden.

I urge my fellow citizens to support this new proposal. Your vote in the last referendum surely sent a message. Let's show the park board that we appreciate their listening to our voice by voting yes to their new proposal this November.

Dist. 41 used money properly

Mr. Warrender and BEST is at it again. His letters are well written but full of half truths. School District 41 clearly said in its last referendum that the money raised was only used for the education fund. The influx of students require more teachers, books and materials. School District 41 used the money as they promised. This money could not be used to build new classrooms due to state accounting rules on school funds. And to all those who asked if a building referendum was in the future, we, the community committee, honestly answered "We weren't sure but probably." School districts can only set impact fees but do not have the authority to collect these fees. Only villages can collect the fees. While Lindenhurst and Lake Villa are faithful in enforcing these fees, the same cannot be said for the other villages within School District 41 boundaries.

Mr. Warrender is correct in stating that the developers get off relatively easy. It is the villages and the township officials who approve the building within our communities, not School District 41. Mr. Warrender should spend his efforts in these elections and let the people of School District 41, of which he is not, decide what they wish to do. Once more, people outside of the district are interfering with the people inside the district.

goes on to say that husbands should "love their wives as Christ loved the church and gave Himself up for her." Christ died for the church. And he said the greatest leader would be the ultimate servant (cf. Mark 10:42-45).

A society that attempts to eliminate all buck stops here signs will soon be in chaos. Christendom teaches a Triune God, equal in all respect. Yet Jesus submits to the Father. The Bible teaches that husbands and wives are "co-heirs of the grace of life" (1 Peter 3:7). A Tribune editorial (Oct. 6) chastised PK for taking women out of the workplace. Another editorial (Sept. 28) complained that PK says no women can be Pastors. After attending PK events for over four years now, and having read much of their material, I simply cannot find that kind of teaching. Plainly, as we did in Washington on Saturday PK is a taking men to task for abdication of responsibility in our homes and communities, nothing more, nothing less.

Third and fourth, at Saturday's worship service we collectively admitted that divisions among those calling themselves Christian have hindered the church far more than any attacks from the outside. We have divided over minor religious distinctions. This is called denominationalism. If the Bible allows for diversity in peripheral practices such as baptism and forms of worship, then so should we. We have divided over racial distinctions. Yet scripture itself declares that God made all peoples from "one blood" (Acts 17:26). God isn't color blind. He created the rainbow. Let us accept each other.

Promise Keepers does have an agenda. It is a goal to enlarge the church of Jesus Christ by strengthening the family network through committed men. I know of very few who embrace every statement and every nuance. But it seems to me that the priorities endorsed by PK are smiled upon by God. It's the smile one senses when prostrate between the Capital building and the Washington Monument. It's the smile sensed when a person loves their neighbor as they love themselves. It's the smile that's reflected from a child in mom or dad's lap.

Former Colorado football coach Bill McCartney didn't lose much when resigning to commit more time to his family and a religious movement. He has identified the moral and ethical decay of our culture. And he is hoping to bring back the smile.

Where would we wander without 'W'?

The letter W may have begun life as an M that got turned over on its back. Rumor has it that it actually started as two U's. I can't confirm either of these statements as fact. We do know that W ranks so low in the alphabet that only X, Y and Z come after it. Yes, the letter W is a lowly one at first glance.

However, it's a pretty important little letter if you look more closely. Think of all the good questions we would lose without where, why, when and what. We'd have no weather, wind or world. How would we survive without water, walls or wages?

While we wouldn't be hungry, I'd sure miss my waffles, wieners and watermelon. Nothing would be wonderful without old W.

Here are some W words I'd hate to live without.

• Words. Where would a writer be without words to express the thoughts that burn within? Words are the medium we use to exchange ideas, express ourselves and convey clearly the pictures we form in our minds. Henry Ward Beecher said, "All words are pegs to hang ideas on."

Words are the currency of an educated society. However, like money, words are of little value if not used in a way beneficial to mankind.

• Wisdom. My dictionary defines wisdom as "the power of judging rightly and following the soundest course of action, based on knowledge, experience, understanding, etc." With this one powerful word we may obtain much.

• Work. The poet, Robert Frost, said, "The world is filled with willing people; some willing to work, the rest willing to let them." I find it ironic that one of our hardest working presidents and one of America's great writers both had negative things to say about work. Abraham Lincoln said, "My father taught me to work, but not to love it. I never did like work, and I don't deny it. I'd rather read, tell stories, crack jokes, talk, laugh—anything but work." Mark Twain said, "I do not like work even when someone else does it."

Personally, I enjoy working. I've been fortunate to find work that is rewarding, meaningful and fun. I cannot imagine a life of doing something I hated.

• Wit. William Hazlitt said, "Wit is the salt of conversation, not the food." I agree, and would say that nothing spices up a good speech or the written word like a little wit.

To me, wit is the ability to see the funny side of even serious events, and then to enjoy the humor therein. Will Rogers was one of the America's greatest wits. He once said of his wit, "There's no trick to being a humorist when you have the whole government working for you."

• Women. I owe a lot to two women who love me. My mother who launched me on the sea of life and my wife who serves both as my rudder and anchor. No man on this earth would exist without the sacrifice of a woman. Thank you, ladies for your love and caring ways.

• Wealth. Ralph Waldo Emerson said, "Without a rich heart wealth is an ugly beggar." I guess you might paraphrase that by saying that to enjoy wealth completely, you must be willing to give it away.

I believe the true joy of acquiring wealth is the ability to use it for good. This I know for certain: you won't carry your wealth with you when you die.

SBA seeks nominations for 1998 'Small Business Person for the Year'

Do you or someone you know have what it takes to become America's "Small Business Person of the Year" for 1998? If so, the U.S. Small Business Administration wants to hear from you.

"The small business person represents the modern American Dream—the chance for someone with an idea and a goal to make the fullest use of his or her own abilities by taking that goal, that dream, and making something very real out of it. Small Business Week is an opportunity for all of us to acknowledge with pride and gratitude the contributions made by America's small business community to our nation's economic growth and quality of life," said Aida Alvarez, SBA's administrator.

Each year since 1963, the president has designated one week as National Small Business Week in recognition of the small business community's contributions to the American economy. Small businesses today, some 22 million strong, generate more than 47 percent of all sales in this country, 51 percent of our domestic private sector output and about 55 percent of all innovations. Small businesses also lead the nation in job creation, providing about two-thirds of all new jobs.

Business owners from every state, the Dist. of Columbia, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands and Guam, who have been named as their state's "Small Business Person of the Year," travel to Washington for three days of small business-related activities and meetings with government officials.

One of the state winners is chosen as the national "Small Business Person of the Year."

Traditionally, the national winner is announced during a White House ceremony.

Each state's Small Business Person of the Year must meet criteria which include staying power, growth in employment, increase in sales/unit volume, innovation, response to adversity, and evidence of contributions to his/her community.

Advocate awards are also presented to persons who have used their professional skills or personal talents to further public understanding and awareness of small business. Candidates must have taken an active role in creating opportunities to promote the interests of small business.

Advocate categories include: Women in Business, Minority, Veteran, Accountant, Financial Services, and Media. An advocate winner may or may not be an entrepreneur.

Special awards are also presented to the Small Business Exporter and SBA Young Entrepreneur of the Year, and the Federal Government Prime Contractor and Subcontractor of the Year. Large companies that started as small businesses are also honored with the Entrepreneurial Success Award.

Nominations in the Small Business Person of the Year, Advocates of the Year and special Small Business Week award categories can be made by any individual, or organizations such as professional and trade associations, business organizations, Chambers of Commerce, banks, or small business' employees.

All nominations must be received by the SBA district office no later than Nov. 3.

To obtain information on completing a nomination package, call the SBA's Chicago District Office at (312)886-0705.

Temporary staffing may be solution

Temporary work has changed—permanently.

What used to be a short-term solution for peak production periods and temporary coverage for sick or vacationing employees is now a permanent and integral part of many businesses' workforce strategies. According to the National Assn. of Temporary and Staffing Services, which is celebrating National Temporary Help Week Oct. 13 to 18, more than 90 percent of U.S. businesses use external staffing services.

"Temporary staffing has become a solution that works for both companies and employees," says Rocco Aceto, president of CORESTAFF Services, one of the nation's leading staffing companies. "Employers are outsourcing non-core functions on a long-term basis as a way to manage a variable workload, reduce fixed costs, and improve productivity."

"Workers, on the other hand, are turning to temporary employment to achieve the flexibility to balance work and family responsibilities," he adds.

Aceto points out that the stereotype of temporary work as a stopgap between "real" jobs is far from accurate. "Eight out of 10 of our associates choose temporary employment as their career choice," he says. "It is a great choice for people who want more time with their children or freedom to travel—or for someone who thrives on variety."

Temporary jobs also come in more shapes and sizes than ever before. "People are surprised at the range of jobs we offer," Aceto says. "Our associates include library scientists, computer professionals, accountants and graphic designers."

The percentage of the workforce employed in temporary jobs has doubled in the past decade, from 7 percent in 1985 to an estimated 1.78 percent in 1995.

In 1996, the temporary staffing industry generated revenues of more than $47 billion.

"More and more, businesses are starting to realize that effective use of temporary staffing can increase productivity and profit levels," says Aceto. "And employees are finding that it helps them achieve their personal goals as well."

One-of-a-kind program helping hungry Americans

The Pampered Chef, a multi-million-dollar direct-selling company that markets kitchen products through in-home cooking demonstrations, has launched its annual Round-Up from the Heart corporate-giving program.

This unique program is a team effort between The Pampered Chef's customers, independent contractors, corporate employees, and Second Harvest, the largest hunger-relief organization in the United States. Last year's $500,000 donation brought the Round-Up program's six-year total to $1.8 million, which is more than any other sponsor in Second Harvest's history.

The Pampered Chef's 35,000 independent contractors across the country promote the Round-Up from the Heart program during the shows they conduct now through Dec. 31. Customers contribute to the program by rounding up their purchase totals to the nearest dollar or more. An estimated 325,000 customers have participated since the program was initiated in 1991. These funds are then sent to Second Harvest food banks in the region where the donations originate, making this a national program with a local impact.

Customers can also purchase a special collectors cookie mold and The Pampered Chef will donate $1 for each mold that is purchased.

"We remain enthusiastic that as a company, we can help make a difference in people's lives," says The Pampered Chef president and founder Doris Christopher. "Our partnership with Second Harvest has helped us identify the proper channels for helping to solve the growing hunger crisis in America."

For more information on this program, contact Christine Span of Round Lake Beach, at 740-9182.

Conservation message key factor of Bass Pro image

When Bass Pro officially opens its doors on Nov. 19, it will be more than just a place to purchase hunting and fishing equipment.

The Gurnee Mills site will have regional implications, boosting the annual tourists visit to the 15-20 million person level.

More than 300 jobs will be available, with more than half going to local residents.

Conservation continues to be the message of the Missouri-based giant.

"We are about hunting, boating and having fun and also to preserve nature. We all live downstream from somebody. We believe in that theory," Jeff Baars, general manager, said.

Baars said Bass Pro and representatives from Lake County Forest Preserve and Dept. of Natural Resources have been meeting to discuss ways of enhancing conservation education.

An area will be set aside for seminars and demonstrations by hunting and fishing professionals.

"Our message is we want to enjoy the outdoors and make it meaningful," Baars said.

"Bass Pro could bring as many as five million visitors to the area and have a major impact on the economy," Gurnee Mayor Richard Welton said.

When visitors enter Bass Pro, the first sights will be wildlife photos and a three-story waterfall, a 30,000 gallon aquarium stocked with fish, two bridges over a pond and more.

There is a section for boats, recreational vehicles, golf, and a restaurant which will serve buffalo burgers.

Stores carry Bass Pro's line of clothing as well as other clothing. The 25-year-old Bass Pro was founded by well-known conservationist Johnny Morris. It has locations in Missouri, Atlanta and is expanding into Nashville, Tenn., Texas and the Florida Keys.

"The Gurnee site will be the prototype of the ones to come," Baars said.

The site will have archery and rifle shooting ranges.

Bass Pro will employ 350 associates with 24 managers.

"We are looking for people with experience in the outdoors," Baars said.

The Gurnee Mills site is part of a $20-25 million reinvestment in six-year old mills.

US Microdyne now offers evening home service repairs

In a savvy move to revolutionize service to the home pc user, US Microdyne has taken Lake County by storm in offering its new evening home service for pc repairs, upgrades and training.

In using the same tact employed by the hi-tech giants of the '70s, US Microdyne is now responding to pc users needs with specialty service at commodity pricing. "The days of the computer being the exclusive province of libraries, scientists and techies are long over," says Vincent E. Christy, president of US Microdyne.

"Size, ease of use, and affordability have created a new mainstream commodity requiring the need for service that is convenient to the small office, home office or recreational home pc user, in an existing deluge of superstore madness."

Being no stranger to the Chicagoland area for over 16 years, US Microdyne has built its reputation on being able to provide its clients with the innovative "one-stop" computer services required in an ever-changing technological climate. And their customers seem to agree. Says one Lindenhurst resident, "The service was worth every cent to actually be able to sit and talk to a knowledgeable, experienced technician in my own home, and have the problem taken care of at the same time."

A Beach Park client recently compared himself as a former superstore victim: disassembling his machine, hauling it in and waiting for several weeks in order to be told, "we don't know what's wrong, and have to send it to our service center." Others state that with their reliance on their computer, service in an immediate need and not something that can wait a week or two.

US Microdyne is currently negotiating with radio station WKRS/WXLC to provide a monthly program that would assist call-in listeners with computer questions regarding hardware, software, and service issues.

In addition to servicing its business clients during the day, US Microdyne offers same-evening home service if contacted prior to 3 p.m. and next evening service after 3 p.m. Emergency service is also available for time sensitive situations.

For further information on US Microdyne located at 2275 Half Day Rd., Suite 350, Bannockburn, call 1(800)828-3859.

Air-Tech offers easy getaway plan

How about a jaunt to Europe from the Chicago area for only $189 one way? Or fly round trip to the Caribbean or even Mexico for $250?

These low fares are readily found through space-available companies, such as Air-Tech, which locates unsold seats from major airlines every day, and matches them up with the needs of passengers who have registered with them. It's a green approach to recycling seats which would otherwise go out empty.

Recommended by noted discount travel guru Arthur Frommer, space-available travel appeals to retired travelers, college students and anyone with a schedule flexible enough to travel within a three day time frame.

It works like this: Passengers register with Air-Tech, buy a flight pass from them, tell them where they want to go and give a three or four day window when they're ready to fly. They call the company on the

Wednesday before their travel window begins and find out which flights and seats are available to match their travel plans.

After that, it's simply a matter of going to a nearby airport to catch their flight. For the return trip travelers do the same thing.

Chances of getting a direct flight from the Chicago area within a one to four day travel window are great—the company has a success rate of 97 percent. But their success is based on a flexible traveler. People who travel this way are prepared to fly on Monday rather than Tuesday, or arrive in Rome instead of Paris. It's for those who simply want to get away, know roughly what part of the earth they want to go to, and can choose their exact destination when they get there. Passengers who can't get a flight in their time frame can reschedule or get a refund.

Those with less flexible schedules can use Air-Tech's low confirmed reserved fares. Courier flights to destinations worldwide are also offered by this company. One recent special, New York to Hong Kong, was only $450 round trip! And they offer discount car-rentals, bus passes and Eurails, too.

For more information about Air-Tech, call (212)219-7000, or toll-free (800)575-TECH. Or write to Air-Tech Ltd., 588 Broadway, Suite 204, New York City, NY 10012. The fax number is (212)219-0066. The company can also be reached by e-mail at info@aerotech.com or on the internet at <http://campus.net/aerotech>.

How To Survive The Job Search

By Nancy Sakol

Dear Search:

Is there a limit as to how many times a person can apply for unemployment compensation? The reason I ask, is that a friend of a friend, has been receiving unemployment checks for what seems to be several years now. He will take a job here or there for a week or two and then sits back and picks up odd jobs for cash. It appears as though he is living quite comfortably and brags about this. Personally, it makes me sick. Does anyone follow up on people like this?

A.R. - Lindenhurst

Dear A.R.:

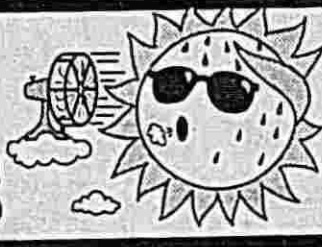

How many times can a person apply for a job? Possibilities may be endless, or to most, preferably few and far between. Just because an individual applies for unemployment compensation does not necessarily make them eligible. Unemployment recipients are required on a weekly basis to turn in a list of companies they have contacted for employment. Failure to file these forms weekly results in a loss of wages. Furthermore, failure to report accurate information, or reporting of fraudulent information, can not only result in loss of wages, but can also have legal ramifications such as reimbursement and in cases, incarceration. There are special groups affiliated with the Department of Unemployment Security that are specifically designed to follow up on weekly claim forms to be sure that the information as to their active work search is valid. These groups will contact companies to insure the fact that if an individual claims to have applied for a job with the ARD company - they in fact did so. Every unemployed wage recipient should take the Department of Unemployment Security seriously. The system should not be abused. The people who suffer are the taxpayers in this country. If you know of someone who is wrongfully receiving unemployment wages while currently working, you may contact your local Department of Unemployment Security (Waukegan).

If on the other hand any readers out there feel that they have wrongfully been denied unemployment compensation, it is your right to contact the Unemployment office where you applied and ask to go before an Arbitration Officer who can make a final determination. In either case...be sure you have all the facts ready.

Note: Nancy Sakol is a licensed personnel professional and President of Superior Personnel in Gurnee.

SAGITTARIUS

The two-story Sagittarius combines elegance with livability in a floor design that is spacious and functional. With the master suite on the lower floor and the rest of the sleeping areas on the upper floor, the Sagittarius is ideal for a family with school age children. This plan will also work well for empty nesters with grown children returning often to visit. The top floor can be sealed off when not in use.

The covered front porch frames an attractive brick and glass entryway. With a barrel vault open to the second floor, light streams in to enhance the spacious feeling.

To the right of the entry, a vaulted office can serve as a small den, library or sewing room. Optional doors provide privacy, or leave them off for a more open effect.

The large great room is the hub of this home. Here, family and friends bask in the warmth of the corner fireplace while watching television or discussing the events of the day. The vaulted dining room opens into the solarium that is lit with four skylights.

The L-shaped kitchen is great for a family on the go. A central cooktop and eating bar let you prepare and serve food with a minimum of bother. Other kitchen features include a pantry and island.

The large master suite is suited for maximum privacy, allowing enjoyment of the Jacuzzi tub and glass block shower. A skylight brightens the sleeping area and a huge walk-in closet provides plenty of space for your wardrobe. A separate vanity sits just outside the private bathroom.

The first floor includes an additional full bath and a utility room with closet and window to the front porch.

The top floor has three modest bedrooms, each with closet space and a large window. There is extra storage in the hallway, along with access to the full bathroom.

The three-car garage has a shop/storage area with a built-in work bench and a wood box.

POLICE BEAT

Persons charged with a crime are innocent until proven guilty in a court of law.

ANTIOCH

Warrant arrest

Antioch Police Officers on Sept. 23, at 11:50 a.m., stopped James M. Varno, 23, of Antioch, traveling east bound at Route 83 in a 1987 Plymouth. He was charged with not having a valid registration, operation of an uninsured vehicle, and driving while his license is suspended. Varno was also found to be wanted by the Lake County Sheriffs Department on an arrest warrant related to a previous domestic battery charge with a $5,000 bond. He was given a Nov. 12 court date at 9 a.m. in Grayslake on the most recent charges. He was assigned an Oct. 8 court date at 9 a.m. in Waukegan for the warrant arrest.

Suspended drivers license

Antioch Police Officers stopped Christopher T. Dagens, 24, of Antioch, at Donin Drive and Joren Trail Drive in a 1995 Ford on Sept. 26 at 6:17 a.m. He was charged with disobeying a stop sign, driving with a suspended drivers license, and having an uninsured motor vehicle. He was released on his own recognizance and given a Nov. 11 Court date in Grayslake.

Antioch Police Officers stopped Allen G. Malmstrom, 27, of Gurnee, at North Avenue and Main Street on September 24 at 1:01 a.m. in a 1990 Chevrolet. He was charged with not having tail lights and driving with a suspended Wisconsin drivers license. He posted $100 cash bond and was assigned a Nov. 12 court date in Grayslake.

LAKE VILLA

Under-age drinking

Lake Villa Police Officers on Sept. 27 at 3:58 a.m. stopped Jay H. Schwerman Jr., 20, of Round Lake, in a 1985 Chevrolet pick-up. He was charged with driving in the wrong lane, consumption of alcohol by a minor, and unlawful possession of a fraudulent identification card. He took the breathalyzer test (0.16). He posted a $100 bond. Schwerman was given an Oct. 17 court date at 9 a.m. in Waukegan.

Mom must take parenting classes

Allowed gun in child's reach

Parenting classes will be in the future for a Park City woman who allowed her daughter to leave her with two guns on the way to Woodland Primary School.

The sentence was a compromise between a probation period sought by prosecutors and a lesser sentence sought by public defender's office. Lake County Circuit Court Judge Patrick Lawler made the ruling Oct. 3 stemming from the March 13 incident.

"We were asking for supervision, not a conviction. She is a resident alien who is seeking citizenship and had no prior convictions," Greg Ticsay, public defender, said.

"We are satisfied because there is a conviction," Laura Horton, assistant states attorney, said.

The mother was convicted of a charge of failure to secure a FOID card. It is not known exactly how many classes or where the mother will have to attend. Had probation been ordered, she would have had to report to a probation officer.

The Woodland Dist. 50 bus driver and others riding on the bus did not testify, as victim impact statements are not allowed in that type of case.

"Our argument was not having a FOID card was irresponsible," Horton said.

Park City police were notified after school officials had the matter brought to their attention. Another 8-year old saw one of the guns in the backpack and told the bus driver.

Initial reports were the student had the guns for show-and-tell. But school officials said no such activity took place that day in second grade. A letter stating the district policy against firearms was sent to parents.

The girl is in the third grade this school year after being suspended.

Police arrest RLB man for walking drunk

By JASON J. KING
Staff Reporter

A Round Lake Beach man was arrested over the weekend on a charge of walking while intoxicated.

Richard L. Azure, 44, was arrested and charged when an officer on routine patrol observed Azure staggering northbound on Cedar Lake Rd.

When the officer questioned Azure, he detected a strong scent of alcohol, and Azure admitted that he had been drinking and was drunk.

A breath test revealed that Azure had a blood alcohol content of .19.

Azure was released on an I-Bond.

Round Lake Beach police commander John Laycock said the police department takes incidents of walking while intoxicated very seriously.

"Walking while intoxicated is a very serious problem," said Laycock. "In Round Lake Beach we believe swift enforcement action is needed."

Over the years we've had quite a few people get hurt," said Laycock.

Drywall hits Oakland School bus

Lake Villa Police Officers investigated an accident with an Oakland School bus filled with 10 children, none of whom appeared to be injured, on Sept. 29 at 11:34 a.m.

Louis Clinton, 47, of Maywood, Illinois, was charged by Lake Villa investigating officers with driving while license was suspended (for emissions violations), driving with a suspended registration, and failure to properly secure a load.

Clinton turned south bound onto Painted Lakes Boulevard from Hubbard Lane. Wind blew a sheet of drywall from his truck, a 1998 GMC Sierra Classic 1500, into the hood area of Antioch School District 34 Bus 23, a 1996 GMC Vandura 3500. The 10 preschool children, ages 3 to 4, were all wearing seat belts when the accident occurred. Investigating officers contacted five parents of seven children, but were not able to immediately contact three parents of three children. Parents indicated that their children did not appear to be injured. Oakland school notified all parents of the accident.

Clinton was released on a personal recognizance bond. He was assigned a Nov. 11 court date.

Binder salutes Antioch's spirit, wins Chamber sweatshirt

By KENNETH PATCHEN
Staff Reporter

The Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry celebrated its own national week of recognition by giving someone who loves Antioch the sweatshirt of their rack.

Antioch resident Nancy Binder is the winner of the Chamber's first on-line web site contest. She receives a sweatshirt with a colorful design of Antioch's business district as her prize.

"We got around 10 entries," said Vivian Tauscheck, secretary with the Chamber of Commerce. "I wanted to do something on the web site," she said. The result was a request to Judith C. Kallos to prepare a contest. Kallos serves as the Chamber's webmaster for the site (antioch@lake-online.com). "We're getting imaginative in using our web site," Tauscheck said.

Illinois Governor Jim Edgar declared Sept. 21 to 28 as National Chamber of Commerce week in Illinois. The week is intended to highlight the role played by the Chamber of Commerce and Industry in village business development and local economic health. In his proclamation, Edgar said the week is to recognize the "contributions chambers of commerce make to American civic and economic life."

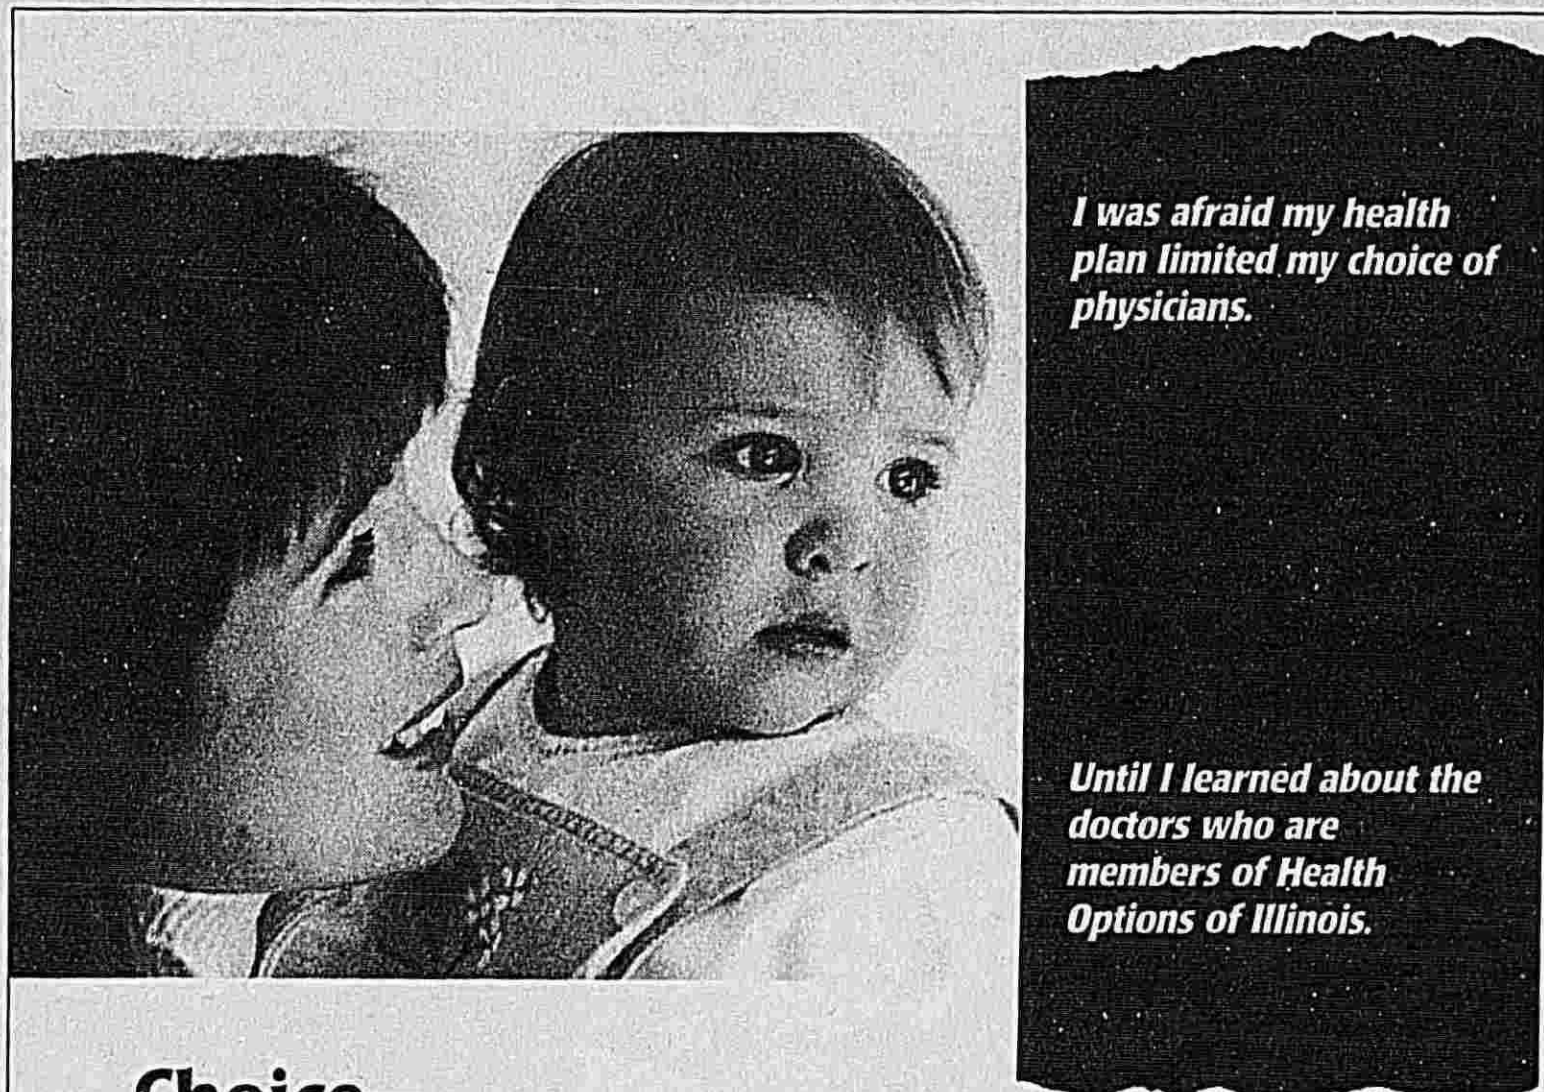

Visitors to the Antioch Chamber's web site were invited to submit a statement about why they loved Antioch. Four Chamber officials read and selected the winning entry by Binder. The judges were Barbara Porch, Ed Cimaglio, Jean Balfe, and Maureen Ferguson.

"They picked the best entry from those received," Tauscheck said. Binder wrote the following essay in response to the question about why she loved Antioch.

"The people are friendly. Volunteerism is a way of life. Family values are nurtured and cherished. The Village is clean with lots of flowers. The shops are interesting and the proprietors always have time to chat. The small town atmosphere remains, in spite of the growth. There are activities every week. The theater has first run movies. PM&L Theater has an excellent cast and supporting staff. The annual Messiah concert is a wonderful way for the community to celebrate Christ's birth together. The parades are the BEST in the area. Fourth of July celebration, lasting all weekend, exceeds all other communities' celebrations. Who can say enough about Taste of Antioch. YUM. Footlights at St. Peter's in November showcases our amateur talent, and WHAT TALENT! I could go on for hours. I wouldn't consider living anywhere else."

Tauscheck said the contest is a first for the Chamber. "I would imagine that we would do this again next year. It's kind of a fun idea," she said. "It's something for Chamber Week."

I was afraid my health plan limited my choice of physicians.

Pastor of Chain of Lakes Community Bible Church resigns

Don Sweeting, Senior Pastor of the Chain of Lakes Community Bible Church in Antioch, has tendered his resignation and will complete his remaining pastoral duties.

Sweeting served as founding pastor of the church. He began full time with the church in 1987 when the met for services at the Antioch VFW hall on North Ave.

In 1989 the church purchased land on Grass Lake Road (now 50 acres). The church built its first building (sanctuary, classrooms and offices) in 1991. Its second building (gym and more classrooms) was completed in 1995.

During his term as senior pastor Sunday worship attendance has grown from 120 to 700. Many have come to faith in Christ and been baptized as Christians. Numerous ministries have been initiated in and through the people of the church. Sweeting has had a strong Bible teaching ministry at the church through which he has emphasized the saving grace of God in Christ and his cross, as well as the call that Jesus gives to each of his followers to serve others in his name.

Don Sweeting was ordained at Christ Church of Lake Forest. He attended Moody Bible Institute in Chicago (Dipl.) Lawrence University in Appleton, Wisc. (BA) and Oxford University in England (B.A.M.A.).

After finishing at the Chain of Lakes Community Bible Church, Sweeting will give full attention to completing his doctoral dissertation for the Ph.D. program at Trinity Evangelical Divinity School of Trinity International University in Deerfield. After his dissertation is complete, Sweeting and his family will most likely be relocating. The church will be forming a search committee to begin looking for another senior pastor this fall.

Sweeting and his wife, Christina are residents of Antioch. They have three children (James 10, Jonathan 8, Joshua 5). Sweeting's parents, George and Margaret Sweeting have lived in the Antioch area since 1973. His father is the former president and current chancellor of the Moody Bible Institute.

A tribute to a fine teacher

On a recent Thursday night there was a gala "surprise" party thrown for none other than the former "Miss" Marie (Brausam). The organizers of the event were Kelly Boas, Gail Lindstrom, Sheila Dvorak and Lori Bednar and a fine job they did.

Seems "Mr. Marie (i.e. Marie's husband Ray) with the help of his mother, Vivian, pulled a fast one on the teacher formerly known as "Miss" Marie. Ray conjured up some story about taking his mother out for a fine dinner at Grass Lake Landing to thank her for watching their ferocious dog, Holly, while the Brausam's took a little vacation. The unsuspecting guest of honor was treated to a fun filled evening packed with memories. The crayon clad table decorations were most appropriate for the evenings festivities as was the music on hand. The "Sammy" song was played in "Miss" Marie's honor. Hum along if you wish: "Sammy didn't feel like walkin', he wished he could hop instead and he said, 'If I were a bunny I could hop to the store, hop to the store, hop to the store. If I were a bunny I could hop to the store, hop to the store for my father.'"

As a remembrance of the evening, and her 14 years of dedication to the Camp Crayon Program, the honoree was presented with a gold pendant watch engraved with "Miss Marie 1997" a most fitting tribute for a woman who loves jewelry.

Over the course of the evening about 75 past and present moms and dads of the Camp Crayon Program popped in to reminisce about the time shared in the confines of the Camp Crayon class room. Actually more good times were had in the outer room where the "go-home" table was and later the individual cubbies for the campers were built. Each morning that outer room was the place our youngsters, for the first time, took wings and flew out into the world on their own. That was where, as parents, we witnessed the independent journey our babies took as they ventured into the main room that held a whole new world for our prized possessions. "Miss" Marie held court in that outer room. She swapped stories, dried tears, calmed nerves, and her presence there made us know, as parents, we were leaving our young ones in the responsible hands of this fine Damp Director.

So, from all of us who had children filter through the Camp Crayon Program while "Miss" Marie was present, we thank you for all your years of dedication and genuine caring of our little people. Although the fine program will continue on its way under the direction of "Miss" Debbie and the rest of the staff, they will be using the wonderful foundation for success that was established by you. We send sincere well wishes for many more successes in your life and good luck as you continue to follow your dreams. Just remember that even though you may be moving your life in a new direction and gone from the Camp scene, your presence will never be forgotten. Best wishes on your latest endeavors and don't forget to keep us up-to-date on those Teenie Weenie Beanie Babies.

And so goes another "Jingle from Pringle."

The cream rises to the top in October

Last week separated the upper echelon from the wanna-bees in a number of local sporting events.

First, Stevenson beat Libertyville 35-20 in a battle of the best two teams in the North Suburban Conference. Now Libertyville must regroup and examine what they must do to overtake a team like the Patriots.

The Wauconda boys golfers had a dual experience. First they won the NWSA with a team score of 329, clearly showing themselves to be the class of the conference. Five days later, the Bulldog boys experienced humility at regionals at Harvard, as none of the Wauconda Bulldogs finished in the top four.

The Warren Blue Devils girls volleyball team continues to show that they are the team to beat in the NSC, compiling a 24-1 record with wins over Lake Zurich and Niles North last week. The Warren girl will find out if they are the best in the conference when they face Lake Forest Friday to determine the outright conference leader.

This is the time of the year when the fall sports really take shape. The leaves are turning, the air is crisp and the action is intense. For many teams, October is when the chinks in the armour begin to show. For others, it is a time when great teams are made.

Brendan O'Neill can be reached at (847) 223-8161, ext. 132; fax (847) 223-8810; or e-mail at edit@lnd.com.

Sequoits run past Warhawks

By STEVE PETERSON
Staff Reporter

Brandon Polheber is back at 100 percent and Antioch's football fortunes soared accordingly against North Chicago.

The Warhawks scored first on a 97-yard fumble return by Desmond Christmas, but the Sequoits scored 32 straight points in a 32-6 win. The win evened the ACHS record at 3-3 overall.

Polheber's longest run of the day was 36 yards, but the senior capped off drives with TD runs of one, four and four yards.

"Brandon has played well the last two games. He was the Brandon of old," said ACHS coach Del Pechauer.

Polheber, a senior, had to sit out the Stevenson game with a leg injury. He returned the next week against Warren.

He burst into the open field as the offensive line parted the way on Polheber's longest run of the warm afternoon.

"Even after their fumble recovery, I could sense the running game would have a good day. Gary Spiller and Brandon run differently. Brandon runs right at you. Spiller runs more to the outside," said Pechauer.

Spiller gained 102 yards and had a three-yard TD run.

Dan Pendergast scored Antioch's fifth touchdown via the run, on a 25-yard run in the fourth period.

Don Lackey showed progress at quarterback. The sophomore was 3-of-7 passing for 33 yards. "It is getting there each time out," said Pechauer.

Lake Forest visits Antioch Oct. 11 with playoff hopes on the line for both teams. Antioch upset Lake Forest last year in the final week.

"Lake Forest is getting better. Their backs run well and the defense is tough. We always have had trouble with their offense," said Pechauer.

On the injury front, Pechauer said surgery on QB Dave Gooch's injured knee was successful. Gooch will not be back in sports until track season.

Defensively, Pendergast gained a fumble recovery. There was also some new faces in the linebacker slots.

Juniors Jake Cramond and Ryan

Clutts got the call. Cramond had five tackles and a knocked down pass against North Chicago.

"This is one year which we have depth at linebacker. They were showing well in practice, now they have experience in a varsity game. We did a lot of rotation against North Chicago in waves," said defensive coach Mike Gordy.

Lineman Nate Carden led the defense with five tackles and two assists. North Chicago was held to 49 yards rushing and 13 net passing yards.

In six games, ACHS has surrendered 776 rushing yards and 336 yards passing.

Serving: strong point at ACHS

Opponents of Antioch High's volleyball team may not know what is coming at them from serve to serve.

Sometimes, it is the exact placement from Megs Kotlarz; or maybe an aggressive serve from Lisa Ipsen or maybe a floater or two from another Sequoit.

"Serving has been good all year. We are over 90 percent," said ACHS coach Gwen Varney.

Antioch had two solid matches with two two-game wins for a 17-7 record last week. A 15-4, 15-6 win over Rockford Harlem was followed with a 15-1, 15-6 win over North Chicago. The win over the Warhawks improved ACHS to 3-1 in NSC.

Jenny Gussarson had 10-10 with one ace and eight points against Harlem. She had six kills against North Chicago.

"Jenny has always been a big part of the offense, but it is usually spread around," said Varney.

Emily Levin had 7-8 for seven points against Harlem. Kotlarz had three kills.

Junior Karen Jendzewski and Katie Gofron had six service points and one ace against the Warhawks.

ACHS, runners-up at the Warren Invite, host Round Lake Oct. 10 in a non-conference match.

Henneberry saves best for home meet

Carla Henneberry trimmed more than 40 seconds off her previous best time at Antioch High's home cross country course.

She clocked a 13:27 to lead the Sequoits to a seventh place, 168-point finish in their own 14-team field.

"She just likes to run. She has steadily improved all year. She has a great attitude," said ACHS coach Dick Harland of the senior.

Junior Jessica Scadek was 26th in 13:39, bettering her previous best by 21 seconds.

Senior Megan Mitchell had a 13:54. She was followed by Esther Schuer's 13:57.

Harland was impressed by the quality of teams gathered Saturday. New Trier won the meet.

"Lake Forest was fifth - that shows how great a field it was. It was one of the best girls races in years," said Harland.

ACHS, 4-2 in duals, has had to adjust to the absence of former top runner Lianna Rothermel. She is out with a back injury.

"The girls have responded well. They are a hard-working bunch," said Harland.

ACHS is at another invite, at Benet in Lisle Oct. 11. Next it is off to Lakewood for the North Suburban Conference meet Oct. 18. The Sequoits are at the Crystal Lake regional Oct. 25.

Dynamo defeats Elk Grove 6-1

The U-9 boys kept their undefeated streak alive by beating the Elk Grove Stingers 6-1. It was a very entertaining game as the following boys scored for the Dynamo: Aaron Nichols, Sean Hertz, Andy Schultz, and Brett McKenzie. Working together and passing to the open teammate has been the key to the U-9 boys success and Aaron Nichols continues to lead the team with assists. He dished out two assist against Elk Grove and Marek Smith and Sean Hertz had one assist each. Scott Newman and Austin Hahn did a superb job at forward and Matthew Melmer hustled all over the field at the sweeper position. Peter Niles, Jeremy Pohlman, Vivik Gollapudi and Christopher Meyers played dynamic defense.

U-19 Power tops Wolfpack 3-0

The Lindenhurst Power defeated the Chicago Wolfpack 3-0 to stay on to of their IWSL division. The two teams played about even for the first 15 minutes before Jamie Wismer converted on a penalty kick that the Wolfpack keeper was unable to control. Cara Robinson then scored when she charged into the box and volleyed in a pass lofted from Christy Plotz. Heather Hensel closed off the scoring after taking a crossing pass from Kristen Gamlin who dished the ball off when challenged by the keeper on a break-away.

The defensive play of Amanda Behm, Jourdan Phillips, Jenny Porter and Esther Scheurer held the Wolfpack at bay for most of the afternoon. The Power is now 4-0-1 on the regular season.

Lindenhurst Soccer tryouts for boys teams

The Lindenhurst Youth Soccer League will hold tryouts for its Boys U-15 to U-19 traveling soccer teams on Saturday, Oct. 18 from 4:30 to 6 p.m. at Polley Field (the corner of Grass Lake and Deep Lake Roads). Makeup tryouts will be on Oct. 25 at the same time and location. Tryout candidates will participate in a variety of drills and scrimmage games.

Players must be born on or before Aug. 1, 1982 (U-15); Aug. 1, 1981 (U-16) or Aug. 1 1978 (U-19) to be eligible. For more information call Ron at 838-0084.

Sequoits golf takes third in NSC

Four Antioch golfers finished within four shots of each other as the Sequoits gained third place at the North Suburban Conference meet.

Sarah Groh and Kristin Hungarland are two golfers who may be ready to advance to the next level of the upper 40s for nine holes soon.

"Both are playing well and on the verge of stepping down. Neither shot over seven for a hole. A short putt or a par here or there missed is what is keeping them from the mid 40s," said ACHS coach Steve Wapon.

Groh was 10th with a 98, Hungarland 11th with a 99. Veronica Pazanin had a 101 and the team's only senior, Abby Clark, had a 102 at Lake Bluff. Lake Forest won the meet and the league crown.

Antioch had a 400 team score. "It is about where we have been shooting. Lake Forest is so dominant, it is like the rest of us are shooting for second or third place," said Wapon.

The Scouts are defending state champs.

Antioch, 9-5 in duals, battled for spots in the Oct. 14 sectional at Bonnie Brook Golf Course at the regional meet there.

"We are really a young team - Clark is our only senior," said Wapon.

ACHS scored a record-setting effort at a Championship tournament. The Sequoits had an eighth-place 377 of 19 teams.

The old mark for a tourney was 390 set two years ago.

Groh had a 86 for eighth place. "She was very consistent. She did not have anything beyond a six. She putted well," said Wapon.

Senior Clark had a 92 and only 28 putts on the "blue" course. "Her short game was on," said Wapon.

Hungarland had a 98, followed by Pazanin's 101 and Cable and Karen Drenkler with 107 and 106's.

"It was a great way to get ready for regional," said Wapon.

Viking Lightweights notch 47th-straight win

The Antioch Viking Youth Football program hosted the Warren Blue Demons and won two of four games played in JFLNI Conference action. Antioch's Pee Wee won their third straight game 26-0 and the Lightweight moved into sole possession of first place with a 36-12 win. The Raider Featherweights and Viking Heavyweights both lost games in league play.

Running back Mike Kroepfl scored two TD's on runs of 19 and 7 yards in leading Antioch Pee Wees to a 26-0 route of Warren. The Vikings scored on the first play of the game as back Justine Dee raced 48 yards untouched for a TD. Brian Brickner caught a pass from a QB Ben Rozewicz for the extra point. Rozewicz teamed up with Brickner in the second half for a 20 yard TD pass play. John Hauser ran an extra point for Antioch. The Pee Wee defense was led by Brandon Geweke, Ty Sitter, Paul Siebert, Brian Walker, Bubba Houghton, Jeremy Richardson, Scott Miller, Ty Bynum, and Rozewicz. Rozewicz recovered a fumble for Antioch.

In a battle of unbeaten lightweight teams, the Vikings got a three touchdown performance from running back Matt Elliott and two more TD's from back Brett Bairstow in their easy 36-12 win over Warren. It was Antioch's 47th straight victory over a 5 year period. Veteran head coach Denny Porter, in his 29th year of coaching said his team was well prepared for Warren and the team had put in a very hard week of practice in preparation. The Viking "black" defensive unit held Warren in check giving up just two first downs throughout and completely shutting down Warren back Seantea Holland. Offensively, Antioch amassed 432 yards. Jim Huspen kicked three extra points. QB Trent Domel completed 5 of 8 passes and did an excellent job calling plays and audibles. He was aided by excellent line blocking of Billy Merker, Jim Huspen, Jason Weigel, A.J. Basler, Eric Sesko, Eric Schultz and Jeff Welter. The Viking defensive unit was equally as impressive with excellent efforts from Elliott, Huspen, Mike Devries, Merker, Schultz, Ian Lazaretti, Adam Lehn, Beau Biller, Mike Klingler and Bairstow.

As previously, Lightweight head coach Denny Porter is in his 29th year as a youth football coach. In addition to youth football, coach Porter has coached football as the high school and collegiate levels as well. His 1997 Lightweight team has a current consecutive win streak of 47 games. However, this pales when compared to Porter's.

Buffalo Grove Lightweight Gold teams' 123 game winning streak over an 11 year period from 1982 to 1991—a National Youth Football record that still stands.

The Antioch Saturday Viking Featherweights are also unbeaten following a pair of wins over the Lake Villa Timberwolves. In game one, Gilley scored the lone Viking TD and the team got an excellent running game from Brandon Yates and QB Matty Sward. Andrew Homer scored the only TD in the second game which Antioch also won 8-0. In that contest linebacker Taylor Hosiek had 9 sacks and Jeff Grove also played well for the defensive unit.

Antioch loses to Libertyville 5-0

At 1 singles for Antioch was Mandy Hughes. She lost to Katie Zils 2-6, 0-6.

At 2 singles for Antioch was Jenny Rogers. She lost to Dana Peterson 2-0, 2-6.

At 1 doubles for Antioch was Erin Boodey and Jessica Mayer. They lost to Lisa Jurica and Sarah Potempa 2-6, 0-6.

In a hard fought match, 2 doubles for Antioch, Shayne Jacobsen and Erika Johnson, lost to Laura Bassill and Karen Ciszewski. They split the first sets 7-0 (7-5) 3-7. The match was postponed on account of darkness. The teams met again the next day and Antioch dropped the set in the tie breaker 6-7 (6-8).

At 3 doubles for Antioch was Carina Hauenstein and Christina Blunde. They lost to Sara Brownlie and Kristie Sorenson 1-6, 1-6.

ACHS defeats MHS 3-3

At 1 singles for Antioch was Mandy Hughes. She won against Claire Cooper 8-3, 6-2.

At 2 singles for Antioch was Jenny Rogers. After losing the first set to Julia Curnig 2-0, Jenny rallied back to win the next two sets 6-4, 6-2.

Kingma returns for Rams

Grayslake High not only welcomed back graduates last weekend, but some soccer players as well.

Chris Kingma returned to the Rams lineup and scored two goals in a 4-0 win over Round Lake. The Friday night clash served as Homecoming and Parents Night as the rivalry drew a large crowd.

Kingma, a junior halfback, was out of the lineup for six weeks after injuring a tendon during a practice. "It was great to see him back in the lineup," said Rams coach Joe Martinez.

Bryan Phillip scored on a "rocket" of a penalty kick, according to Martinez. Morgan Shipley scored the other goal.

Goalie Blake Larson was once again out of the lineup, but Jason Patterson was back in goal for the first time in two years.

"Patterson was rusty but it all came back to him. His leadership was obvious," said Martinez.

The shutout win was only the second of the year for the Rams as they took a break from Fox Valley Conference tests.

"We have a good club - we have only been blown out twice against some outstanding competition. But this is the toughest competition we have ever had in Grayslake. There are no easy opponents," said Martinez.

The match marked the first time the Rams faced former assistant coach Vince DeLuca, now the boss for the Panthers. Grayslake is at Lake Zurich Oct. 14.

Chebny leads nationally ranked CLC offense

That is, scoring goals and being the marked person on a soccer squad.

The sophomore has 13 goals and five assists through eight matches of the CLC season and the Lancers have won five times.

"We have two other players who have eight goals each, so the defenders cannot cheat toward her. That allows her the freedom she needs to make the plays," said CLC coach Dave Beck.

Chebny is rated No. eighth nationally in scoring by the NJCAA.

Chebny's talents for scoring goals is assisted by Dory Thompson, a Warren High grad and Sondra Lorang of Antioch, who have eight goals each.

Chebny is a sophomore who reported to CLC last season only to find the season would be canceled halfway through. That inspired her and three others in the same predicament to work harder and bring more players to the Grayslake junior college. Jennifer Tully from Carmel, defenders Becky Kirby and Casie Smith and Jaimee Porter all assisted in making sure a full squad was set for 1997.

"Those four and Porter deserve all the credit. They started in January and worked on recruiting and made me aware of players," said Beck.

Beck celebrated his 100th win as CLC soccer coach. The first 96 came in nine years as the men's coach and the last five as women's coach. Beck returned to soccer after two years off.

The century mark came in a 9-0 win over Prairie State.

The defense has been the team's strength. Kim Hatch is the goalie with defenders Kim Miller, Kirby, Smith and Jenelle Price providing "tight" defense, said Beck.

"Good defense keeps you in games. We have had a shot to win each game, including our losses," said Beck.

On offense, Tully and Porter direct the attack, getting the ball to weapons such as Chebny.

The offense's best day came in the win against Prairie State. Chebny had a hat trick and two assists; Porter had two goals and two assists and Tully had a goal and three assists.

"We adjusted to a new system quickly," said Beck.

CLC beat Harper 2-1. Chebny and Thompson scored goals, with Thompson's being the winning goal. Thompson and Tully had assists.

CLC suffered through an injury plagued time earlier in the year, including a 2-0 loss to Moraine Valley. Miller and Porter's defense keyed that effort. A week off helped others gain strength.

Chebny and Tully scored goals in a 4-2 loss to College of Du Page for a 5-4 mark.

"We came back twice to bring it to a one-goal lead, but we are not deep enough to sustain it against good teams," said Beck.

The Lancers have another chance at Moraine Valley Oct. 15 away in the second to last match. Prairie State visits for the finale Oct. 21.

"We are gearing up for the regional tournament," said Beck.

Schroeder, Rams stay positive

The way the last five weeks have gone for Grayslake's fortunes, Saturday's Homecoming loss had some good aspects for Neil Schroeder.

He had a chance to be Homecoming king, have his picture taken with a visitor from England and contribute both running and catching the ball.

But all that was just consolation as the Rams discovered what life in the Fox Valley Conference is like when you are not prepared in a 35-6 loss to Crystal Lake Central.

"We were not ready to play. The FVC is a big step up and Central runs the option well. I still think we can finish the year 4-5," said Rams coach Dan Dillon.

It would take a three win finish to do that, starting Oct. 9 at Lake Zurich.

Schroeder scored the lone touchdown as he headed for the sideline then cut in from eight yards out. He had 79 rushing yards, 83 on passes from QB Matt Ellison.

"We want to finish strong and get the juniors some experience for next year," said Schroeder.

The senior said the five-game losing streak has not had an impact on team unity, even though the first FVC year has been a rough one.

"Cary-Grove was the most physical team we had to play against," said Schroeder.

As far as his pass-catching abilities, he said the shallow routes were working well against the Tigers' defense.

The Rams had their troubles otherwise. CLC built a 28-0 lead by halftime. Mike Rivera and Matt Loehr scored the first two TDs. Quarterback Brian Butson caught a pass for the third.

The Rams were outgained 321-222. The Rams had a combined 9-of-25 passing day for 141 yards.

Several of the 11 misfires were on drops or catchable passes.

"We told Ellison that he was aiming the ball and to just throw it in there and that it was the receivers' job to catch it," said Dillon.

The Rams (1-5) and Lake Zurich (2-4) have both had struggling FVC seasons before the Thursday night clash.

Auto technician: A difficult role for amateurs

Act One. Scene One.

The setting: a crisp autumn weekend, perfect for owners of cars, pick-ups, and sports utility vehicles to become bit players in the annual drama, "Fall Car Care."

The wardrobe: basic grunge: your oldest jeans, handkerchiefs optional; a sweatshirt, preferably torn; and work boots, the heavier, the better.

The props: your tool box, complete with a few inexpensive tools; and your state-of-the-art vehicle.

Action!

You open the hood, look inside, try to find the carburetor, but, after a moment, realize there isn't one—the engine is fuel injected. So you stare absently under the hood, but you can't see the ground because there's so much stuff in there. Dejectedly, you look down at your meager tools...

Cut!

Given the complexity of today's high-tech vehicles, many former do-it-yourselfers have stopped playing the role of backyard mechanic and are now relying on professional automotive technicians, as "tune-ups" have become "engine performance diagnoses," carburetors have been replaced by fuel injectors, and on-board computer systems, electronic climate control, anti-lock brakes, and other advanced systems become commonplace.

The following tips should make finding a competent auto technician easier.

Ask friends and associates for recommendations.

Contact your local consumer organization and ask about the reputation of the repair shop and its record of resolving disputes.

Look for a relatively neat, organized facility with up-to-date equipment and polite service personnel willing to take the time to answer your questions.

Policies concerning labor rates, diagnostic fees, guarantees, etc. should be posted or explained to you.

Check the customer waiting area for customer service awards and signs of community involvement. Also look for proof of the technicians' competence, such as trade school diplomas, certificates of course work, and certification of the technicians by the non-profit National Institute for Automotive Service Excellence (ASE).

ASE is dedicated to improving the quality of automotive service and repair through the voluntary testing and certification of automotive technicians.

More than 424,000 technicians hold current credentials from ASE. There are eight automobile/light truck test specialties in areas like Engine Performance, Brakes, and Electrical Systems. (There are also tests for specialists such as engine machinists and collision repair technicians.)

Those who pass (usually about two out of three) and fulfill the work experience requirement are awarded blue and white ASE insignia and credentials attesting their competency. Shops that employ certified technicians often display the ASE outdoor sign—The Blue Seal of Excellence®.

Technicians have joined the ASE program from all segments of the automotive industry: car and truck dealerships, service stations, independent repair shops, volume retailers, franchised outlets, and more.

Among ASE's recommendations to motorists:

- Read the owner's manual.
- Become familiar with the basic components and systems.
- Follow the manufacturer's service schedules.

• When describing your vehicle's problems, be concrete, but resist the temptation to make a diagnosis.

• Make note of noises, unusual odors, changes in performance handling, etc.

• Do not be embarrassed to ask the service writer or technician to use everyday terminology.

• Ask to be called and apprised of the problem and estimated cost before repairs begin.

• Have small problems repaired quickly to lessen the chances of them becoming major headaches.

• Keep all paperwork.

• Reward good service with repeat business.

ASE has prepared a brochure, "How to Communicate for Better Automotive Service," designed to help motorists get the most out of their car repairs.

For a free copy, send a self-addressed, stamped, long envelope to: ASE Communication Brochure, Dept. CF97, 13505 Dulles Technology Drive, Suite 2, Herndon, VA 20171-3421.

The plight of the big rigs

Drivers of big rigs have developed a reputation for "hogging the road." However, this reputation may be the result of motorists who have overlooked these professional drivers' difficult circumstances.

Many motorists are unaware that truck drivers must constantly fight a number of battles, not the least of which are limited vision and maneuverability problems. To a great extent, semi drivers are dependent upon the "little guy" to help him/her drive safely. By becoming aware of the big trucks' precarious situation, you increase everyone's safety.

Many accidents between semi trucks and cars happen because motorists drive in a truck's blind spot...or spots. Often motorists do not realize that a big rig has four blind spots that encompass wide areas.

Not only do truck drivers have problems seeing what's beside them, they can't see what's directly behind them. In fact, if you're behind a large truck and you can't see its side mirrors, the driver can't see you.

Add to this vision problem the extra size and weight of a semi, and you have a vehicle that needs plenty of room to stop.

This means that when passing a truck you should be able to see that truck's entire front in your rearview mirror before pulling into its lane. And afterwards, DO NOT SLOW DOWN.

These safety agencies remind you to give a big truck plenty of room. Think about your position in relation to his and make certain you're not traveling in one of his blind spots. Be careful when traveling in front of trucks; their stopping time is delayed.

accident? The Council offers five tips for avoiding the "near miss" or worse:

- 1) Be sure all lights and turn signals are working and headlights are properly adjusted.
- 2) Keep mirrors clean and adjusted.
- 3) Be sure brakes, steering and tires are in condition to deal with emergency driving.
- 4) Avoid distractions. Concentrate on your primary task: driving.
- 5) Always look over your shoulder when changing lanes in case a vehicle is in your "blind spot." Stiff joints should not prevent safe driving practices.

Yikes! Where did he come from?

It's happened to anyone who drives: you're about to change lanes when a vehicle suddenly appears in your driver's side window. How could you not have seen him?

Maybe he was in a blind spot beyond the scope of a rear view mirror. Maybe your mirror was incorrectly adjusted or a stiff neck prevented a quick look over your shoulder before changing lanes.

When drivers are alert and their vehicles' braking and steering capabilities are in good condition, a collision usually can be avoided. But how to prevent the possibility of such an

How To Survive The Job Search

By Nancy Sakol

Dear Search:

Is there a limit as to how many times a person can apply for unemployment compensation? The reason I ask, is that a friend of a friend, has been receiving unemployment checks for what seems to be several years now. He will take a job here or there for a week or two and then sits back and picks up odd jobs for cash. It appears as though he is living quite comfortably and brags about this. Personally, it makes me sick. Does anyone follow up on people like this?

A.R. - Lindenhurst

Dear A.R.:

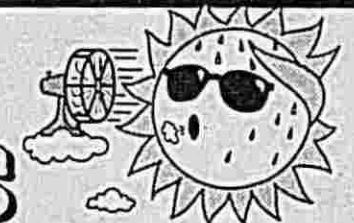

How many times can a person apply for a job? Possibilities may be endless, or to most, preferably few and far between. Just because an individual applies for unemployment compensation does not necessarily make them eligible. Unemployment recipients are required on a weekly basis to turn in a list of companies they have contacted for employment. Failure to file these forms weekly results in a loss of wages. Furthermore, failure to report accurate information, or reporting of fraudulent information, can not only result in loss of wages, but can also have legal ramifications such as reimbursement and in cases, incarceration. There are special groups affiliated with the Department of Unemployment Security that are specifically designed to follow up on weekly claim forms to be sure that the information as to their active work search is valid. These groups will contact companies to insure the fact that if an individual claims to have applied for a job with the ABD company... they in fact did so. Every unemployed wage recipient should take the Department of Unemployment Security seriously. The system should not be abused. The people who suffer are the taxpayers in this country. If you know of someone who is wrongfully receiving unemployment wages while currently working, you may contact your local Department of Unemployment Security (Waukegan).

If on the other hand any readers out there feel that they have wrongfully been denied unemployment compensation, it is your right to contact the Unemployment office where you applied and ask to go before an Arbitration Officer who can make a final determination. In either case... be sure you have all the facts ready.

Note: Nancy Sakol is a licensed personnel professional and President of Superior Personnel in Gurnee.

SAGITTARIUS

The two-story Sagittarius combines elegance with livability in a floor design that is spacious and functional. With the master suite on the lower floor and the rest of the sleeping areas on the upper floor, the Sagittarius is ideal for a family with school age children. This plan will also work well for empty nesters with grown children returning often to visit. The top floor can be sealed off when not in use.

The covered front porch frames an attractive brick and glass entryway. With a barrel vault open to the second floor, light streams in to enhance the spacious feeling.

To the right of the entry, a vaulted office can serve as a small den, library or sewing room. Optional doors provide privacy, or leave them off for a more open effect.

The large great room is the hub of this home. Here, family and friends bask in the warmth of the corner fireplace while watching television or discussing the events of the day. The vaulted dining room opens into the solarium that is lit with four skylights.

The L-shaped kitchen is great for a family on the go. A central cooktop and eating bar lets you prepare and serve food with a minimum of bother. Other kitchen features include a pantry and island.

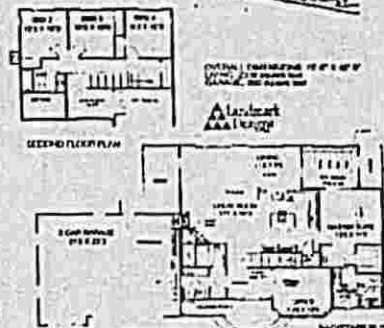

The large master suite is suited for maximum privacy, allowing enjoyment of the Jacuzzi tub and glass block shower. A skylight brightens the sleeping area and a huge walk-in closet provides plenty of space for your wardrobe. A separate vanity sits just outside the private bathroom.

The first floor includes an additional full bath and a utility room with closet and window to the front porch.

The top floor has three modest bedrooms, each with closet space and a large window. There is extra storage in the hallway, along with access to the full bathroom.

The three-car garage has a shop/storage area with a built-in work bench and a wood box.

For a study kit of the SAGITTARIUS (336-140LP60) or a Dream Home Book, send $10.00, to Landmark Designs, 33127 Saginaw Rd. E., Cottage Grove, OR 97424 (Specify plan name & number for kit). *Great Lakes Navy Reserve Center latest
in billion dollar building projects*

By RHONDA HETRICK BURKE
Editor-in-Chief

World War II Navy Veteran State Senator Adeline Jay Geo-Karis was a hit with the crowd during the dedication of the Navy's newest Reserve Center.

Geo-Karis, who served as one of the first female lawyers in the Navy's Judge Advocate Corps (JAG), was the honored guest at the ceremony marking the opening of the new state-of-the-art building.

"It is an honor for me to be here today," said Geo-Karis, who told the crowd she tried to volunteer for Desert Storm, but they said she was too old.

"I love the Navy and I love this country," the Greek immigrant said. She presented an Illinois State Flag to be flown at the building. She also addressed the importance of the Navy Reserve in defending the Nation today.

The new $6 million facility will be the weekend training site for more than 1,600 Naval Air and Surface Reservists from over 50 reserve specialties units.

The Reservists come to Great Lakes from throughout the Chicago metropolitan area and southern Wisconsin.

Great Lakes' Reservists have been mobilized in recent years in support of operations in Bosnia, Somalia as well as Desert Storm.

From the multi-media classroom to the medical skills laboratory, which will increase the proficiency of hospital corpsmen and dental technicians; to the spaces utilized for medical and administrative offices, the 50,000 square foot structure has been built to make training an efficient process.

Retired Rear Admiral Frank Harness was the keynote speaker at the dedication. A native of Walworth, Wis., Harness was integral in the building of the center.

"The goal was to create a state-of-the-art facility that maintains a link to the rich history of Naval Training Center. You'll note the brickwork, Illinois utility red, more than slightly suggests the appearance of many of the refurbished historic Naval Training Center buildings," Harness said. "While the architects and builders have given us a handsome physical structure, it's the people inside that really define it and endow its spiritual structure. Today's Naval Reserve is dynamic, well-trained and ready, serving as a vital partner with the Active Forces all over the world, around the clock."

The Reserves are full partners in the total force of the U.S. Armed Forces. With the "right sizing" of active forces, well-trained Reservists are vital to reducing national security risks and containing defense costs in the post-cold war world.

From this training facility, will come fully-trained Reservists who are ready to defend the nation's interests around the globe.

Harness retired from active duty in June after serving as Commander, Naval Surface Reserve Force.

The facility was designed by architect Tom DeBurh of the Zimmerman Design Group and constructed by Mark Michuda of Michuda Construction.

Planning for the building began in 1987 and was overseen by Frank Merlo of Public Works Center, Great Lakes. Reservists moved into the building in mid-September. Great Lakes Reservists had utilized their previous building since the 1940s.

Halloween Howl heats up spookmeter

By KENNETH PATCHEN
Staff Reporter

Something old. Something new. Something haunted. You'll go Boo!

Antioch, which has developed a reputation in recent years as one of the places to go for Halloween fun, is introducing new attractions and re-vamping old ones for Antioch's Halloween Howl '97.

New for this year is a scarecrow building contest. Under new management and sponsorship is the Tunnel of Terror.

Halloween Howl '97 will be held Friday, Oct. 24 and Saturday, Oct. 25. Halloween events unfold for different age groups during the two day downtown festival. The free community event will be in full operation at the end of the month, but a scarecrow building contest will be an earlier mid-month treat for children.

The scarecrow contest is a new event scheduled for Saturday, Oct. 18. "It's a kick-off of Halloween Howl," said Antioch Community Development Director Claude LeMere. It serves as an early tension breaker for children and offers prizes for the best scarecrow built. Downtown merchants will display the constructed scarecrows in their windows. Awards will be announced at the Oct. 25 bonfire at 6 p.m.

"We need more pants, shirts, hats, and gloves," said LeMere. The Mental Health Association has provided some clothing for kids to use to build the scarecrows, but additional clothes for about 100 scarecrows are needed.

People who wish to drop off old clothing at the community building should do so early and before Oct. 18.

This year the village will sponsor the Tunnel of Terror and the Parent Teacher Organization will run the Witches Kitchen. "Keith Bentel will run it for the village," said LeMere. "He's into Halloween big time." Cheryl Mateja will help him with it, LeMere said.

The Antioch Jaycees have sponsored the Tunnel of Terror during the past five years. In July and August meetings, the Jaycees discussed the need to change the way the Tunnel of Terror was managed. As a result, the Jaycees wanted to charge people to go through the tunnel to better manage repeat visits. The village discussed the proposed changes. In response, LeMere told the Jaycees, "The board wants to keep this a free event and they want to keep running it the way we've run it."

The Village purchased equipment and construction materials from the Jaycees to maintain the essential features of the attraction now to be under village sponsorship.

Jaycees President Greg Benyak describes the change as a win-win situation for the village and Jaycees.

Jones back to lead Special Education Dist.

By STEVE PETERSON
Staff Reporter

After several years in the private sector, Tony Jones is back with a familiar position with Special Education Dist. of Lake County.

He is the new principal of Gages Lake School, part of the special education district where Jones established many programs in the 1970s and 1980s.

"Working with a professional staff and administration has made the transition an easy one," Jones said.

Gages Lake School serves 74 students with severe behavior disorders. Students are primary grade through junior high age.

"I learned a lot in the private sector and I wanted to introduce those things into the public sector. I have always believed special education is a strong team effort and will reinforce that team concept," Jones said.

Jones believes in the mainstreaming of students and that the Gages Lake School should not be a final stop for students.

"I believe in mainstreaming students and working with them as a whole. They should be able to go back to regular education if they can handle it. They need a sense of well-being and accomplishment," Jones said.

"We had a number of candidates for the position. Jones is the ideal candidate due to his experience with SEDOL and in the mental health community. He has done a lot of work in therapeutic environments," said Dr. John Anderson, SEDOL superintendent.

Jones, of Grayslake, worked with SEDOL from 1969-1989. After starting as a teacher, he supervised programs such as Social Work Outreach, an improved Behavior Disorder Itin-

County jail complies with state standards

The Lake County Jail has once again met Standards for County Jail set forth by the State of Illinois Dept. of Corrections Jail and Detention Standards Unit.

The Direct Supervision Lake County Jail, operating at its present site since 1989, is a state of the art facility designed to operate efficiently and humanely, with a solid policy base to provide for a well trained professional staff. The intended result of this is to limit costly frivolous lawsuits.

The Illinois Dept. of Corrections has established a Unit which monitors Illinois Jails for compliance with the published standards and makes the results available for public review. According to Criminal Justice Specialist Michael Talkington, who conducted the inspection on Sept. 3, the Lake County Jail was in compliance with every applicable standard and there were no recommendations for improvement.

The inspection covers nearly 30 categories including administration, classification, medical and health care, food service and sanitation, security, inmate discipline and privileges and juvenile detention standards.

"We're very proud of our facility and this represents another year of total compliance with the standards. I'm confident that this accomplishment shields the county from nuisance or petty lawsuits and places us in a defensible position when we do face an action," said Jail Supt. Lawrence Lesza.

"This is a major accomplishment for our Corrections staff and it truly is a reflection to our commitment and dedication to serving the people of Lake County with pride," said Sheriff Del Re.

In-person absentee voting begins at County Clerk's office

In-person absentee voting for the Nonpartisan Election to be held Nov. 4 begins Thursday, Sept. 25, in the County Clerk's office, Room 101, 18 N. County St., Waukegan. Voting will be offered during regular office hours of 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Thursday, and 8:30 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. on Friday. In-person absentee voting will also be offered on Saturday, Nov. 1, from 9 a.m. to 12 noon. The last day to vote in-person absentee is Monday, Nov. 3.

In Illinois, absentee voting is restricted to the following: absent from Lake County on election day; physically incapacitated; student temporarily residing outside Lake County; observance of a religious holiday; incarceration pending trial date; serving jury duty; employed in the Office of the Lake County Clerk/State's Attorney or as an election judge and election day duties will prevent being present at the polling place.

HALLOWEEN: Spook meter gets scarier in Antioch

The village is able to maintain a popular attraction, and the Jaycees are able to use the funds to help with another project they have undertaken.

"What we are doing is helping a person with a roof repair and yard clean-up," Benyak said. "We want to help prevent him from losing his house to the county. He lives in unincorporated Lake County. He needs a roof. It is in very bad shape."

The prize for the scarecrow contest will be either Chamber of Commerce and Industry gift certificates or a monetary award. The award values have not yet been set and will be dependent on the number of entries to the contest. Each store owner will be donating $5 for the opportunity to have a scarecrow in their store window.

"We will have a first, second, and third place ribbon on the winning scarecrows on Thursday (Oct. 23), before the Saturday bonfire," LeMere said.

LeMere stressed the need for clothing donations to help make the contest an effective Halloween Howl warm-up event. In addition to the clothing, straw and a plastic bag for a head will be provided to entrants to help build their scarecrows.

A detailed schedule of Halloween Howl events with colorful graphics and scary sounds is available on the Chamber of Commerce and Industry web site designed by Judith Kallos (www.lake-online.com/antioch/). The web site also offers access to a visitors-only contest to win the Halloween Beanie Baby™, Spooky.

JONES: Back with SEDOL

erant program, the hospital-residential team and the first 24-hour Alternative Education Program for public education which was based at Hainesville, Volo and Libertyville.

Before rejoining SEDOL in August, he was coordinator of therapeutic services at Counseling Connection of Lake Bluff.

"SEDOL always has been very child oriented. It is good to see that is still there," Jones said.

SEDOL is 37 school districts united in Lake County to help children by providing advocacy, leadership, resources and services.

Anderson described Gages Lake School as not the last stop, but one after much work has been done at the children's home schools on their emotional and behavioral problems. Most of the 74 students are in the third through fifth grade.

Jones earned his bachelor of science degree in education and his master of science degree in special education-counseling from Northeast Missouri State in Kirksville, Mo. He received his certification from Northern Illinois University in school counseling with emphasis on mental health counseling; behavior disorders; special education administration and general education administration.

In other SEDOL news, Jim Morrissey, a former Chicago Bears player, is the newest member of the district's fund-raising foundation board. He toured Laremont school. The foundation, which plans a dinner dance and other activities, has hired a new director, Wendy Smith.

Top 10 schools receive excellence in attendance

Elementary schools from across Lake County participated in the Ninth Annual Lake County Elementary School Fall Attendance Week, Sept. 22 to 26, which was sponsored by Project PASS (Lake County Center for Dropout Prevention) and Edward Gonwa, Lake County Regional superintendent of schools.

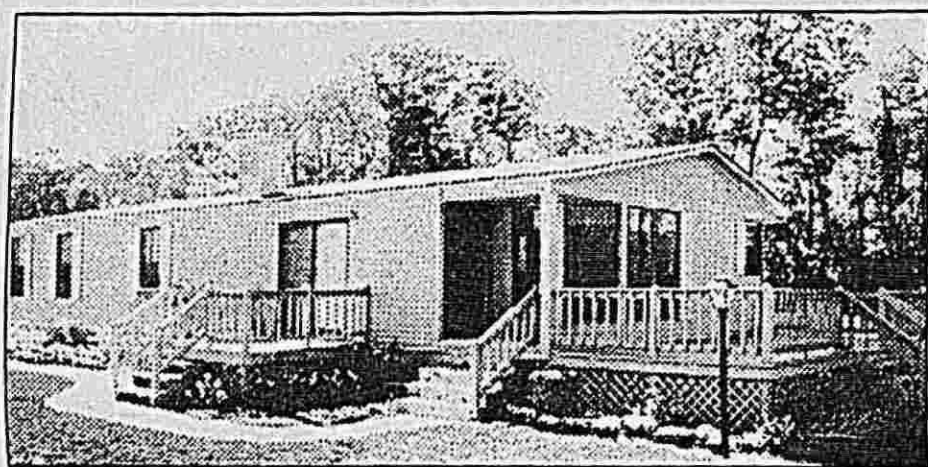

All schools in the county were eligible to be recognized by the regional superintendent for excellence in their weekly attendance rate. The "top 10" reporting schools were: Hawthorn Intermediate School, Vernon Hills; Wayne Thomas School, Highland Park; Hawthorn Middle School, Vernon Hills; Oak Grove School, Green Oaks; Arnett Lines School, Barrington; Butterfield

School, Libertyville; Copeland Manor School, Libertyville; Woodview School, Grayslake; Gurnee Grade School, Gurnee; and Wilmot School, Deerfield.

Winning schools reported weekly attendance rates ranging from 98.87 to 97.70 percent in total attendance for the week. Each school in the top 10 received a certificate of achievement from the regional superintendent's office and each of the participating schools received a certificate of participation.

The importance of school attendance was emphasized during this special week by the school and community. The success of the week was a direct result of everyone's participation.

A DIGEST OF STORIES MAKING HEADLINES THROUGHOUT OUR REGION

Board challenges car dealer

Gurnee—Rosen Motors will have to adjust its lighting plan if it wishes to keep its Gurnee dealership on track.

The issue came to trustees for a second time as Rosen requested a two-week delay in approval of the amendment to the annexation agreement. Rosen is moving Honda and Lincoln-Mercury dealerships to Brookside in west Gurnee from Waukegan.

"This issue has far-reaching affects on all of west Grand and how it relates to the whole corridor," trustee Tom Chamberlain.

He wished to have the matter turned back to the plan commission, but that attempt was defeated. Rosen is expected to present a new lighting scheme at the Oct. 20 village board meeting.

"At least give them a hearing. It is under construction - they deserve an answer," Gurnee Mayor Richard Welton said.

If the Oct. 20 proposal does not meet board requirements, it could be sent back to the plan commission then.

Lions plan pancake breakfast

Lake Villa—Lake Villa Township Lions Club will sponsor their Annual Fall Pancake Breakfast and Bake Sale Sunday, Oct. 26 from 7:30 a.m. to noon.

The breakfast will be at the Lindenhurst Civic Center at 1949 Old Elm Road.

The breakfast is an All-You-Can-Eat meal for $3.50 a person. Children under 6 are free of cost.

Tickets are available from Linden Barber Shop, Lindenhurst Park District, Bill Stanley's American Family Insurance in Lake Villa, and Michelle Wolf's State Farm Insurance in Lindenhurst.

Referendum committee still working

Libertyville—"Every vote counts."

That's part of the message the Community High School District 128 Citizens' Referendum Committee is making sure voters hear before the Nov. 5 election.

They are also helping to make sure the public is well educated on the proposed referendum which will plot the course for future high school students.

On Nov. 5, voters in the district will be asked to approve a $48.5 million referendum for the construction of a second, four-year high school in the southern part of the district, and for major renovations of the Butler Lake building.

Alex Delli Paoli, chair of the referendum committee, said the committee is in the home stretch — only three weeks away from the election — but far from being finished.

Park District seeks volunteers

Lindenhurst—Volunteers who wish to help with the Lindenhurst Park District's Annual Haunted Trail and Bonfire can attend an Oct. 22 meeting at 6 p.m. at the Lindenhurst Community Center for instruction.

Adult volunteers can help manage the October 25 park district evening's program and provide district employees with assistance.

The Annual Haunted Trail and Bonfire unfolds at Forest View Park. Events include costume judging, the haunted trail, and a bonfire to watch with warm apple cider to drink.

The park district also has scheduled tractor drawn hayrides in adjacent McDonald Woods Forest Preserve.

The Haunted Trail is 4 to 6 p.m. for families and children 6 years old and younger. Children 7 years old and older may go through the trail from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. The hay wagon ride is 4 to 6 p.m. for all ages.

Families are encouraged to bring one canned food item. The hospitality donation for the trail ride is $1.

Village flag flies over Chicago

Wauconda—The Village flag is flying high above Chicago all this week as part of a once-in-a-lifetime display of Illinois City Flags. The display is being held in conjunction with the 31st annual Convention of the North American Vexillological Association.

Village Administrative Assistant Joanne Brandt donated one of the Village's Flags for the display, which will become part of the collection of Rich Kenny, a researcher and collector of U.S. City Flags, which one day will be donated to the Smith-

A ceremony will be held on Saturday, Oct. 11, at 2 p.m., in front of the Advertising Flag Co., 3801 Ashland Ave., in Chicago.

Cinema to host public meeting

Mundelein—A different kind of show will be presented at the Mundelein Cinema, 155 N. Seymour Ave., on Wednesday, Oct. 15.

Instead of showing one of the top films of the season, the Cinema will be open for a Mundelein Village public meeting to have a presentation of the downtown redevelopment master plan, designed by the Hitchcock Design Group of Naperville.

The meeting will start at 7:30 p.m. Mayor Marilyn Sindles said all Mundelein business owners, Mundelein Pride members and any interested residents are invited to attend.

Teachers contract ratified

Grayslake—The teachers in District 46 have a new five year contract but the road to getting it was rocky.

The teacher's union approved the contract over a week ago. The Board of Education voted Monday, Oct. 6 in favor of the contract 5-2 with board members Hal Berger and Peter Heffernan abstaining.

Before voting Berger said he thinks contract agreed upon was fiscally irresponsible because no five year budget projections were done by the district's business manager. Heffernan said he shared some of the discomfort.

Board negotiator Carol Eglsaer said they did have calculations in salary costs for years four and five of the contract.

The contract will provide the teachers with an average raise of 6 percent for the current year and 5 percent for the remainder of the contract. Starting salaries will increase two workdays for training with additional pay were added, insurance contributions will rise and a retirement incentive plan will begin in the spring of 1998.

Fourth grader saves friend's life

Antioch—He is only 9 years old, but already he has saved a person's life.

On Sept. 30, near 6 p.m., Zachary Gillengerten, 6, took his first bike ride down a hill in a field that he and Mike Lodesky, 9, played in. Gillengerten fell from his bicycle in a way that caused part of the bicycle to cut his inside, upper thigh area so badly that his body began to drain of blood.

Lodesky ran for help as he was taught to do in school by the 1st Fire Protection District-Antioch Fire Department. He ran for Zach's mom, Carol Gillengerten to get professional emergency medical help.

Zach lost a great deal of blood and underwent surgery. He has now returned home and is walking.

11-year-old shots hole-in-one

Antioch—Jeffrey Grom, 11, of Ingleside, shot a hole-in-one, Sept. 27 at the Antioch Golf Course.

Jeffrey and his brother, Larry, who is on the Grant High School Golf Team, were playing the course's 163-yard Ninth Hole when it happened.

"We weren't sure it was on the green," Jeffrey said of his shot. "When we went over to see, we couldn't see the ball, so we checked the cup."

And there it was - a hole-in-one!

Jeffrey, who attends grade school at St. Mary's in Fremont, took up the game of golf at age 5 and plays regularly at Hickory Knoll and Spring Valley, as well as Antioch.

Residents don't want restaurant

Spring Grove—A new up-scale restaurant proposed for Spring Grove's Fox Woods is proving to be a hard sell to nearby Orchard Bluff Estate residents, who feel its creation would hurt their financial and social investment in the community.

"We cannot be cut off simply because one man has made an unwise investment," said Orchard Bluff resident Susan Meyers at the Spring Grove Village Board meeting of Oct. 7, concerning a requested special use for the Fox Woods ski lodge to be the new home of the Ashton Hill Restaurant.

The meeting, attended by more than 50 area residents, formed round two for the project which has been rejected by the village's Zoning Board of Appeals.

Attempting to alter the village board's decision, attorney Neil Anderson, representing developer Nick Farschi, outlined new plans for the business, proposed for the large building at the corner of Holian Drive and Cherrywood Lane.

Quality is goal for convention center

Gurnee—There could be a touch of Chicago's United Center or perhaps baseball's Oriole Park at Camden Yards, or perhaps a concept or two borrowed from an Olympic Village look.

All are possibilities in future planning for one of the last large tracks of land in Gurnee — 136 acres north of Washington Street and west of Six Flags Great America. The area will come under careful review from a 26-member event center blue ribbon committee, which held its first of several meetings.

The same Kansas City architectural firm which designed Baltimore's baseball park, Devine, Flawn and Yeager, is part of Prism Development's team of experts exploring uses. A Hawaii based architectural firm is also involved.

Land battle may set precedent

Mundelein—Mundelein has a precedent setting case on its hands, according to Village Attorney Charles Marino.

The case involves the annexation battle between Mundelein and Vernon Hill and the 7 acres of property located midway between Milwaukee Avenue and Butterfield Road along the Elgin, Joliet & Eastern rail road tracks both annexed three years ago.

The question before the 2nd District Illinois Appellate Court is if one municipality can annex property owned by another municipality.

Mundelein annexed the unincorporated Libertyville Township property one day before Vernon Hills officials annexed the land as part of a -acre parcel, on which the 2,100-home Greg's Landing development is built and surrounds the property on three sides.

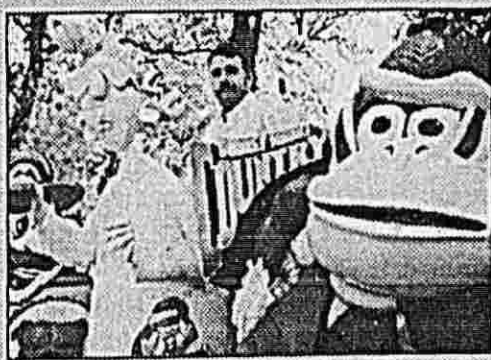

A decision from the court by the end of the year. A Lake County Circuit Court Judge ruled the case in favor of Vernon Hills in 1996.

Research for free should be welcomed, not discouraged

The hard-working members of the Natural Resources Subcommittee of the Lake County Board's Planning, Building and Zoning Committee deserve recognition for their volunteer efforts to improve natural resource provisions in county codes.

In an era when studies mean big bucks in taxpayer expenditures to consulting firms, this subcommittee's research didn't cost the taxpayers one dime.

Instead it did what many taxpayers are clamoring for—it got politicians working harder, for free.

Spearheaded by a professional forester, County Board Member Al Westerman (R-Waukegan), the subcommittee worked for six weeks to draft provisions that would better protect the county's floodplains and floodways; streams, lakes, ponds and wetlands, soils and steep slopes; woodlands and significant trees; and endangered species and open space.

County Board Member Carol Calabrese (R-Libertyville) obtained comparable ordinances from counties in Illinois, Wisconsin, Maryland, Oregon and other states.

County Board Member Sandy Cole (R-Wildwood) put her experience with the Lake County Soil and Water Conservation District to good use knowing that natural resource provisions exist but aren't always enforced.

County Board Members Martha Marks (R-Riverwoods), Judy Martini (R-Antioch) and Suzi Schmidt (R-Lake Villa) called on their years of work in protecting the natural environment of the county and researched the wishes of constituents for input on the standards.

Perhaps even more remarkable than the lack of money spent on the project was the speed in which the results were delivered—six weeks.

Planning and Zoning Committee Chair Pam Newton (R-Vernon Hills) should also get a pat on the back for allowing these individuals to work together and provide input for the writing of the county's new Unified Development Ordinance.

Now the snag, the subcommittee is "not official." The planning, building and zoning committee did not appoint the subcommittee and since no public notices, minutes or record-keeping was done, the group cannot be declared an official committee. These are the rules of government, according to internal documents drafted by the county department head, Barry Hokanson.

Let us hope that the rules of government do not serve as an excuse to keep this valuable information from being incorporated into the UDO.

After all, how often does the county, or any government entity, get a valuable report in six weeks time at no cost.

Hands-off stance hinders leadership

As a common practice, school board members shy away from land use questions, especially those hinging on growth and development. This policy leads to continuing community tension and mounting frustration on the part of taxpayers who understand the relationship between rooftops and the growing cost of public education.

Discourse at a recent meeting of the Wauconda Unit School board illustrates the "hands off" stance preferred by the typical school board member on controlling growth through school policy. A citizen set the stage for debate by inquiring whether school officials ever considered opposing new housing developments to lessen pressure on need for more classrooms. The classic suburban dilemma.

Nancy Pez, board president, threw cold water on the suggestion of opposing growth. "We do not make decisions on what comes into our district," Pez stated. Board member Tom Weber tossed the hot potato to village government. Board member Nancy Dobner saw the role of school officials only as supplying input on impact of growth.

By taking a "hands-off" stance, school board members help create a vacuum on one of the most pressing public issues in suburbia today. They're more bystanders than leaders.

Waukegan is banking on geography as a significant plus to land a hotel/convention in a race where Gurnee has jumped into a significant lead with revelation of the Time-Warner Inc. plan to build on land abutting I-94.

It took crusty Waukegan Ald. Ray Vukovich to illustrate a county seat feature. "There's a big difference between a million-dollar view overlooking Lake Michigan and looking at the Tri-State." Chalk one up for Ray. Advantage Waukegan.

But who's going to get the hotel-convention complex first? Gurnee, in a walk. Gurnee has all the necessities—property owner with deep pockets, a track record for getting things done, necessary political connections and location, location, location.

Rooms with a view are nice, especially if you're bunking in Hawaii or the Swiss Alps. Otherwise, what difference does it make where you sleep, especially if lights of passing traffic don't bother?

Great shots

Members of Lake Barrington Shores Golf Club will be talking about the summer of 1997 for a long time. In a span of only four days, five holes in one were recorded, the most prolific run of shot-making in Lake County golf history.

First, Tim Hogan aced the 8th hole. Then Ed Puls holed out on the 16th. The following day, Joe Mogle made a hole in one on the 8th; later the same day Carol Barnical needed only one swing to finish 16. Two days later Roger Tintner put up another ace on No. 8.

Where are parents?

On opposite sides of the county last week, speakers called for more citizen involvement and parental participation in solving problems of education and youth. Jamie Vollmer, who criss-crosses the nation speaking to school groups, said Antioch parents need to tell educators what they want from public schooling for their children. "But don't say, back to basics. Kids would be lost today if all they were taught was math, reading and writing." In Waukegan, heightened parental responsibility was cited as a means to reducing gang violence. Police Chief Scott Burleson said police crackdowns on truancy and curfew violations contributed to a 11 percent decrease in crime. Truancy and curfew are parental responsibilities.

Buying a name

Because of low name recognition ratings, State Sen. Peter Fitzgerald (R-Palatine) is pouring out cash in unprecedented amounts for television commercials touting his candidacy for the Republican nomination for U.S. Senator in the March 17 primary. Fitzgerald, a conservative and hailing from a banking family, is regarded as one of the wealthiest persons ever to get involved in Illinois politics. Fitzgerald's strategy is two-fold: all the money gets voters attention while at the same time scaring off would-be opponents. On both counts, Fitzgerald wins.

Living alone

Despite official denials, stories persist in and around Lindenhurst of more unsavory characters "living" in McDonald Woods, where an 18-year-old lurked before murdering a senior citizen who lived alone. If authorities can't flush the supposed forest dwellers, the weatherman certainly will. Forest rangers do a thorough job of alerting the law-abiding to depart preserves before darkness.

One man's family

If it's too late for the season, maybe it's an early Christmas gift. Pop's new golf club. Golfers and fishermen share a characteristic. They're susceptible to the latest lure. In this case, the temptation was a fairway wood designed to get you up and out of nasty lies—at the same time adding significant yardage. Too good to be true? I'll have to wait until next season to find out.

Promise Keepers seeks to end America's moral decline

By DAVID M. GROLEAU

Regardless of the various opinions drawn regarding the Promise Keepers' (PK) Sacred Assembly held Oct. 4 in Washington, D.C., one conclusion is certain, the majority of media sources do not have any idea how to deal with this.

As I stood, knelt, sang, prayed (hands clasped with an African-American brother), and sometimes laid out prostrate in confessional prayer, I sensed a smile from God upon our Nation's capital, perhaps like never before in history.

The estimated 200,000 that listened to Dr. Martin Luther King's stirring call for racial reform in 1963 catapulted significant social changes.

The more recent "Million Man March" attracted less than a half million according to D.C. park authorities. Whether Louis Farrakhan succeeded depends, I suppose, far more on what he was trying to accomplish than the numbers. And while the National Park Service has refused to issue a count, and Promise Keepers has announced that the numbers don't really matter, it is vitally significant that 1.5 to 2 million men descended upon

Washington for a worship service.

Never before in our Nation's history has such a turn-out occurred. With no political agenda and nothing to protest, I think PK founder Bill McCartney summarized well just what at least 1.5 million men believe:

"We are a nation whose morality has been on a downward spiral for an extended period of time now, and as men of God that professed Jesus Christ in this nation, we realize that we have dropped the ball... We've not been the saving light in society that the Lord requires... We believe solutions are in the hands of a holy, almighty, righteous God." (interview in The Washington Post, Oct. 4)

Saturday's "Sacred Assembly" focused on four major areas.

First, unreserved adoration of and commitment to the sovereign God who has sent his son Jesus to pay for our sins on the cross. Unless God is allowed to reign supreme in our lives, we will continue to allow pride, selfishness, and immorality to influence us. Unless a person yields Lordship to Jesus Christ, confessing sin and inviting him to cleanse and change, then no further promises are able to be kept.

to exclude other expressions of religion in our pluralistic society, but it does unabashedly label itself as a "scriptural" movement, proclaiming the words of Jesus from John's gospel, Chapter 3, Verse 7, "You must be born again." Literally thousands made the decision to follow Jesus Christ from Washington.

Secondly, renewed dedication to become a servant to our wives, families, and the broader communities in which we live. I found myself overwhelmed with emotion, face down in foot-worn grasses, confessing my own shortcomings as well as identifying with a nation of macho-hungry males accustomed to using privileged roles to often abuse and subjugate women.

Patricia Ireland, president of NOW (National Organization of Women), has been perhaps the loudest antagonist, decrying PK in its appeal to Ephesians 5:22, "Wives, be submissive to your husbands." Most of us choose to submit to our employer, to the police officer who pulls us over for speeding, to the scheduling of the school that our children attend. We choose to do so because submission will result in benefits to us. The Ephesian text

PARTY LINES, THE LAKELAND NEWSPAPERS' COLUMN OF POLITICAL OPINION, IS PREPARED FROM STAFF REPORTS.

Many waiting in Verna's wings

A report is circulating that State Rep. Verna Clayton (R-Buffalo Grove) would like to step out of public life—like she wanted to two years ago when Republican brass leaned on her to run for re-election to head off the bid of Atty. Mike Salvi to succeed her. If Verna is successful this time in heading for retirement in South Carolina, two public offices will be at stake. That's because her husband, Frank, was elected Vernon Township Highway Commissioner last April.

County Board Rep. David Stolman (R-Buffalo Grove) is itching to succeed Clayton. Stolman won't run, though, while the long-time GOP leader holds the seat in the 51st District which includes the Lake County portion of Buffalo Grove, Long Grove and Lake Zurich.

Hess watch

Friends keep saying Linda Hess is serious about returning to public life. They insist she would be the best Democratic hope to challenge incumbent county Clerk Willard Helander, who gets indigestion every time the former popular county clerk's name is mentioned. Democratic leaders say their 1998 slate will be put together before the end of October.

Making music

Rock fans are wondering if APB is going to break out of political benefits and police retirements. The band made up of police officers contributed to a lively time last week at Judge Barbara Gilleran Johnson's fund raiser at Julies on Milwaukee Ave. In law enforcement parlance, APB stands for All Point Bulletin. We're not sure if the rockin' cops have a different meaning.

Clayton: Time to retire, again?

Geo-Karls: Ready to ship out

Sea Duty

Lake County's Grand Dame of politics, State Senator Adeline Jay Geo-Karls (R-Zion), was the highlight of the dedication ceremony for the nation's newest Reserve Center at Great Lakes, Saturday. The World War II Navy veteran said she is always ready to return to duty for the country she emigrated to as a child.

"I would have worn my whites, but it's been a long-time since I was 23," Geo-Karls quipped.

Naval Training Center Commander Adm. Kevin Green autographed her program saying: "Stand by for orders to sea duty, we need your vision and support."

Also on hand was County Board Member Bob Neal (R-Wadsworth) who is a Lieutenant in the Naval Reserve.

Congratulations go out this week to County Board Member Pam Newton (R-Vernon Hills) on her Oct. 4 wedding. Newton arrived at the ceremony at the Cuneo gardens in a horse-drawn carriage with bagpipers playing in the background.

The guest list was a virtual who's who of Lake County politics. Among the guest seated at one table were: Bob Depke, Bob Grever, Ike Magalls and Rudy Magna. The list crossed all political boundaries, Democratic State Senator Terry Link was also in attendance.

We hear Newton was stunning.

Making pasta

Tom Clement, who has become the heart and soul of the Waukegan Township Republican organization, and Gilda Torres are organizing ticket sellers for an annual spaghetti fest Friday, Oct. 31. Serving will be at the American Legion Post. Tom and Gilda say their pasta party is one GOP event that won't bend your wallet. Call them at 249-2479 or 662-1258 for tickets that will feed the whole family.

The American voters are scary sometimes

As Bill Clinton waffles through his second term as president, I keep thinking, "Wouldn't it have been much more Americana, more mom and apple pie, had the voters been astute enough to elect Bob Dole last November?"

And, in 1992, to have realized George Bush was a more sensible choice than Clinton?

In the 1950s musical, "Call Me Madam," the star of the show (based on Perle Mesta's life as a Washington, D.C., hostess) got show-stopping laughs with the punch line, "The American voters sure scare the hell out of you sometimes!"

A recent article in Advertising Age magazine discusses how Dole, once portrayed as mean-spirited by comedians, is having a rebirth as a tongue-in-cheek straight man in four major-market ad campaigns.

He wasn't soliciting such work, but Dole has been snapped up by Air France, Visa, Target Stores and Dunkin' Donuts.

In Visa's commercial, which has won awards, the veteran U.S. senator returns to his Russell, Kan., hometown to warm greetings until he tries to pay by check.

"I just can't win," deadpans Dole.

"That's part of his humor," says an ad executive. "That dour exterior, and then funny things come out of his mouth."

"We are now finally getting to see the real Bob Dole," says another.

Dole reports: "I've gotten a lot of mail saying, 'I wish I'd known you were like this, I would have voted for you.' I could have used some of these advertising people in the campaign."

Clinton's election victories, and his current 60 percent approval rating, strike me as the scariest voter shenanigans since 1964 when an uncouth Lyndon Baines Johnson was elected by a landslide over Barry Goldwater.

THE PFARR CORNER

Jerry Pfarr

Thirty-three years later it's still bewildering. One of Johnson's biographers, Ronnie Dugger, described LBJ as rude, vindictive, maudlin, selfish and vicious.

In Goldwater's autobiography, he had this to say:

"Johnson was a dirty fighter, and treacherous. He'd slap you on the back today and stab you in the back tomorrow."

Indeed, during the campaign, in vicious television commercials Goldwater was branded as a trigger-happy warmonger and a nuclear madman. And the voters bought it.

David Brinkley, on his TV show earlier this year, recalled a chat he had with Johnson. "The Lyndon Johnson Presidential Library has released tapes of his telephone conversations during the Vietnam War," Brinkley said. "On one tape, he said to his national security advisor, 'The war is the biggest damn mess I ever saw. I don't think it's worth fighting and I don't think we're going to get out.'"

"So the war went on," said Brinkley. "In this period I was invited for a weekend with Johnson and others at his Camp David hideaway. After dinner we sat around talking, mostly about the war. And someone said, 'Mr. President, you say you can't win, and young American men are dying. Why don't you just end it?'"

"Johnson stared into the fireplace for a time and then said, in words I have not forgotten, 'I will not be the first American president to lose a war.'"

"As it turned out, he was."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Gurnee Pool request 'rightsized'

On Aug. 26, the Gurnee Park District board voted unanimously to ask voters this fall to approve a $6.9 million referendum for the construction of a state-of-the-art outdoor swimming pool and an adjoining small recreational building. This proposal has been scaled down substantially from the $21 million project presented to voters last April. I was strongly opposed to the original April referendum.

I applaud the park board for their positive response to the citizens of the community who voted to reject the former proposal and to the citizens advisory committee who recommended the new one. The new proposal possesses several attributes which make its passage this fall an important step for our community.

- 1. The proposal does not include a private medical entity. The facility will be totally owned and controlled by the citizens of the park district.

- 2. The project includes a state-of-the-art swimming pool which a community of our size and character should have. The swimming facility at $4.7 million makes up a majority of the project cost.

- 3. The swimming pool will include amenities which make it attractive for users. The revenues generated from expected user fees will more than offset its operational costs.

- 4. The new proposal eliminated the double gymnasium, the indoor swimming pool and excessive office space. These facilities generate high operational costs which are not typically offset by user fees and require continuous tax subsidies.

- 5. The adjoining multipurpose building will provide much needed space for the extension of programs and facilities presently existing at Viking Park. Viking Park will continue to operate and will be improved and expanded in the future through existing capital funding.

- 6. The lower cost of the new proposal substantially reduces the increased tax burden from the original $80 per year for 20 years to $43 per year for 17 years for a home valued at $200,000. The project will surely have a positive effect on property values, probably in excess of the increased tax burden.

I urge my fellow citizens to support this new proposal. Your vote in the last referendum surely sent a message. Let's show the park board that we appreciate their listening to our voice by voting yes to their new proposal this November.

Dist. 41 used money properly

Mr. Warrender and BEST is at it again. His letters are well written but full of half truths. School District 41 clearly said in its last referendum that the money raised was only used for the education fund. The influx of students require more teachers, books and materials. School District 41 used the money as they promised. This money could not be used to build new classrooms due to state accounting rules on school funds. And to all those who asked if a building referendum was in the future, we, the community committee, honestly answered "We weren't sure but probably." School districts can only set impact fees but do not have the authority to collect these fees. Only villages can collect the fees. While Lindenhurst and Lake Villa are faithful in enforcing these fees, the same cannot be said for the other villages within School District 41 boundaries.

Mr. Warrender is correct in stating that the developers get off relatively easy. It is the villages and the township officials who approve the building within our communities, not School District 41. Mr. Warrender should spend his efforts in these elections and let the people of School District 41, of which he is not, decide what they wish to do. Once more, people outside of the district are interfering with the people inside the district.

goes on to say that husbands should "love their wives as Christ loved the church and gave Himself up for her." Christ died for the church. And he said the greatest leader would be the ultimate servant (cf. Mark 10:42-45).

A society that attempts to eliminate all buck stops here signs will soon be in chaos. Christendom teaches a Triune God, equal in all respect. Yet Jesus submits to the Father. The Bible teaches that husbands and wives are "co-heirs of the grace of life" (1 Peter 3:7). A Tribune editorial (Oct. 6) chastised PK for taking women out of the workplace. Another editorial (Sept. 28) complained that PK says no women can be Pastors. After attending PK events for over four years now, and having read much of their material, I simply cannot find that kind of teaching. Plainly, as we did in Washington on Saturday PK is a taking men to task for abdication of responsibility in our homes and communities, nothing more, nothing less.

Third and fourth, at Saturday's worship service we collectively admitted that divisions among those calling themselves Christian have hindered the church far more than any attacks from the outside. We have divided over minor religious distinctions. This is called denominationalism. If the Bible allows for diversity in peripheral practices such as baptism and forms of worship, then so should we. We have divided over racial distinctions. Yet scripture itself declares that God made all peoples from "one blood" (Acts 17:26). God isn't color blind. He created the rainbow. Let us accept each other.

Promise Keepers does have an agenda. It is a goal to enlarge the church of Jesus Christ

by strengthening the family network through committed men. I know of very few who embrace every statement and every nuance. But it seems to me that the priorities endorsed by PK are smiled upon by God. It's the smile one senses when prostrate between the Capital building and the Washington Monument. It's the smile sensed when a person loves their neighbor as they love themselves. It's the smile that's reflected from a child in mom or dad's lap.

Former Colorado football coach Bill McCartney didn't lose much when resigning to commit more time to his family and a religious movement. He has identified the moral and ethical decay of our culture. And he is hoping to bring back the smile.

Where would we wander without 'W'?

The letter W may have begun life as an M that got turned over on its back. Rumor has it that it actually started as two U's. I can't confirm either of these statements as fact. We do know that W ranks so low in the alphabet that only X, Y and Z come after it. Yes, the letter W is a lowly one at first glance.

However, it's a pretty important little letter if you look more closely. Think of all the good questions we would lose without where, why, when and what. We'd have no weather, wind or world. How would we survive without water, walls or wages?

While we wouldn't be hungry, I'd sure miss my waffles, wieners and watermelon. Nothing would be wonderful without old W.

Here are some W words I'd hate to live without.

Words. Where would a writer be without words to express the thoughts that burn within? Words are the medium we use to exchange ideas, express ourselves and convey clearly the pictures we form in our minds. Henry Ward Beecher said, "All words are pegs to hang ideas on."

Words are the currency of an educated society. However, like money, words are of little value if not used in a way beneficial to mankind.

Wisdom. My dictionary defines wisdom as "the power of judging rightly and following the soundest course of action, based on knowledge, experience, understanding, etc." With this one powerful word we may obtain much.

Work. The poet, Robert Frost, said, "The world is filled with willing people; some willing to work, the rest willing to let them." I find it ironic that one of our hardest working presidents and one of America's great writers both had negative things to say about work. Abraham Lincoln said, "My father taught me to work, but not to love it. I never did like work, and I don't deny it. I'd rather read, tell stories, crack jokes, talk, laugh—anything but work." Mark Twain said, "I do not like work even when someone else does it."

Personally, I enjoy working. I've been fortunate to find work that is rewarding, meaningful and fun. I cannot imagine a life of doing something I hated.

Wit. William Hazlitt said, "Wit is the salt of conversation, not the food." I agree, and would say that nothing spices up a good speech or the written word like a little wit.

To me, wit is the ability to see the funny side of even serious events, and then to enjoy the humor therein. Will Rogers was one of the America's greatest wits. He once said of his wit, "There's no trick to being a humorist when you have the whole government working for you."

Women. I owe a lot to two women who love me. My mother who launched me on the sea of life and my wife who serves both as my rudder and anchor. No man on this earth would exist without the sacrifice of a woman. Thank you, ladies for your love and caring ways.

Wealth. Ralph Waldo Emerson said, "Without a rich heart wealth is an ugly beggar." I guess you might paraphrase that by saying that to enjoy wealth completely, you must be willing to give it away.

I believe the true joy of acquiring wealth is the ability to use it for good. This I know for certain: you won't carry your wealth with you when you die.

SBA seeks nominations for 1998 'Small Business Person for the Year'

Do you or someone you know have what it takes to become America's "Small Business Person of the Year" for 1998? If so, the U.S. Small Business Administration wants to hear from you.

"The small business person represents the modern American Dream—the chance for someone with an idea and a goal to make the fullest use of his or her own abilities by taking that goal, that dream, and making something very real out of it. Small Business Week is an opportunity for all of us to acknowledge with pride and gratitude the contributions made by America's small business community to our nation's economic growth and quality of life," said Aida Alvarez, SBA's administrator.

Each year since 1963, the president has designated one week as National Small Business Week in recognition of the small business community's contributions to the American economy. Small businesses today, some 22 million strong, generate more than 47 percent of all sales in this country, 51 percent of our domestic private sector output and about 55 percent of all innovations. Small businesses also lead the nation in job creation, providing about two-thirds of all new jobs.

Business owners from every state, the Dist. of Columbia, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands and Guam, who have been named as their state's "Small Business Person of the Year," travel to Washington for three days of small business-related activities and meetings with government officials.

Traditionally, the national winner is announced during a White House ceremony.

Each state's Small Business Person of the Year must meet criteria which include staying power, growth in employment, increase in sales/unit volume, innovation, response to adversity, and evidence of contributions to his/her community.

Advocate awards are also presented to persons who have used their professional skills or personal talents to further public understanding and awareness of small business. Candidates must have taken an active role in creating opportunities to promote the interests of small business.

Advocate categories include: Women in Business, Minority, Veteran, Accountant, Financial Services, and Media. An advocate winner may or may not be an entrepreneur.

Special awards are also presented to the Small Business Exporter and SBA Young Entrepreneur of the Year, and the Federal Government Prime Contractor and Subcontractor of the Year. Large companies that started as small businesses are also honored with the Entrepreneurial Success Award.

Nominations in the Small Business Person of the Year, Advocates of the Year and special Small Business Week award categories can be made by any individual, or organizations such as professional and trade associations, business organizations, Chambers of Commerce, banks, or small business employees.

All nominations must be received by the SBA district office no later than Nov. 3.

To obtain information on completing a nomination package, call the SBA's Chicago District Office at (312)886-0705.

Temporary staffing may be solution

Temporary work has changed—permanently.

What used to be a short-term solution for peak production periods and temporary coverage for sick or vacationing employees is now a permanent and integral part of many businesses' workforce strategies. According to the National Assn. of Temporary and Staffing Services, which is celebrating National Temporary Help Week Oct. 13 to 18, more than 90 percent of U.S. businesses use external staffing services.

"Temporary staffing has become a solution that works for both companies and employees," says Rocco Aceto, president of CORESTAFF Services, one of the nation's leading staffing companies. "Employers are outsourcing non-core functions on a long-term basis as a way to manage a variable workload, reduce fixed costs, and improve productivity."

"Workers, on the other hand, are turning to temporary employment to achieve the flexibility to balance work and family responsibilities," he adds.

Aceto points out that the stereotype of temporary work as a stopgap between "real" jobs is far from accurate. "Eight out of 10 of our associates choose temporary employment as their career choice," he says. "It is a great choice for people who want more time with their children or freedom to travel—or for someone who thrives on variety."

Temporary jobs also come in more shapes and sizes than ever before. "People are surprised at the range of jobs we offer," Aceto says. "Our associates include library scientists, computer professionals, accountants and graphic designers."

The percentage of the workforce employed in temporary jobs has doubled in the past decade, from 7 percent in 1985 to an estimated 1.78 percent in 1995.

In 1996, the temporary staffing industry generated revenues of more than $47 billion.

"More and more, businesses are starting to realize that effective use of temporary staffing can increase productivity and profit levels," says Aceto. "And employees are finding that it helps them achieve their personal goals as well."

One-of-a-kind program helping hungry Americans

The Pampered Chef, a multi-million-dollar direct-selling company that markets kitchen products through in-home cooking demonstrations, has launched its annual Round-Up from the Heart corporate-giving program.

This unique program is a team effort between The Pampered Chef's customers, independent contractors, corporate employees, and Second Harvest, the largest hunger-relief organization in the United States. Last year's $500,000 donation brought the Round-Up program's six-year total to $1.8 million, which is more than any other sponsor in Second Harvest's history.

The Pampered Chef's 35,000 independent contractors across the country promote the Round-Up from the Heart program during the shows they conduct now through Dec. 31. Customers contribute to the program by rounding up their purchase totals to the nearest dollar or more. An estimated 325,000 customers have participated since the program was initiated in 1991. These funds are then sent to Second Harvest food banks in the region where the donations originate, making this a national program with a local impact.

Customers can also purchase a special collectors cookie mold and The Pampered Chef will donate $1 for each mold that is purchased.

"We remain enthusiastic that as a company, we can help make a difference in people's lives," says The Pampered Chef president and founder Doris Christopher. "Our partnership with Second Harvest has helped us identify the proper channels for helping to solve the growing hunger crisis in America."

Conservation message key factor of Bass Pro image

When Bass Pro officially opens its doors on Nov. 19, it will be more than just a place to purchase hunting and fishing equipment.

The Gurnee Mills site will have regional implications, boosting the annual tourists visit to the 15-20 million person level.

More than 300 jobs will be available, with more than half going to local residents.

Conservation continues to be the message of the Missouri-based giant.

"We are about hunting, boating and having fun and also to preserve nature. We all live downstream from somebody. We believe in that theory," Jeff Baars, general manager, said.

Baars said Bass Pro and representatives from Lake County Forest Preserve and Dept. of Natural Resources have been meeting to discuss ways of enhancing conservation education.

An area will be set aside for seminars and demonstrations by hunting and fishing professionals.

"Our message is we want to enjoy the outdoors and make it meaningful," Baars said.

"Bass Pro could bring as many as five million visitors to the area and have a major impact on the economy," Gurnee Mayor Richard Welton said.

When visitors enter Bass Pro, the first sights will be wildlife photos and a three-story waterfall, a 30,000 gallon aquarium stocked with fish, two bridges over a pond and more.

There is a section for boats, recreational vehicles, golf, and a restaurant which will serve buffalo burgers.

Stores carry Bass Pro's line of clothing as well as other clothing.

The 25-year-old Bass Pro was founded by well-known conservationist Johnny Morris. It has locations in Missouri, Atlanta and is expanding into Nashville, Tenn., Texas and the Florida Keys.

"The Gurnee site will be the prototype of the ones to come," Baars said.

The site will have archery and rifle shooting ranges.

Bass Pro will employ 350 associates with 24 managers.

"We are looking for people with experience in the outdoors," Baars said.

The Gurnee Mills site is part of a $20-25 million reinvestment in six-year old mills.

US Microdyne now offers evening home service repairs

In a savvy move to revolutionize service to the home pc user, US Microdyne has taken Lake County by storm in offering its new evening home service for pc repairs, upgrades and training.

In using the same tact employed by the hi-tech giants of the '70s, US Microdyne is now responding to pc users needs with specialty service at commodity pricing. "The days of the computer being the exclusive province of libraries, scientists and techies are long over," says Vincent E. Christy, president of US Microdyne.

"Size, ease of use, and affordability have created a new mainstream commodity requiring the need for service that is convenient to the small office, home office or recreational home pc user, in an existing

Being no stranger to the Chicagoland area for over 16 years, US Microdyne has built its reputation on being able to provide its clients with the innovative "one-stop" computer services required in an ever-changing technological climate. And their customers seem to agree. Says one Lindenhurst resident, "The service was worth every cent to actually be able to sit and talk to a knowledgeable, experienced technician in my own home, and have the problem taken care of at the same time."

A Beach Park client recently compared himself as a former superstore victim: disassembling his machine, hauling it in and waiting for several weeks in order to be told, "we don't know what's wrong, and have to send it to our service center." Others state that with their reliance on their computer, service in an immediate need and not something that can wait a week or two.

US Microdyne is currently negotiating with radio station WKRS/WXLC to provide a monthly program that would assist call-in listeners with computer questions regarding hardware, software, and service issues.

In addition to servicing its business clients during the day, US Microdyne offers same-evening home service if contacted prior to 3 p.m. and next evening service after 3 p.m. Emergency service is also available for time sensitive situations.

For further information on US Microdyne located at 2275 Half Day Rd., Suite 350, Bannockburn, call 1(800)828-3859.

Air-Tech offers easy getaway plan

How about a jaunt to Europe from the Chicago area for only $189 one way? Or fly round trip to the Caribbean or even Mexico for $250?

These low fares are readily found through space-available companies, such as Air-Tech, which locates unsold seats from major airlines every day, and matches them up with the needs of passengers who have registered with them. It's a green approach to recycling seats which would otherwise go out empty.

Recommended by noted discount travel guru Arthur Frommer, space-available travel appeals to retired travelers, college students and anyone with a schedule flexible enough to travel within a three day time frame.

It works like this: Passengers register with Air-Tech, buy a flight pass from them, tell them where they want to go and give a three or four day window when they're ready to fly. They call the company on the

Wednesday before their travel window begins and find out which flights and seats are available to match their travel plans.

After that, it's simply a matter of going to a nearby airport to catch their flight. For the return trip travelers do the same thing.

Chances of getting a direct flight from the Chicago area within a one to four day travel window are great—the company has a success rate of 97 percent. But their success is based on a flexible traveler. People who travel this way are prepared to fly on Monday rather than Tuesday, or arrive in Rome instead of Paris. It's for those who simply want to get away, know roughly what part of the earth they want to go to, and can choose their exact destination when they get there. Passengers who can't get a flight in their time frame can reschedule or get a refund.

Those with less flexible schedules can use Air-Tech's low confirmed reserved fares. Courier flights to destinations worldwide are also offered by this company. One recent special, New York to Hong Kong, was only $450 round trip! And they offer discount car-rentals, bus passes and Eurails, too.

For more information about Air-Tech, call (212)219-7000, or toll-free (800)575-TECH. Or write to Air-Tech Ltd., 588 Broadway, Suite 204, New York City, NY 10012. The fax number is (212)219-0066. The company can also be reached by e-mail at info@aerotech.com or on the internet at <http://campus.net/aerotech>.
